Conferees on Meat Bill Belligerent.

House Declines to Consider Any Compromise as to Inspection Cost.

Senator Proctor Bitterly Arraigns House Conferees in His Report.

Hale Acts as Peacemaker in Senate and Hopes for Agreement.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 27.—An absolute deadlock on the meat inspection amendment to the Agricultural Appropriation Bill was reported by Senator Proctor to the Senate late today after three sessions of the conferees had been held.

The Vermont Senator said that the House conferees had declined to consider any compromise on the subject of the payment of the cost of inspection by the packers.

SENATOR HALE, peacemaker for conferees.

The Senate conferees offered to compromise, he said, upon a tax of five cents a head on cattle and three cents on hogs, sheep and goats to be collected and paid into the treasury the same as any other revenue.

He read the compromise proposition, showing that the $3,000,000 appropriation provided by the House would remain in the bill and the cost of inspection would be paid therefrom. In reply to a question from Senator Hale he stated that the tax would amount to about one-half of the appropriation.

HOUSE REMAINS FIRM.

The third conference of the day had been concluded a short time before Senator Proctor made his statement. At that conference he offered the compromise proposition which was met by the House conferees with the argument that it would be unconstitutional on the ground that Congress has no authority to levy a direct tax on chattels.

In making his statement Senator Proctor said the conferees had agreed on practically all items but that the House conferees had positively refused to consider any compromise.

He then related the particulars of the provision regarding the cost of inspection and added that the House conferees had absolutely declined to sign the report unless the House provision should be accepted letter for letter.

He said the effect of the position taken by the House would be to cause the failure of the legislation and the general arrest of business.

HALE RESTORES EQUANIMITY.

Mr. Hale then spoke of the gravity of the situation and advised that the Senate refrain from further comment that might excite feeling.

"My impression is that we will do well to leave it over night where it is and that we should do nothing to inflame the situation in the hope that better counsels will prevail tomorrow."

Mr. Hale then, in pursuance of his suggestion to let the matter lie over, moved an adjournment, but he subsequently withdrew the motion in order to permit the executive session.

The conferees today agreed to the immunity bill, the House members accepting the bill as it passed the Senate.

The conference agreement on the Senate agreement to the sundry civil bill providing for government participation in the Jamestown Centennial which was reported today provides for an appropriation of $1,325,000. The original amount of $375,000 for movernment buildings was reduced by $35,000.

ANARCHIST STABS AGED PRIEST.

Roman Police Have Evidence of Existence of Plot to Assassinate King Victor.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, June 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An Anarchist named Desantis stabbed to death Antonio Corsi, a priest 80 years old, as he was on his way yesterday to say mass in a little church of the Villa Panecchiani.

Desantis fled and took refuge in a chalet belonging to Prince Corsini, where he was arrested.

Commander Leonardi, director-general of police at the Ministry of the Interior, says he has irrefutable proof of the existence of an anarchist plot to kill the King on his journey to Ancona and that it was for this reason that such extraordinary precautions were taken.

King Victor Emmanuel, speaking of the plot, said to a deputy: "There are miscreants everywhere; nevertheless, I trust completely in the people of Ancona and I am going there."

NEW YORK, June 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I can't say anything just now, I really can't—oh, yes, I might say that I am coming here to make your officers look like generals and your men like officers."

So spake the British army tailor, Winter, who has been imported by the War Department to throw some style into the uniform of the United States army. It has been contended that the British army is well dressed, and that the army of the United States is not.

"The clothing material which is furnished to the American army," he said yesterday, "is the best furnished to any army in the world. It is luxurious compared to that furnished to the British soldier. But the clothes of the British soldier fit him, yours do not."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After they had sailed on the steamship Teutonic today for a honeymoon trip in Europe, announcement was made of the marriage on Monday night of John E. Beale, a wealthy retired broker of Santa Barbara, Cal., and Mrs. Lillian Brown of the same city.

The Rev. Henry M. Warren, who performed the ceremony, met both the bride and bridegroom a year ago in Santa Barbara, where he heard how Mr. Beale had won a castle by a game of poker.

Monday night Mr. Beale and his promised wife called on Warren to marry them.

Mr. Beale and his wife, who, before her marriage, was a Miss Bailey, daughter of John C. Bailey of New York, spent the interval of time between their marriage and their departure for Europe at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Their marriage was witnessed by the bride's sister, Miss Maud Bailey.

Philadelphia Machinist Finds Treatment Has Cured Ailment of Long-Standing.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Bees—Caucassian, Italian and stingless—were exhibited and studied, and furnished amusement to more than 2000 agriculturists and scientists at the demonstrating field meeting held at the apiaries of W. A. S. Selzer at Jenkingtown today.

The value of the bee as a curative for rheumatism was demonstrated for Frank McGinn, a Philadelphia machinist. Some months ago he was so crippled by rheumatism that he had to use crutches. Bee-stinging was resorted to and he has been treated four months. Today he mounted a platform and let fifty bees sting him one at a time. He asserts that the treatment has nearly cured him of rheumatism. He discarded crutches some time ago and is now able to work.

PRESIDENT REBUKES GREEDY INTERLOPERS.

Arraigns Water Grabbers for Plot to Kill Conduit Bill.

Los Angeles Committee Sends Report Detailing Inside of Fight Between City's Friends and Power Companies Before Victory Was Achieved—Warm Letter Is Dictated to Secretary Hitchcock.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BY JESSE L. CARMICHAEL.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That a violent effort was made by the representatives of power companies to insert a "joker" in the Owens River conduit bill that would practically kill it, and that the President, by a vigorous letter to Secretary Hitchcock, helped save the day for the Los Angeles water project, is revealed by the following report of the Los Angeles committee, sent tonight to the Chamber of Commerce.

"To the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce:

"The Owens River right of way bill has passed. There was a most determined effort to kill the measure or render it valueless by the insertion of several obnoxious provisions. The Secretary of the Interior recommended that the bill restrict the use of water conveyed over the right of way to domestic purposes only, expressly excluding irrigation. But the President, at the instance of Mr. Flint, interposed in behalf of the city and caused the elimination of objectionable features.

"Several power companies by their attorneys and correspondents opposed the bill in the departments and the committee. George Chaffey's attorneys and special representative were very active and served an ultimatum threatening to kill the bill unless various absurd demands were complied with.

"Congressman Smith, soon after he withdrew his open opposition was the only man in Congress so far as known, who was [illegible] California should have a generous supply of water. He stated to the committee (referring to the President) that he (Smith) 'submitted to the orders of the schoolmaster.'

"Senator Flint did magnificent work. He is a second Steve White. This victory should do for him what the harbor fight did for White.

"Mr. McLachlan's services were invaluable. Effective work was done by our attorney, Mr. Gates. The presence of Messrs. Matthews and Mulholland was necessary as their expert knowledge aided materially in passing the bill.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER.

"Following is the full text of the President's letter to the Secretary of the Interior:

"'As I think it best that there should be a record of our attitude in the Los Angeles water supply matter, I am dictating the letter to you in your presence and that of Senator Flint on behalf of the California delegation, of Director Walcott of the Geological Survey and of Chief Forester Pinchot.

"'The question is whether the city of Los Angeles should be prohibited from using the water it will obtain under this bill for irrigation purposes. Your feeling is that it should be so prohibited because the passage of the bill without such prohibition might establish a monopoly in the municipality of Los Angeles as regards irrigation by permitting the municipality to use the surplus of water thus acquired beyond the amount actually used for drinking purposes for some irrigation scheme.

LARGE SURPLUS EXPECTED.

"'Senator Flint states that under the proposed law Los Angeles will be seeking to provide its water supply for the next half century which will mean that at first there will be a large surplus and that in order to keep their rights they will have to from the beginning draw the full amount of water (otherwise the water will be diverted to other uses and could not be obtained by the city) and while if the city did not need the water it would be proper that other users should have it, yet it is a hundred or thousand fold more important to state that this is more valuable to the people as a whole if used by the city than if used by the people of Owens Valley.

"'Senator Flint further says that same water that is used for drinking and washing is also used on innumerable little plots of land in and around Los Angeles for gardening and similar purposes, and that to prohibit this would surely destroy the value of the bill so as to make it an open question whether the city either could or would go on with the project, it being open to doubt whether the words "domestic use" would cover irrigation of this kind.

"Mr. Walcott and Mr. Pinchott state there is no objection to permitting Los Angeles to use the water for irrigation purposes so far as there is a surplusage after the city's drinking, washing, fire and other needs have been met. They feel that no monopoly in an offensive sense is created by the municipal ownership of water as obtained under this bill, and that as a matter of fact to attempt to deprive the city of Los Angeles of the right to use the water for irrigation would mean that for many years no use whatever could be made by it of surplus water beyond that required for drinking and similar [illegible] that the law of California provides that if a municipality sells water to people outside the municipality it must be at the same rate that it sells to those within the municipality.

POWER COMPANIES' INTERESTS.

"I am also impressed by the fact that the chief opposition to this bill, aside from the opposition of a few settlers in Owens Valley (whose interest is genuine, but whose interest must unfortunately be disregarded in view of the infinitely greater interest to be served by putting the water in Los Angeles) comes from certain private power companies whose object evidently is for their own pecuniary interest to prevent the municipality from furnishing its own water.

"The people at the head of these power companies are doubtless respectable citizens, nevertheless, their opposition seems to me to afford one of the strongest arguments for passing the law, inasmuch as it ought not to be within the power of private individuals to control such a necessary of life as against the municipality itself.

"Under the circumstances I decide, in accordance with the recommendations of the director of the geological survey and the chief of the forestry service, that the bill be approved, with the prohibition against the use of water by municipality for irrigation struck out.

SAFEGUARD SUGGESTED.

"I request, however, that there be put in the bill a prohibition against the city of Los Angeles ever selling or letting to any corporation or individual except a municipality, the right for that corporation or that individual itself to sell or sublet the water given to it or him for irrigation purposes.

"Sincerely yours,

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Hon. E. A. Hitchcock, Secretary of the Interior.

"After signing the communication the President said:

"'Having read the above aloud I now find that everybody agrees to it, you, Mr. Secretary, as well as Senator Flint, Director Walcott, and Mr. Pinchott and therefore I submit it with a more satisfied heart than when I started to dictate this letter.'"

"The victory for Los Angeles is complete.

PORTLAND'S RELIEF FUND IS WITHHELD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, June 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Gentlemen, I wash my hands of this committee; the blame be on your heads. I will have nothing more to do with this business. You will see where this action will land you."

These words were spoken by Mayor Lane at the close of a stormy session this morning of the Portland general relief committee for the San Francisco fire sufferers, called for the purpose of discussing the disposition of the funds remaining in the hands of the committee.

The Mayor favored the immediate sending of the greater portion of the available cash on hand to San Francisco where, he said, there is crying need, but the committee decided almost unanimously to permit the finance committee to retain the fund and spend it as it thought best.

There remains in the hands of the committee, according to the report of Chairman R. R. Hoge, $67,300, of which $18,400 is Lewis and Clark stock certificates and not available, leaving an available cash balance on hand of $48,900.

Another sum of $10,519 has already been appropriated but remains unexpended, leaving a cash balance in the hands of the committee of $58,000.

The committee has sent $183,000 in money and supplies and provisions to San Francisco, $2000 to Santa Rosa and has contributed $3500 to general relief of a personal nature.

PHILIPPINE HOSPITAL CAUSE OF CONTROVERSY.

Governor Sends Tart Reply to Letter from Archbishop Harty Which Declares Matter of Ownership of Old Spanish Property Will Be Put Before President and People.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MANILA, June 27.—The publication in the United States of the letter of Archbishop Harty, February 27, to Gov.-Gen. Ide, concerning the submission to the courts of the question of the title of the San Juan De Dios property led Gov. Ide to give out his reply to Archbishop Harty this afternoon. He took umbrage at this portion of the archbishop's letter:

"Before going to court as a peaceful American citizen I shall have read simultaneously in 250 pulpits a solemn protest against this attempted confiscation. This protest will go through the archipelago and will reach the remains to recall your order."

Gov. Ide's reply states the matter rests upon two opinions of the Attorney-General in 1902, but that no action has yet been taken. The Governor says in his reply:

"A portion of your letter produced a painful impression upon me. It was what seemed to contain a threat that the course you will take through the Philippines will excite hostility against the government.

PREDICTS UNPLEASANT RESULT.

"I agree that if your action should go through the archipelago it would reach the doors of the White House, but I am certain that the result would be far other than the one you had in mind."

Gov. Ide said further that no action had been taken in the matter since his letter was sent March 1. There had been no official action since the opinions had been given by the Attorney-General.

Archbishop Harty stated today that he had not done anything further and regretted the publication of the correspondence, as he regarded the matter as personal and unofficial.

The dispute relates to properties at San Juan De Dios. The hospital is claimed to be the property of the government. It was used by the troops during the occupation of Manila.

The claims of the church are based on a transfer of the property to the Franciscan Friars during the Spanish régime.

The American officials claim that the property was supported by the Spanish and was owned by the Spanish government and now belongs to the United States government.

The controversy was brought about by an alleged order to taken the case to the courts. Gov. Ide declares that no such action was taken.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The first reply in the Senate to the series of articles running through the Cosmopolitan Magazine under the head of "The Treason of the Senate," was made today by Senator Bailey of Texas, who spoke especially of the attack upon himself and generally of the attacks upon other Senators.

He spoke of the published matter as "false and offensive," but said he did not propose to consider it from a personal standpoint, "because it is of a kind which, if dealt with in that way, would require a different place."

He then added:

THAW REFUSES TO ANSWER ALIENISTS.

Despite Millionaire's Obstinancy Medical Experts Declare White's Slayer Perfectly Sane—Architect's Letters in Delafield's Possession.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, June 27.—That Harry K. Thaw, the slayer of Stanford White, is perfectly sane was the report made today by the alienists retained by the District-Attorney's office to examine into the prisoner's mental condition.

This report was made after the physicians had spent an hour with Thaw, who, in defiance of the advice of his counsel, former Judge Olcott, refused to answer any questions and declared that nothing short of actual force will compel him to submit to a physical examination.

When the committee of physicians called on the prisoner Thaw said firmly, as the first man was introduced to him by Dr. Allen McLane Hamilton, retained for the defense:

"I beg your pardon; I will answer no questions whatever."

Then began a general conversation on trivial subjects with Dr. Austin Flint and Dr. Hamilton, Thaw deftly parrying any questions that had any bearing on his mental or physical condition. Finding him obdurate, the doctor hurriedly summoned Mr. Olcott, but to him Thaw vehemently reiterated his determination to answer no questions.

"You can put it down to the condition of my feelings if you will," said Thaw. "My nerves are unstrung; their tension is great. I will not be examined today."

NO REASON FOR REFUSAL.

Pressed for a clearer cause for his refusal, he said:

"I haven't any; I have none at all. Put it down to obstinacy if you wish."

Thaw had declared to Mr. Olcott before the examiners came he would not submit to the examination. "This refusal will hurt you," Mr. Olcott is said to have pleaded.

"I don't care; nothing but absolute force will get me to allow myself to be examined or to say anything today. I think I first ought to talk with Dr. Hamilton and then have a talk with Dr. Delafield. Later, I will tell you whether I will talk with the committee or not."

Thaw was then taken to his cell.

Mr. Olcott said later that he was unable to account for Thaw's attitude and that he could attribute it only to unaccountable obstinacy. As his counsel, he said, he had no objection to Thaw's arguing any of the questions addressed to him by the physicians.

MRS. THAW VISITS HUSBAND.

After the alienists had departed, Mrs. Thaw was permitted to see her husband for the first time since his arrest. She came to the Tombs in a carriage, accompanied by her husband's brother, Joseph C. Thaw.

The meeting between husband and wife was affectionate and they remained together talking in an undertone for nearly an hour.

Thaw also received a visit from his sister, Mrs. George C. Carnegie, and Clifford W. Hartridge of Pittsburgh.

Before visiting the Tombs, Mrs. Thaw had a long conference with former Judge Olcott and Frederick Delafield, at which it was said the line of defense was discussed and the intention to interpose a plea of insanity was confirmed.

When asked about the letters from White which Mrs. Thaw yesterday turned over to Mr. Delafield, Mr. Olcott said he believed they were of material value to the defense. Further than this, he declined to comment on the case.

MANY WITNESSES CALLED.

Coroner Dooley announced today that the inquest which opens tomorrow will not be a formal proceeding to establish the cause of White's death but that all available witnesses will be examined for the purpose of fixing the crime on Thaw in order that he may be held for the action of the grand jury. Mrs. Thaw will not appear at the inquest, and it was said today that in all probability she will not be required to appear before the grand jury, in which case her testimony will not be taken until the trial.

In the meantime, the District Attorney's office will prosecute a most searching investigation of the habits and movements of Thaw and White during a period of several weeks previous to the tragedy.

No less than twenty witnesses were examined in connection with the case by the District-Attorney's office today. Among the most prominent of these was Thaw's valet, W. N. Bedford, who has been in his service for six years and is believed to be conversant with the events which are supposed to have been the immediate incentive to the crime.

HEARD WHITE'S REMARKS.

It was announced at the office of the District-Attorney that Mr. Garvin, who is preparing the case against Thaw, today discovered a witness who alleged that he overheard White make derogatory remarks concerning Mrs. Thaw while in the Café Martin, a few hours before he was shot. According to the witness, whose name is concealed for the present, he heard the remarks of White, who was seated two or three tables away, and evidently he was not whispering. At that time, Mr. and Mrs. Thaw were in the café dining. It is believed that this witness will not appear before the Coroner's jury, but that he will be reserved for the trial.

Another important witness who was examined by Mr. Garvin today was Nellie Leahy, Mrs. Thaw's maid.

The funeral of White will take place tomorrow from his late summer at St. James, L. I.

FIRST NIGHT IN PRISON.

Thaw's first night in the Tombs Prison was an uneventful one. He retired early, slept soundly and peacefully and arose apparently rested and refreshed. His whole appearance was changed today. He seemed much brighter than at any time since the tragedy. He was astir and partly dressed when the morning gong sounded at 7 o'clock and greeted the guard cheerfully.

After a light breakfast which was supplied by the prison caterer, Thaw asked for and was given all the morning papers. He glanced through them hastily, giving particular attention to the headlines and illustrations in connection with the story in which he was the central figure.

According to the prison officers, Thaw began to regain his composure soon after he was placed in the cell. He spent a quiet evening and long before the hour for "lights out" began preparations for retiring for the night.

Dr. McGuire, the Tombs physician, called at the prisoner's cell just before 10 o'clock and asked if anything could be done for him, to which he replied in the negative.

MISSED HIS "NIGHTCAP."

The physician remarked that he supposed Thaw had been accustomed to having a stimulant of some kind before retiring and that he would miss it. He told the prisoner, however, that under the prison rules he could not be permitted to indulge his habit. Thaw admitted that the physician's surmise was correct and he appeared grateful when the physician told him he had left two potions for him in case he should be restless during the night and unable to sleep. However, he was strongly urged not to call for them unless he felt himself unable to do so without them. This morning the medicine remained untouched, the prisoner having enjoyed a natural sleep.

Seventeen letters were received in this morning's mail at the prison for Thaw. Most of them were from women.

Thaw received visits from several of his attorneys during the forenoon and also from a friend who called to learn what the prisoner needed for his immediate comfort. All that Thaw asked for was a change of clothing.

HARRY NOT VERY PERT.

While Thaw was still in the Criminal Court Building, undergoing examination by the alienist, Mrs. Thaw called at the prison. She was obliged to wait about half an hour.

Both she and her brother-in-law then were subjected to search, as is customary in the case of all visitors to the Tombs. Nothing was taken from Mrs. Thaw but the attendants gave Josiah Thaw a numbered check in place of his penknife.

The prisoner and his wife greeted each other affectionately. "You don't look very pert," she said, as the attendants left them alone for a long talk.

SEARCHING FOR MOTIVE.

The motive for the murder, the police believe, was outlined in Thaw's brief statement that his home had been ruined. With this as a basis, detectives were sent in various directions, looking up Thaw's habits in New York and investigating the many stories told and published concerning Stanford White's conduct. Thaw, advised by some of the most prominent lawyers of New York and Pittsburg, is silent.

Perhaps the most interesting development is the announcement that Mrs. Thaw told her husband's lawyers yesterday that she had received many letters from Mr. White since her marriage. One of these she threw on her dressing table a few days ago, and her husband found it and vowed vengeance on the writer. While the finding of this letter may have been the direct cause of the tragedy, Thaw's jealousy of, and hatred for White were of long standing, and the young man made frequent threats to kill his supposed rival.

DETECTIVE SHADOWS DETECTIVE

White was astonished some months ago to find that detectives were following him wherever he went. He took steps to have some detective work done on his own account and to have his shadowers followed. He employed a man to go after him wherever he went, so far as possible, and then he amused himself by giving the slip to the first detective. The person he employed discovered that the other detective was reporting to Thaw. In this way White was able to obtain ample warning that the wealthy young man from Pittsburgh suspected him and was preparing some unpleasant surprises.

White commented that one reason, he assumed, that Thaw was angry at him was because he was familiar with a document drawn by the present Mrs. Thaw before her marriage. The nature of this is not known.

Agnes Palmer, a chorus girl, is quoted in an interview today as saying White told her he knew "Thaw was gunning for him."

SIGNIFICANT STATEMENT.

After a conference lasting from 11 o'clock last night until after 2 o'clock this morning in the tenderloin police station between Capt. Hodgins and Assistant District Attorneys Garvin and Turnbull, Mr. Turnbull made the statement that they had located many new witnesses, "including many for the defense." "Interesting developments," they said, would probably be disclosed.

The police were busy early today endeavoring to verify a report that Thaw and White had met Sunday night in Burns's restaurant, in Sixth avenue, and had talked alone together until nearly 4 o'clock Monday morning.

Among the witnesses questioned yesterday by the police was the waiter who served the dinner to the Thaws at the Café Martin Monday evening. He declared Mrs. Thaw was very quiet during the meal; that Thaw did not meet White at the restaurant, and that White's entrance did not cause any particular excitement except that Mrs. Thaw was very pale. As to Thaw's conduct after the dinner, the waiter said:

"When I handed him his hat he literally jerked it out of my hand, and in putting it on he crushed it down over his forehead and eyes with a crashing sound, which indicated that it had been broken by the violence of his treatment."

FEARS FOR MRS. THAW, SR.

Mrs. Thaw's relatives fear that reading a public notice of her son's crime may seriously affect her and they are anxious to send her a message before she arrives in London. The position of the Minneapolis, on which she is a passenger, is such that no message can be relayed, as the vessel had covered about one-third of the distance to London when the shooting occurred.

One way of getting word of the killing to Mrs. Thaw is by cable to London, thence by wireless transmission from the White Star liner Majestic, which leaves Liverpool at 5 p.m., today. The Majestic should be within communicating distance of the Minneapolis Friday. A cable message might also be sent to Southampton and put aboard the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which leaves that port today.

If those steamers fail to pick up the Minneapolis, a cable message will be sent probably to the Marconi station at Poldhu, reaching Mrs. Thaw about fifteen or twenty hours before she arrives at London. The Minneapolis will be in communication with the Lizard about 9 a.m., July 1, and is expected to arrive at London the next day.

EX-JUDGE OLCOTT,
Chief Counsel for Thaw.

CRAZED BY JEALOUSY.

Burr McIntosh, for many years a friend of Harry K. Thaw, who was with him just before the shooting, is positive the man was insane. He says that only last Monday morning Thaw accused a person who was practically a stranger of paying attentions to his wife and had threatened to kill him.

"This man," said Mr. McIntosh, "was John A. Forgotson, a well-known real estate operator, who was standing in front of his place. Thaw approached him, although he knew him only slightly, and exclaimed:

"'Are you still in love with my wife? If you are I'll kill you.' Mr. Forgotson was amazed, and then, seeing that Thaw was distraught, replied that he had not even the honor of Mrs. Thaw's acquaintance and had never seen her.

"I have known Mr. Thaw since boyhood and I have noticed that in the last few years he had been erratic in his behavior. I have not the slightest doubt that he was insane when he committed the deed. Mr. Thaw was jealous of his wife. He was in love with her and she seemed to be in love with him. Within the last few months he seemed to be possessed with a mania that everybody was making love to her."

The only statement secured from Mrs. Thaw was one made while she was on her way to the offices of her attorney yesterday. She said:

"The incident of last night is too painful to discuss. I am not a fugitive from justice. I am here with my lawyer, and I shall not try to get away. I hope poor Harry will soon get out of his trouble. I did not think he would do it."

COUNTESS GREATLY AFFECTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, June 27.—The Countess of Yarmouth (formerly Miss Alice Thaw) was great affected on learning of the tragedy in which her brother, Harry K. Thaw, figures.

The Earl of Yarmouth, when questioned on the subject, said he was unable to assign any reason for the tragedy, but had no doubt there had been serious differences between Thaw and White.

CLAIMS WHITE RUINED GIRLS.

ANTHONY COMSTOCK TELLS OF THAW'S REVELATIONS.

Society for the Prevention of Vice Seizes Opportunity to Stamp Out Immorality Among Wealthy Perverts — White Took Tenderloin Beauties to Country Home.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The killing of Stanford White on the roof of Madison Square Garden last Monday night by Harry Thaw is going to bring about a war on moral perverts in New York. Anthony Comstock, of the Society for the Prevention of Vice, has already begun the work in this crusade, as Harry Thaw had taken him into his confidence two weeks before the killing.

"I will drive every moral pervert out of New York," said Mr. Comstock with the utmost decision last night. The murder of Stanford White has given us an opening wedge that we have long needed.

"The investigation must go on now to the bitter end, without fear or favor, no matter how rich or how prominent or how brilliant the perverts may be. The trails will lead into the most exclusive clubs, and many a man who has been genehally held in the highest esteem must be tumbled into the mire, where he belongs.

"If all things I have heard about Stanford White, or half of them even, are true, he richly deserved his fate at the hands of young Thaw.

THAW EXPOSES IMMORALITY.

"Thaw called upon me several weeks ago to tell me of White. He explained his own trouble and told of many young girls whom White had ruined. He cited various instances and declared that he had the proof. He was much worked up over the whole affair and the news of the tragedy was not a great surprise to me.

"I really believe that Thaw was actuated by the very best of motives in this matter. I agreed with him when we discussed it, that moral perverts should be driven out of the city and that every effort should be put forward to protect young girls from these rich and influential men.

Perhaps the saddest result of the Thaw-White tragedy is the position of the family of the murdered man. For a number of years, close friends declare, Mrs. White has known of the dual life which her husband has led in New York. At first he kept it from her as much as possible, it is said, but as the facts were forced upon her he grew careless.

TOOK FAST WOMEN HOME.

Hardly two weeks before his death he filled a big touring car with beauties of the Tenderloin and drove them to his country place at St. James. Mrs. White slammed the door in his face and locked it. Bidding his surprised and partly ashamed guests to wait, White found another entrance and threw open the door.

As these women, with jests and sneers for the wife, entered the front door, Mrs. White walked out of the back door and spent the night in another building on the estate.

There was a raid on the wine cellar, and in choice vintages the merry crew drank toasts of shame to the man who led them to desecrate his own home. The very wife who had carried her heart of sorrow to quarters designed for servants was toasted as "the foolish one."

Blemishes, pimples, eruptions, rashes, medicated by Satin skin cream soon disappear.

WIFE ACCUSES NOEL.

A story of trips to Egypt, France and London with different women other than his wife is said to be behind the arrest today of Theophilus Noel, No. 63 Ewing Place, wealthy manufacturer of patent medicines, who is accused of wife abandonment by Mrs. Noel in a complaint signed before Justice Hurley. For many years Noel has been a well-known character in Chicago and California. Formerly the head of the Confederate Secret Service during the Civil War, he came to Chicago and accumulated a fortune. In 1892 he married his present wife and the two settled on Noel's estate, "The Highway," at Santa Cruz, Cal. Their disagreements finally resulted in a separation.

MAYOR REFUSES TO QUIT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TERRA HAUTE, June 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The necessary two-thirds vote of six councilmen was cast for the removal of Mayor Bidaman on the impeachment charges this evening, but instead of accepting the verdict the Mayor calmly walked to the presiding officer's seat and told the Council he did not intend to quit and that the action was invalid. The Mayor with some of his police remained in the Council chamber tonight, as the Council has not gone through the formality of adjourning. The Mayor was charged with failure to enforce the saloon and gambling laws.

CUTS AWAY IN MEXICALI.

RIVER'S RAMPAGE MENACES THE MEXICAN TOWN.

Flood Eats Into the Soft Earth and Inhabitants Are Forced to Leave Their Homes—Dynamite Is Used to Divert Flow of Stream. Much Lumber Carried Off.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CALEXICO, June 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The people of this town and the sister city of Mexicali, across the boundary line in Mexico, who have for the past two months been fighting the flood water of the New River, are now menaced from a different source.

The channel of New River has been cutting back toward its source at the Mexican intake. Part of the way it has been assisted by dynamite. The remainder has been done by the swift-flowing water.

This cutting channel reached a point opposite Calexico a few days ago, and has drawn off the flood water, which was dashing against the levees and threatening to break through. The result is wonderful and almost beyond description. West of Calexico a few days ago the water stood on the land to a depth of three and four feet. Today, the same lands are dry, and a bank has formed along the west side of the river not less than twenty-five feet above the rushing waters.

Huge billows tumble and toss over each other in their mad rush to the Salton Sea, washing the banks away and steadily increasing to the west. Just abreast of the southern part of the town of Mexicali, riffles began to form yesterday in the river in a threatening manner, and steadily increased in volume during the day. By night a deep channel was clearly defined, with a strong current bearing toward the land and the new Southern Pacific depot.

All through the night the turbulent waters steadily encroached on the railroad grade and the town levee, washing the former out in many places and early this morning breaking through the latter. The outer tracks went first, and then the house track succumbed, leaving the depot standing on a bank, to be later swept away by the rushing waters.

Through the gap in the levee the water has been steadily forcing its way through the sandy soil until now at least five acres of that part of the town has been washed away. People residing there, recognizing their precarious situation, began moving early this morning.

Families living in adobes, which predominate, hastily moved their belongings and the frame houses were moved intact with equal speed to safer ground. To attempt changing the channel of the river dynamite was resorted to and all day long the work has been kept up, but so far without results. The water is steadily encroaching on the depot and it is only a question of time when it will be carried away. Apparently nothing can save it.

Thousands of feet of lumber has been washed away along with many piles and the fence posts and the grade and track of the new railroad has been washed out for several miles.

Toward Packard the situation is grave, but it is hoped that the channel will cut back far enough through the night to draw the water to the west, thus changing the channel that is now doing the damage to the town of Mexicali, otherwise there may be a repetition of what occurred at the Evergreen heading a few weeks ago.

The situation in Mexicali becomes more critical each hour; the land being of fine sandy loam, offers but feeble resistance to the devouring waters. Just how much of the town will be destroyed cannot at this time be told. Within an hour several dwelling houses will be washed away.

Nothing can be done to stay their destruction. Merchants are moving their stocks in anticipation of their buildings being destroyed. The night gives promise of being a strenuous one for the inhabitants of the Mexican town.

CZAR'S PETS IN OPEN MUNTINY.

REGIMENT WHOSE UNIFORM HE WEARS DEFIES OFFICERS.

Soldiers Boldly Meet and Adopt Revolutionary Motto: "One for All, All for One"—Czar Reprimands Them and Sends First Battalion to Remote District of Novgorod.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 27.—The severe reprimand by the Emperor to the commander of the first and most honored regiment in the service is the clearest comment possible of the serious spread of the revolutionary propaganda in the army. The Emperor is titular colonel of the Preobajensky Regiment and invariably wears its uniform on state occasions.

The demands of the men and their adoption of the motto "One for all, all for one," show that the movement was engineered by the revolutionists. They met in open defiance of their officers, and instead of this entailing punishment, their demands received the respectful consideration of the commander of the division, Gen. Ozeroff, who promised to satisfy some of them and refer others to his superiors.

The men expressed their entire sympathy with the demands of Parliament for the distribution of lands.

The strike movement has spread to the sailors detailed for duty at the government powder factory near St. Petersburg. The men refuse to return to the units whence they were originally detailed and are holding meetings in which the soldiers stationed in the vicinity are participating.

The first battalion of the regiment in which the trouble occurred has been ordered to a remote district in the province of Novgorod, where the first Japanese prisoners were sent in the recent war.

BOGUS MONEY PLANT FOUND.

Secret Service Detectives Raid Place in Oregon.

Three Men Arrested on a Ranch Near Pendleton.

Department Had Worked Three Years on Case.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORTLAND, June 27.—After three years of constant endeavor to arrest a gang of counterfeiters who have been operating in the Northwest, Federal secret service officers have located the plant of the counterfeiters on a ranch near Pendleton, Or., and have in custody three men.

The arrested men are Ezra R. Coon, Jo Hansen and John H. Williams. The first two named worked on the ranch near Pendleton, ostensibly as farmers, and Williams, it is charged, passed of the bogus money in Portland and other places.

Coon posed as a jeweler and had cards heads printed to help the business along. He secured in this manner some of the finest machinery and appliances manufactured in the country.

Capt. Bell, of the secret service, declares that the plant is one of the most complete and modern counterfeiting outfits in existence. It is said that four other arrests, including that of a woman, will follow.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE, June 27.—The fight for a delay in the case of George Mitchell, accused of the murder of Edmund Heidel, leader of the Oregon "Holy Rollers" continued today. Judge Frater, exasperated by the continued objections of the attorneys to the jurors dismissed those already empaneled and attempted by conference with the lawyers to agree upon a line of questioning, but none of the attorneys would yield a point.

The fight that was going on about him seemed to confuse young Mitchell and he sat throughout the day with an air of bewildered amazement. The attorneys have tried to crowd in the questions to the jurors much of the story of the "Holy Rollers" or-

BLAZE IN VESSEL'S HOLD.

AMERICA MARU SUFFERS LOSS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The Japan-Pacific liner America Maru was threatened with partial destruction by a fierce fire which broke out in the coal bunkers of the vessel at an early hour this morning. It was several hours before the blaze could be extinguished and a loss of about $1000 was sustained.

It was at 4 o'clock this morning when the ship was lying at the Pacific coal dock that flames were discovered coming from the hatches over the coal bunkers. The tug Arab was at once summoned and several streams of water were played into the hold. After several hours the coal bunkers were flooded and the fire extinguished.

It is believed that spontaneous combustion started the fire. The America Maru arrived in this harbor on the 19th of this month with passengers and cargo from the Orient consigned to the Toyo Kisen Kaisha Company. She is to have sailed again next Saturday.

FRESNO RELIEVED.

FLOOD CONDITION IMPROVES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

FRESNO, June 27.—Reports from the West Side and the South indicate that the cool weather of the past few days has alleviated the flood condition here somewhat.

There was no rise in the waters of the San Joaquin today for the first time in three weeks and the Kings river is going down. This condition is due as largely to the breaks in the levee as to the cool weather.

Water is still flowing out of the many gaps in the levees of both streams and the farms lying in their course are still being flooded. It is thought here that the continuance of cool weather will put a stop to the melting of the snow and relieve the danger of the flood waters.

TWO GIRLS IN JAIL.

ACCUSED OF HORSE STEALING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

STOCKTON, June 27.—Two girls named Walker, residing a short distance east of Stockton, are in jail here on a charge of horse stealing. One of them is 18 years old and quite pretty, while the other is younger.

The two girls are good riders. Last night, according to the officers, they rounded up a band of sixty horses five miles north of Stockton and cut out one of the finest. As they were about to make way with the animals they were discovered by W. P. King, foreman on the Bishop & Cohen place. He had the girls into custody and turned them over to the Sheriff.

The girls have been seen about the city daily lately, one of them riding a bicycle. One of them is a newspaper carrier, having a route for a local morning paper.

CONTRACT JAPS ESCAPE.

VETERANS ILLEGALLY HELD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN JOSE, June 27.—Sheriff Ross has been notified by the officers of the Southern Pacific Company to be on the lookout for three Japanese veterans of the Manchurian war, who are illegally in this country.

The men escaped from the custody of the railroad company at Morgan Hill yesterday by jumping from the rear of a swiftly moving southbound train. They were in company with thirty-seven other Japanese veterans who were being transported from San Francisco to Nogales, where they were under contract to work on a railroad.

One has been recaptured at Salinas and he says his two companions were heading for San Francisco.

ASSETS TRANSFERRED.

ACTION OF BANKRUPT ILLEGAL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Bankers and bankrupts will be interested in a decision handed down yesterday by United States District Judge De Haven, sitting in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. In this case the bankrupt, Harry Gesas, had transferred some of his assets to the National Bank of St. Anthony in Idaho and the other creditors protested.

United States District Judge Beatty of Idaho decided that the bank had been treated as a preferred creditor and the bank appealed to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Judge De Haven quoted at length the decision of Judge Beatty and approved of the reasoning and conclusions of the Idaho jurist.

KANAKA HELD FOR MURDER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

REDWOOD CITY, June 27.—The inquest into the death of Mrs. Brandrup, who was found murdered in the Linden Hotel at Baden, San Mateo county, last Friday, was held at South San Francisco today by Justice E. E. Cunningham, acting for the Coroner.

The jury brought in a verdict of death by strangulation at the hands of a party unknown to the jury.

The authorities declare that they have woven a strong chain of circumstantial evidence around George Jones, the Kanaka, in whose room the woman was killed, and he was formally charged with the murder today. He will be arraigned tomorrow.

JUDGE ACTS QUICKLY.

BURGLAR GETS FIFTY YEARS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—It took a jury just five minutes in Judge Cook's court to decide that John Smith, an ex-convict, was the man who entered the home of Mrs. Lena Wilson on Genessee street last February, and severely beat and choked her until she gave him money. It took Judge Cook about the same length of time to deny a motion for a new trial and sentence Smith to fifty years. The verdict was secured on the first ballot.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Property owners in the burned district will be warned forthwith that within twenty-four hours after notice has been served they must clean up the débris in front of their lots or the Board of Public Works will look after the same, charge the work against the property and in addition possibly bring criminal action.

Drastic measures were decided upon at the meeting of the board today and it was declared there will be no more temporizing.

This action can be taken under the ordinance which prohibits the obstruction of the streets.

WOLF AFTER INSURANCE MEN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The committee sent from Santa Rosa to present the grievances of Sonoma county against the insurance companies to Commissioner Wolf will arrive in San Francisco tomorrow. The consultation will take place in Commissioner Wolf's office.

The Santa Rosa situation will be thoroughly gone over in the hope that some pressure may be brought to bear upon the companies to assure fair dealing.

Commissioner Wolf states that he will do everything for Santa Rosa that he has done for San Francisco and will bring the hand of the law down upon those companies alleged to be acting unfairly.

It is probable that some of the insurance adjusters will be sent for to explain their actions.

ANDREWS' EFFECTS SOLD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The diamond rings and other personal effects of Milton Andrews, slayer of Bessie Bouton at Mount Cutler, in Colorado, and who with Nudda Olivia, lured William Ellis from Australia to Berkeley, where they attempted to take his life, were sold in Oakland at public auction by the Public Administrator.

The valuables were those left by Andrews and the Olivia woman last winter when he killed his companion and himself to escape the clutches of the police.

The bidding for the gems was brisk, and from these relics of a life of crime the estate of the noted criminal has received upwards of $1000.

The money belonging to the estate is to go to the widow of Andrews, who lives in the East.

WASHINGTON.

WATER BILL IS UP TO SENATE.

Measure Passes House With no "Joker" Attached.

Senator Flint Will See That There Is no Delay.

Chairman Lacey Explains Why Action Is Urgent.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Flint-McLachlan water bill passed the House today by unanimous consent, being called up by Representative McLachlan. It gives Los Angeles the right to take an unlimited quantity of water from the Owens River for domestic purposes and irrigation.

There is no joker in the bill, limiting the water to that used for domestic purposes. The public lands committee eliminated that provision from the bill submitted by Secretary Hitchcock when it struck out the words "for domestic purposes only and not for the purpose of irrigation," in the first section of the bill immediately following the grant of right of way for a conduit, etc., to convey the water to Los Angeles.

In obedience to a resolution adopted by the committee yesterday urging Chairman Lacey to use all possible haste in pressing the bill, Mr. Lacey would probably have gotten it up tomorrow at the latest, but Mr. McLachlan did not wait.

He secured recognition from Speaker Cannon before noon and asked unanimous consent for considering the bill.

The clerk read it in full and Mr. Needham arose to ask some unimportant question, which Mr. McLachlan answered. Mr. Needham did not object, neither did anybody else, then the Speaker said:

BILL NOW READY FOR SENATE.

"Without objection the committee amendments will be adopted, the bill considered, engrossed, read the third time and passed."

To avoid all possibility of complications Mr. McLachlan promptly moved to reconsider the vote and lay that motion on the table, which was adopted unanimously.

The bill goes to the Senate immediately, where Mr. Flint will take care of it. The expectation is that the House amendments will be agreed to immediately upon Mr. Flint's recommendation and will go to the White House for presidential approval without going to a conference to adjust differences.

The ink was hardly dry on Chairman Lacey's unanimous report on the bill before the latter passed the House today.

The report is a model of brevity, telling the story of the necessity for the bill most concisely, as follows:

MR. LACEY EXPLAINS.

"The city of Los Angeles is a great and growing municipality, and its future growth and prosperity depend upon an abundant supply of water and power. The city proposes to expend a very large sum in the acquisition of water rights and in construction of canals and necessary plants for the purpose of procuring water from Owens River, about two hundred miles distance.

"It is estimated that the proposed project will involve an expenditure of $23,000,000.

"It is necessary, in order to carry out the plan, to secure a grant of right of way from the United States through public lands and the Sierra, Santa Barbara and San Gabriel timber land forest reserves.

"Your committee, having carefully considered the whole matter, is of the opinion that the substitute herewith reported will accomplish the desired purpose and that its terms are sufficiently guarded for the purpose.

"The city has already acquired by purchase a number of private rights to water to be used in carrying out the project.

"The supply of water at Los Angeles is wholly inadequate at this time and the necessity of this measure is very urgent. Your committee recommends that the substitute be agreed to and that the bill do pass."

Los Angeles is greatly indebted to Chief Forester Gifford J. Pinchot for the part he took in her case—he satisfying President Roosevelt and Secretary Hitchcock that the forest reserves could not suffer from the plans of Los Angeles, but rather would be benefited by them.

DOMINGO MUST WAIT.

TREATY IS HELD OVER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The Santo Domingo treaty will not be acted upon in the Senate at this session. The Committee on Foreign Relations adjourned today until the next session of Congress and the treaty was left without action. It is expected that an effort will be made in executive session today to have a day fixed for a vote on the treaty early in December. Opponents or the measure claim to have votes enough to defeat it, and it is the opposition therefore that is seeking to have a time fixed for a vote.

The treaty between the United States and the powers of Europe in relation to Morocco, which was negotiated as the result of the Algeciras conference, will be reported to the Senate at the first meeting of the Foreign Relations Committee next December and voted on not later than December 20. An agreement to this effect was reached today. The Democrats opposed the treaty and the Republicans of the committee were united for it. It was apparent, however, that it could not be brought to a vote at the present session and the Republican members of the committee accepted the foregoing programme, which met with no opposition.

MOODY AGAIN AFTER ROADS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Atty.-Gen. Moody has directed that suits be brought against a large number of railroad companies to recover penalties for violation of the safety appliance law through failure to keep their equipment in proper condition. The largest number of violations attributed to any road is fifty-two against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company.

Among the roads made defendants are the following: Santa Fé, Burlington, St. Paul, Rock Island, Denver and Rio Grande, Northern Pacific, and San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake.

COL. ERNST RETIRES.

BRIGADIER-GENERAL RANK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Col. Oswald Herbert Ernst of the Corps of Engineers was retired today for age with the rank of brigadier-general.

Col. Ernst is chairman of the Mississippi River Commission and a member of the Panama Canal Commission. He also is a member of the American section of the International Waterways Commission, chairman of the Board of Engineers charged with surveys for a waterway between Lake Michigan and the Mississippi River by way of the Desplaines and Illinois rivers, and a member of the board to consider cement testing in the Department of the Interior.

Col. Ernst

By Presidential appointment Col. Ernst served on the original Isthmian Canal Commission in 1899 and 1901, and upon the reorganization of the commission in 1905 he was called upon to serve on the new commission.

FAILS IN OIL BUSINESS.

STANDARD QUITS NICOLAI.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Lawrence S. Nicolai, a bankrupt oil merchant of this city, in an examination before a referee in bankruptcy in this city yesterday, testified that in 1895 a contract was made between the Standard Oil Company and his brother and himself, operating in the oil business under the firm name of Nicolai Bros., if they would abandon their business.

Previous to this time for ten years the firm had successfully conducted its business in opposition to the Standard Oil Company.

The amount, Mr. Nicolai said, was paid annually for ten years, until January, 1905, when, according to the witness, the Standard Oil turned him down and refused to renew the arrangement when they found that they could get along without it.

Mr. Nicolai throughout the examination referred to himself as receiving a "pension" from the Standard Oil Company, although he admitted the contract was made with his brother as well.

After the termination of the contract Mr. Nicolai resumed the oil business under the name of the National Oil Company, but was unable to make it a success.

FIFTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

REGULAR SESSION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 27.—SENATE.—The Senate was in open session for about five hours and a half today, and notwithstanding the session began with a roll call in order to assure a quorum, the day was crowded with business of importance, including the announcement by Senator Proctor, chairman of the Senate Committe on Agriculture, of a deadlock in the conference on the meat inspection provision of the Agricultural Appropriation Bill; a reply by Senator Bailey to the recent attack upon him in the Cosmopolitan Magazine; the passage of the Naturalization Bill; the continuance of Senator La Follette's effort to pass his bill limiting the hours of service on railroad trains; the acceptance of an almost complete report on the Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill, and a speech by Senator Warren in support of his resolution relative to the live stock industry.

Senator Bailey, denying all of the allegations of the Cosmopolitan article attacking him, and holding William R. Hearst responsible for the attack, said that in all the six political campaigns made by himself he had not spent as much money as Mr. Hearst had spent in one ward in his recent race for Mayor of New York city.

In his statement concerning the meat inspection provision, Mr. Proctor said that the House conferees had refused all efforts at compromise and had refused to join in a report. The announcement was generally received as indicating a deadlock, but the hope was expressed that cooler counsel might prevail tomorrow.

In the Senate yesterday Senator Hale suggested that the Senate should meet at 11 o'clock each day and should also hold night sessions. Senator Bailey gave notice that he would object to the night sessions, saying that he had come out for the first session and that not twenty Senators were present. The Senate contented itself with ordering that to-day's session begin at 11 o'clock.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations today authorized Senator Facon to report favorably the protocol bill, providing for the establishment of an international institute of agriculture at Rome, Italy. There are about forty governments which are parties to the arrangement. The Italian government will supply the buildings and the cost to other governments will be about $5000 a year each.

ACTION IN THE HOUSE.

The General Deficiency Appropriation Bill, the last of the big money measures, passed the House at 6 o'clock today, with few changes in the bill. Several items were inserted, due to late information of deficiencies in the departments, the net increase being about $600,000 over the bill as reported from the Committee on Appropriations.

Among the important actions of the House today were the passage of the Senate bill providing for a lock type of canal and the adoption of the item in the General Deficiency Bill ratifying and legalizing the duties collected during President McKinley's term from imports from the Philippine Islands.

Early in the day it looked as if the Democrats would line solidly against the amendment, which was put back in the bill under a rule, but under the leadership of Mr. James of Kentucky the opposition melted away, and few Democratic votes were cast against it on its final passage. At 6 o'clock the House took a recess until 8 o'clock this evening.

Chairman Gardner of the House Committee on Labor today filed a favorable report on the Eight-hour Bill.

Previous to further consideration of the General Deficiency Bill by the House today, Mr. Dalzell of Pennsylvania presented a rule directly affecting the amendment to the bill ratifying the tariff duties on exports and imports in the Philippine Islands at the close of the Spanish-American War, which went out of the bill yesterday on a point of order. The rule offered by Mr. Dalzell places the amendment again in the bill.

The previous question having been ordered, Mr. Dalzell explained the reasons for the legislation. He said that claims had been filed amounting to some $3,000,000, and there was the necessity of ratifying and legalizing the tariff duties levied during the Presidency of Mr. McKinley and prior to 1902.

Mr. Sullivan of Massachusetts objected to the bill.

"If this legislation is enacted," said Mr. Sullivan, "it not only will scandalize the American people, but will be looked upon as scandal by every civilized country. We are asked by the judgment of the rule to nullify a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in two cases, and it will nullify Amendment V of the Constitution that the property of any individual shall not be taken without due process of law."

The need of this legislation is explained in a letter of Secretaary Taft which stated that the duties collected between April 11, 1899, the date of the ratification of the treaty of cession, and March 8, 1902, it is estimated, aggregated $15,000,000 in gold. This sum was expended in furnishing a government for Manila and the islands and in public improvements. It was paid chiefly, the Secretary said, by large importers and exporters, who sold their goods at profitable prices, including the duties paid, and who enjoyed the benefit and protection of the government.

"The money paid as dues," says Secretary Taft, "never came into the treasury of the United States at all."

The rule was adopted, yeas, 151; nays, 82.

The House then went into committee of the whole for the further consideration of the General Deficiency Bill.

An amendment was adopted appropriating $295,200, for lighthouses, fog signals and other aids to commerce.

The payment of attorneys' fees in the judgment of the court of claims affirmed by the Supreme Court in the case of the Cherokee Nation, the Eastern Cherokees and the Eastern and Emigrant Cherokees against the United States was attacked by Mr. Miller of Kansas, Mr. Jones of Kentucky and Messrs. Campbell and Reeder of Kansas.

Among the attorneys who will receive proportions of the 15 per cent. are former Senators Marion Butler and J. K. Jones, and Mrs. Belva Lockwood, to whom is paid outright $18,000.

The committee refused to make a change in the item as carried in the bill.

The amendment relating to the duties collected on exports and imports in the Philippines after the Spanish-American war was then adopted and the General Deficiency Bill passed.

Catspaw Customers.

Fac-simile of Box

The story of the monkey who used the cat's paw to pull the chestnuts out of the fire, finds new illustrations daily. When a dealer sells a customer a sustitute for MENNEN'S BORATED TALCUM, he does so because the substitute pays him a bigger profit. He makes the customer his catspaw to rake in a few extra dollars.

It is not pleasant to be made a catspaw, especially when you pay for the opportunity of being injured. Is it not foolish to pay for the opportunity to use injurious imitations of MENNEN'S BORATED TALCUM, the standard powder of the world? Think it over.

Have you tried MENNEN'S VIOLET BORATED TALCUM TOILET POWDER? Ladies partial to violet perfume will find Mennen's Violet Powder fragrant with the odor of fresh plucked Parma violets.

DOUMA OPENLY AGITATES ARMY.

Revolutionary Utterances Are Planned for Effect.

Authorities Are Powerless to Suppress Speeches.

St. Petersburg Strike Is Still Gaining Force.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 27.—The session of the lower house of Parliament yesterday was openly devoted to the revolutionists' propaganda for undermining the loyalty of the troops. A score of speeches, couched in ardent revolutionary tone, were delivered with the direct object of their dissemination among the soldiers.

The authorities, who are able to confiscate papers containing telegraph accounts of the ferment among the soldiery, are unable to prevent the publication of Parliamentary speeches, and those delivered today will tomorrow be printed in every radical paper in the empire and so find their way into every barracks, camp and outpost.

The rostrum was abandoned almost entirely to Cossacks' representatives. The conservative Cossacks did their best to counteract the addresses of the revolutionists. The lie was freely passed on both sides regarding the sentiments of the Cossack soldiers and their devotion to duty, in spite of the utmost efforts of Prince Paul Dolgourkoff, who occupied the chair in the absence of President Mouromtseff.

DISAFFECTED SOLDIERS.

The revolutionary agitation in the guard camp at Krasnoye-Selo has reached such a pitch that War Minister Rudiger is contemplating breaking up the camp and scattering the disaffected regiments.

Several hundred members of the supposed ultra-loyal Preobrajensky regiment are reported to have held a meeting and drawn up a resolution addressed to the regimental commander upholding all the actions of Parliament and declaring that they want no more police duty entailing the slaying of brother or father. Other meetings are of daily occurrence.

The Cossacks at Rostov-on-Don are said to have refused to leave their quarters to suppress anti-Semite disturbances unless their families are guaranteed pensions in case of death.

STRIKE IS SPREADING.

The strike in St. Petersburg, though it has not affected the factories, is spreading in unexpected directions. Three hundred house porters, who actually are police agents, though paid by the householders, struck today and the expressmen and cabmen throughout the city are threatening to join the railway truckmen.

Rioting is expected if the drivers are included in the strike, as they are among the least intelligent portion of the population and inclined to violence.

The state of feeling against the Cossacks is exemplified by an incident which occurred today in the working quarter of Vassili Ostrov. A crowd surrounded a group of Cossacks off duty and pelted them with cobblestones torn from the pavements. The Cossacks kept their assailants at bay with their swords. Several on both sides were wounded before the patrol arrived.

GHETTO PUPILS' "THROATS CUT."

HEBREW MOB ATTACKS NEW YORK PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Health Officers Operate Upon Children's Diseased Palates and Parents Rush by Hundreds to Save Their Offsprings from Supposed Slaughter.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, June 27.—A report that children's throats were being cut in the public schools resulted today in such excitement and panic in the lower East Side that fifteen schools, with 25,000 pupils were closed for the day.

The trouble was caused by operations performed on several children yesterday for the removal of adenoids, a fungus growth in the back of the throat and nasal cavity.

The operation is not a dangerous one, but the reports concerning what had been done spread rapidly today, especially among the Hebrews, and became changed into reports that the Russian anti-Jewish massacres were to be repeated in this country, and that a start was being made on Hebrew children in the schools.

It was not long until many of the schools were surrounded by crowds of frantic parents, bent on rescuing their little ones from what they believed to be impending death.

These crowds became so threatening that hurried calls for protection were sent to the nearest police stations. All the patrolmen available were sent out to restore order.

In one instance a police court was closed for an hour to permit the court attendants and officers to aid the police to protect a neighboring school.

At one building the excited people became riotous and shutters were closed to secure the safety of those inside. One after another the principals decided to dismiss their pupils for the day.

As the little ones marched out the scenes were pathetic, weeping women rushing forward to clasp their children in their arms in thanksgiving.

The district affected extends from the Bowery to the East River, and from Catharine to Houston streets.

Sad eyes and eyelids, weak eyes and tired eyes need Murine Eye Tonic.

CITY ASKED TO TAKE HAND.

CITIZENS WANT HELP IN SUIT AGAINST COMMITTEE.

Lack of Money Bars Plaintiffs from Pushing Prosecution and They Ask That San Francisco's Board of Supervisors Be Made Party to Suit. New Relief Commission Gets Busy.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Acknowledging inability to bring injunction proceedings against the Finance Committee in the suit recently instituted by Alva Udell and others charging James Phelan and his associates with conspiracy in the handling of relief funds, the Board of Supervisors is memorialized in a communication filed yesterday to become a party plaintiff.

The petitioners, who state that they represent over 10,000 destitute persons, admit that lack of money bars them from proceeding with the suit. They declare that San Francisco is an interested party to the extent that it must look after the welfare of indigent and needy citizens and that the Board of Supervisors is the proper party to intervene and become one of the plaintiffs.

RELIEF COMMISSION BUSY.

The relief commission of three met yesterday and fully outlined its policy. In a letter to James D. Phelan, chairman of the Finance Committee, it stated what it understood to be its scope of authority. It summoned all the superintendents of the various camps of the city and requested a written report from them as to what they deemed absolutely necessary for the present.

It is the expressed plan of the commission to do away with the wholesale distribution of clothing and supplies after it has ascertained that each and every person has received at least one outfit.

After this has been accomplished, which, according to the superintendents, will be within two weeks, all needy people will have to apply to the committee on special relief at a central location for supplies.

SUPERINTENDENT'S SALARY.

Gen. Greely was present at the meeting and submitted a letter to the commission in which he gave an approximation of the expenses of conducting the relief work after the army has been withdrawn. The total of his estimate is $32,800.

In this statement the general superintendent of camps is down for a salary of $625 a month. The list will be submitted to the Finance Committee for supervision as will all matters of the commission.

Rudolph Herold, agent of the Hamburg Bremen Insurance Company, yesterday announced that he had severed his connection with that concern. Herold stated that the company had sent to this city a representative from New York, who had failed to consult him in adjustment of the losses and settlement of the claims and that he did not propose to lose the regard of friends who had transacted business with the company through him.

GUATEMALANS ARRESTED.

Government Imprisons Forty Prominent Persons on Suspicion of Disloyalty.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MEXICO CITY, June 27.—Refugees from Guatemala report that the government has imprisoned some forty prominent persons under suspicion of their being in sympathy with the revolutionists. This action of the government is resented by the people, who fear to protest.

News from Salvador relating to the revolution in Guatemala is that Gen. Toledo has advanced into the country without encountering any resistance during a three days' march. It is believed he is near or at the city of Guatemala. A large number of government troops have deserted to him.

The government commander of the forces at the Escatempa had to resort to the severest measures to prevent his troops from disbanding, and shot a group of deserters. The capture of Ayutla, in Northern Guatemala, by the revolutionists is confirmed.

EDWARD'S CONCESSION TO JEWS.

LONDON, June 27.—King Edward has made an important concession to Jewish feeling. The courts hitherto always have been held on Fridays, precluding the presentation of Jews. By the King's command the third court of the season has been fixed for Thursday, June 28, and it is expected that the innovation will become annual.

HUNDREDS OF CHIMNEYS FALL AND PEOPLE TERRIFIED.

Citizens Are Thrown Violently to Earth in Many Cities and Shocks Are Especially Severe in Collieries, Where Miners Have Thrilling Experiences in Pits.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CARDIFF (Wales) June 27.—Violent earthquake shocks were felt throughout South Wales at 9:45 this morning. Houses rocked and many of the cheaper ones were damaged.

Hundreds of chimneys fell. The people were thrown to the ground and fled from their houses, shrieking in panic with visions of the San Francisco disaster before them.

Though there were many narrow escapes from falling chimney and copings, there were no casualties so far as known.

Earthquake shocks were also felt at Bristol, Ilfracombe and elsewhere. They were accompanied by loud rumblings.

The shocks were felt with particular severity in the collieries, where the men tell of terrifying experiences. While underground they were thrown about in all directions like ninepins and they all left the pits as speedily as possible.

Eighty Million Deficit Caused by Moroccan Affair and Inauguration of Internal Reforms.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, June 27.—Finance Minister Poincaire introduced a budget in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday, showing a considerable deficit in consequence of the extraordinary expenditures for the military preparations during the Moroccan crisis amounting to $50,000,000, and also $30,000,000 owing to increased expenditures resulting from internal reforms.

The ministry suggested that in order to meet the first indicated deficit a loan would be necessary, and as to the other item a rearrangement of taxation would be necessary, comprising an increase of 20 per cent. in the succession duty, an augmentation of the duties on spirituous liquors and the transfer of real estate and the suppression of fraud in the manufacture of alcohol.

REAL PRINCE IN DERBY HAT.

Maharajah and Maharani of Baroda Arrive.

No Gems, Jewels or Flies on His Highness.

Will Criss-Cross Country to See Everything.

With a democratic bearing that was delightfully American, the Maharajah Gaekwar of Baroda, India, accompanied by Her Highness, the Maharani, and a long string of servants, yesterday arrived in Los Angeles.

Unheralded was their coming, but the reception of the little handful of the faithful who were apprised of the advent was with difficulty restrained from assuming a truly oriental phase.

In addition to his highness and his latter half, the following made up the party: Sanpatrao Gaekwar, a brother of his highness; a Mrs. Burrows and a Mrs. Yamunakdl, who occupy the positions of English attendants to the retinue. There were also valets and one native woman, who wore her native dress of a wrapper and shawl. The party came in on the California Limited over the Santa Fé, arriving at La Grande Station at 3:15.

Maharajah in native costume

Ruler of Baroda and his wife in America

The Gaekwar, with his suite, was riding in the rear Pullman, and stepped lightly to the ground as soon as the train stopped. He wore a little derby hat and a well-worn blue serge suit. His round, fat olive-hued face looked stolidly out upon his first glimpse of the City of the Angels. Walking about three feet ahead of his better half, the Gaekwar led the way to a carriage.

NO FLASHING GEMS.

A score or so of the curious had gathered at the station to see the Indian potentate, who is supposed to have so many gems that he carries them about in a barrel.

They saw the royal oriental but audible murmurs of disappointment were heard. A show had been expected in which peacock feathers and trailing robes with a background of flashing jewels would figure, but instead there appeared a little, pudgy, dark-hued man, who smiled, showing white, even teeth, when a newsboy crowded up to him and yelled his wares.

There was a little wait at the carriage owing to a mix up, and the distinguished visitor embraced the opportunity to calmly survey the vicinity.

The palms in the station yard were an object of especial interest, as they were the first he had seen since arriving in the United States.

The Gaekwar and his suite will remain in the city for two days before proceeding north. They plan to see the near-by attractions, but will remain in their hotel until noon today, resting after the trying journey from the Grand Cañon of the Colorado.

The distinguished visitor has been touring the United States for the last two months, making easy journeys, starting from New York. While in the latter city he was entertained lavishly by the Vanderbilts and the very top notch of Gotham society.

In the tour across the country the Gaekwar has abandoned all of his royal perogatives, which would entitle him to criers in front and a bodyguard like a Russian Czar.

GREAT TRAVELER.

His principality of Baroda, India, is rated as one of the gems of that far distant land, and the Gaekwar is reputed to have a fortune in his own name amounting to $5,000,000.

He has been educated in an English institution and speaks English fluently and with little or no accent.

One of the incidents of the royal party's trip across the American continent was a visit to Pike's Peak in Colorado, where the Gaekwar is said to have indulged himself in his religious exercises with the rising of the sun.

From that place the party proceeded to the Grand Cañon, where they remained two days at El Tovar Hotel, coming direct from there to this city.

From Los Angeles the itinerary of the party takes them to Berenda and thence to Portland. A trip will be made to Vancouver, B. C., and thence return to the Yellowstone Park, and the trip east will be resumed. Stops will be made at San Francisco to see the ruins of the city, and a short sojourn in Montreal, Canada.

The Gaekwar refused to see newspaper men yesterday, pleading fatigue, but gave word that this morning at 9 o'clock he would give an audience to the reporters.

LAUGHED AT VICTIM.

Woman Was Unsympathetic When Her Auto Cut Bicyclist's Head Open.

After the big automobile in which she was riding had run into a man, a woman in the tonneau of the machine laughed and called to the unfortunate victim, "Maybe you will be more careful and get out of the way next time."

W. E. Shepherd was the victim and was on his way home after a hard day's work, riding his wheel. He took the number of the machine as 4232 Cal., and the records show that this auto is the property of J. H. Dwight, No. 480 South Orange Grove avenue, Pasadena.

The big machine in charge of a negro chauffeur and carrying a man and a woman in the tonneau was crossing the intersection of Second and Broadway last evening at a good rate of speed. A car suddenly blocked the way and the chauffeur stopped his auto and backed up suddenly to avoid a collision. Shepherd was riding directly behind the auto and as the street was crowded could not turn when the big touring car backed up on him.

A protruding part of the machine struck him on the forehead just above the left eye, inflicting a deep laceration slightly over two inches long. Shepherd says the woman in the tonneau looked around and laughed at him and his misfortune and when he declared he thought the autoists should be more careful she informed him that he had better look out for himself and that they were not responsible if he was hurt.

"That is the third time I have been hit by automobiles," mused Shepherd while the police surgeons were stitching the cut on his forehead.

"The first two acted in a decent way about it, however, but this woman just laughed at me. I am a poor man and can't do anything in the case but they ought to be punished for such carelessness."

PUNKY MELONS STRIKE A SNAG.

Soft Cantaloupes Under Ban of Fruit Inspector.

Many Unfit for Food, but no Menace to Health.

Shippers Blamed for Sending Them to Market.

Cantaloupes that are unfit for food have found their way into the Los Angeles market and today will be condemned by the local health officers.

The scare-story that the fruit was poisonous has been dispelled by the city chemist's analysis.

Fruit Inspector Drummond gave a report to The Times last night. It probably will be filed today. In it Drummond says the cantaloupes are unfit to eat, and recommends immediate steps to stop the wholesale shipment of "soft-skinned" fruit. It is said the twenty or more tons of melons now on the market include cantaloupes which have been taken from dead or wilted vines.

At the warehouse of the Frank Simpson Fruit Company on Los Angeles street large quantities of good cantaloupes arrived yesterday from Brawley and vicinity. There also was a consignment of "soft-skins" which was condemned by the fruit inspector and will be burned. Speaking of the tainted fruit Mr. Simpson said:

TWENTY TONS ON MARKET.

"About twenty tons of soft-skinned cantaloupes are on the market. The fruit is unfit for use. Most of the melons can be told at once by the soft spot and by the prickly growth on the surface. It does not pay the producer to send such melons to market as they can be sold for not more than $1 a crate, which does not pay for the handling. Most of the profits from the shipments of soft fruit go to the railroads and the growers get scarcely anything. The melon trade is being injured by the shipment of such cantaloupes.

"Every crate of soft cantaloupes we have received is from the Coachella Valley. I would not like to say the growers or shippers know the fruit is unfit for food, but I know we will handle no such melons as those which have arrived today from the Coachella country. We cannot afford to jeopardize our trade by selling such cantaloupes and we are ready to aid the Health Office in its efforts to stop the shipment of the fruit. This can be said of all the larger dealers and I think we can keep every bad melon out of the market."

SHIPMENT HELD UP.

A shipment discovered yesterday afternoon and thought to contain affected melons, will be held pending an investigation. Not a crate will be passed without a thorough inspection of its contents. Both Inspector Drummond and his assistant, J. A. Traynor, made a round of the wholesale houses on the lookout for culls.

They found the situation had been greatly exaggerated in the minds of some who profess to see a great danger from the consumption of the fruit. They declare, however, that they found "soft melons" and that they will condemn a quantity.

There perhaps is no better fruit authority in Los Angeles than Inspector Drummond. After a thorough inspection, he stated that the melons could be eaten without danger to health. He thought they might affect a person with a weak stomach and cause nausea, but he was positive no more serious result would come.

"I have examined the cantaloupes carefully," said Mr. Drummond, "and I can find nothing that would be productive of disease. They do not contain germs of any kind, in my opinion, and the statement that typhoid malaria, cholera morbus, or diphtheria will be contracted by eating the fruit is absurd.

SAFE, BUT NOT GOOD EATING.

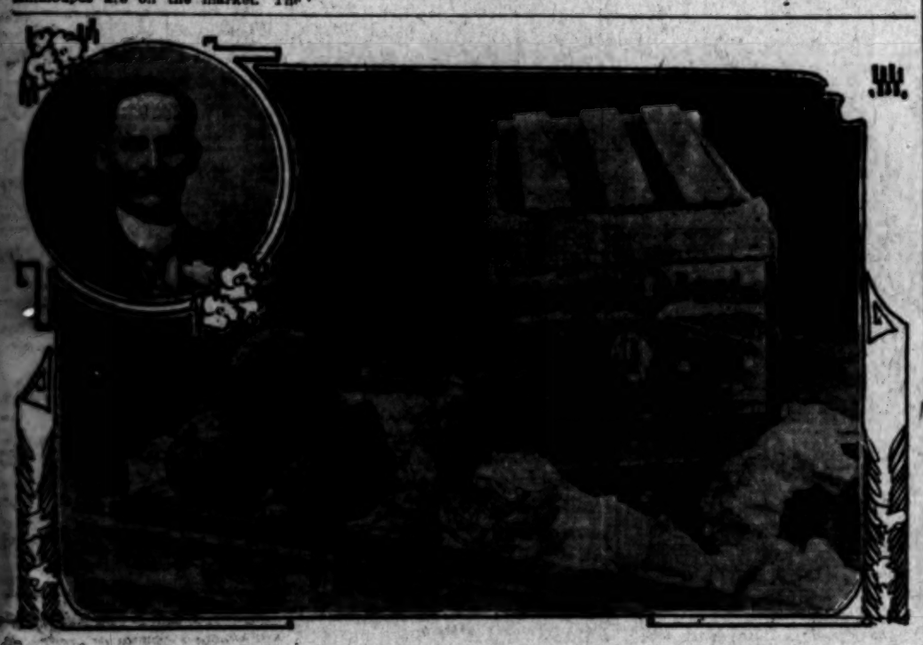
"I am not disposed to treat the matter lightly, however, as I believe the melons are unfit for food and should be destroyed. Every effort will be made to secure and condemn each crate containing the bad fruit. We are making a careful inspection of each consignment and it is safe to say no more such melons will reach the market."

Thousands of crates of early cantaloupes were received yesterday and every box of fruit from the Imperial Valley, put up by the Brawley Cantaloupe Growers' Association, was marked "O. K." and passed.

The knowledge that at least a part of the fruit now in the market will be condemned and destroyed, probably, will have a wholesome effect upon those who are sending the "greasy" cantaloupes to Los Angeles.

Most of the spoiled fruit has found its way to peddlers' wagons.

The affected cantaloupe can be detected from a peculiar excrescence resembling a fungus growth on the surface. In each of the bad melons there is a soft spot, which the pressure of a finger will reveal. The skin over the diseased cantaloupe is greasy and the outside is covered with a slimy scale.



Fruit Inspector Drummond and some of the cantaloupes which he says are unfit for food.

WILL INVADE NEW TERRITORY.

MONROVIA LINE EXTENSION TO HIT SANTA FE.

Plans Made to Run Pacific Electric Tracks to Glendora, from Where It Will Be but a Step to Pomona. Steam Railroad Rates May Be Cut in Half.

As soon as the Right of Way Committee can settle with a few recalcitrant property owners just west of Monrovia, the Pacific Electric will begin the construction of its Glendora extension.

Besides the development of a rich residence district especially attractive to suburbanites, this move of the Huntington interests will be in the way of a strategic move. It will be the first time that the Pacific Electric or its allied lines has made a direct invasion of Santa Fé territory.

The proposed extension upon which work will probably begin in the next thirty days, will be about ten miles in length from the present terminus of the line at Monrovia, and the era of the new line at Glendora will be twenty-eight miles fom the Pacific Electric depot at Sixth and Main streets.

The Glendora line will pass through a foothill section which up to the present time has been served by the Santa Fé alone. It will tap the business of that road in a manner which will be distinctly felt by the steam line, especially so as there is no doubt but the Pacific Electric will follow its custom in serving suburban points, and at least cut the local steam road rates in half.

Already the towns along the line of the proposed electric road and the property adjacent are beginning to feel the impulse which has never failed to attend the projection of the Huntington lines to any point, and many prospective home seekers are hastening to secure acre lots and suburban villas with the assurance that they will have a frequent and rapid means of communication with Los Angeles by the first of next year.

It is a well-known fact in railway circles that the Glendora extension, invading as it does Santa Fé territory alone, is practically the only development of the mileage of the Pacific Electric that Mr. Harriman has regarded with complacency for a long time past.

But from Glendora it is but a step to Pomona, and it is simply in line with the indomitable spirit of progress of H. E. Huntington that he send his flying red electric cars even to that point, and so on to a connection with his San Bernardino Valley lines.

DEATH IN CISTERN.

Hole Proved Death Trap for Boy Picking Berries on His Father's Ranch at Fruitland.

James Beasley, aged 14 years, son of J. W. Beasley of Fruitland, was drowned yesterday afternoon at 4:30 in a cistern on his father's ranch. The lad was engaged in picking blackberries and the cistern, which is an uncovered affair, is located in the blackberry patch. No one saw thy boy fall into the cistern and nothing was suspected until the lad failed to return to the house with the other pickers and the berries they had picked.

It was at first thought he was playing somewhere about the patch and it was not until his father's return from the city that a search was made. Searchers went down the long rows of blackberry bushes and called for him, but received no answer. At last the cistern was reached and the body of the drowned boy discovered in the water.

Every effort was made to revive him, but he had been dead for more than an hour. The Coroner was notified and the remains taken to Bresee's morgue, where an inquest will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock. J. W. Beasley, father of the dead boy, is a member of the firm of Beasley & Dundore, No. 34 Los Angeles Market. His ranch is located in the district known as Fruitland, which is really a portion of Los Angeles and the cistern where the boy was drowned is located near the corner of Boyle and Vernon avenues.

DEATH CLOSES ACTIVE CAREER.

Passing of Capt. Samuel H. Day, Who Served in First Ohio Artillery During the Rebellion.

Samuel Hamilton Day passed peacefully away yesterday morning at his late residence, No. 338 South Grand avenue, after a long illness. Capt. Day was born in Chillicothe, O., where he spent his early youth. During the War of the Rebellion he served creditably as an officer in the First Ohio Artillery, until the second battle of Bull Run, where he received a wound which disabled him for life.

In 1883 Capt. Day came to this Coast in the interest of Agassiz and Shaw of Boston, who were making scientific researches near Quincy, in Plumas county, Cal. Since then, his time has been divided between San José, Santa Fé, N. M., Los Angeles, and latterly in Plumas county again.

A devoted husband and father, charitable and just in his dealings with his fellow-men, Capt. Day closed his eyes on a life filled with good deeds. He leaves to mourn his loss, a wife, a daughter, Dorothy M. Day; a son, Samuel H. Day, Jr.; a sister, Mrs. May Day Burchenal of New York City, and two brothers, Rev. W. G. Day of Baltimore, Md., and Col. Selden A. Ray, U.S.A. (retired,) now in London, England.

MUSIC MAN RETIRES.

After thirty-one years of active business life, A. G. Bartlett has retired. He has sold his entire holdings in the Bartlett Music Company to J. F. Salyer, who succeeds to the presidency. On account of the retirement of Mr. Bartlett, the stockholders of the concern have held a special meeting, at which the following officers and directors have been chosen: President, J. F. Salyer; vice-president, I. N. Hockett; secretary, E. E. Searles; treasurer, E. R. Potter; manager, E. E. Salyer. For several years Mr. Bartlett has been considering the advisability of giving up active business, and, as Mr. Salyer has been associated with him for the past sixteen years, and held the next largest amount of stock, it was the logical thing for Mr. Salyer to succeed to the business. For seven years the entire management of the business has devolved upon Mr. Salyer.

The only other change of importance is in the office of vice-president, I. N. Hockett having been elected to that position. Mr. Hockett has had extensive experience in both the wholesale and retail piano business. He has become financially interested in the company, and, although he will not be actively connected with its management, he will be a prominent factor in an advisory and financial way, he having close relations with large eastern houses.

JUST TOOK IT.

"Lonnie" Jenkins, aged 13 years, of No. 2337 Enterprise street, was arrested last night for stealing a bicycle belonging to F. McIntyre of No. 703 West Second street. "Lonnie" is a negro newsboy and has been in trouble several times before. He admits taking the wheel and says he found it standing at the curb on South Broadway near Sixth street. The lad offers no excuse or explanation for his act and is now locked up in the Detention Home.

Classified Liners

Times "Liner" Advertisers—Important. Note Change in rate for Sunday classified advertisements. Commencing Sunday, October 1, 1905, the rate for Sunday "Liners" was raised to 1¼ cents per word for each insertion; minimum charge, 25 cents, as at present. This slight advance is amply justified by the present Sunday circulation of The Times, which averages over 70,000 copies. (When the 1-cent-per-word rate was established in 1893, The Times Sunday circulation was only 14,000 copies.) The "Liner" rate for the daily—1 cent per word—will stand as at present.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times" any time of day or night, and secure prompt and careful attention. Rates one cent a word each insertion in the Daily; 1¼ cents per word in the Sunday edition; minimum charge, 25c.

"Liner" (classified) advertisements for Sunday insertion received over the counter or by telephone after 11 o'clock Saturday nights will be inserted under heading "Too Late to Classify."

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 10 o'clock Saturday nights. Rate 1¼ cents per word.

INDEX TO TIMES POST-OFFICE.

Answers to The Times classified advertisements, uncalled for and remaining in The Times postoffice at 11 o'clock p.m., June 27, are shown in the following classified list:

For convenience of "Liner" advertisers using box-number addresses for answers to their advertisements addressed in care of The Times postoffice, lists of letters in each box will be published daily. They are printed in order that patrons may be saved time and cost of sending unnecessary trips to The Times office.

Boxes in The Times postoffice number from 1 to 200, the capacity being further increased by using letters of the alphabet. As an example, Box No. 2—B 1 or 1 letter.

TOOTH PULLERS FLUNK IN EXAM.

NINETEEN FAIL TO GET STATE CERTIFICATES.

Out of a Class of Forty-four Applicants the Board of Dental Examiners Grant Right to Practice in This State to Only Twenty-five Dentists.

Out of a class of forty-four applicants the Board of Dental Examiners of California yesterday granted State certificates to practice to twenty-five dentists.

The examinations were held in the University of Southern California's auditorium June 18, and lasted the entire week. The board has been in session for the last few days at the Van Nuys Hotel, passing upon the papers of the class.

Those granted certificates to practice in the State were: H. L. Trafford, E. B. Goff, F. S. McDonald, C. L. Holcomb, C. F. Kincaid, V. H. Rea, H. C. Baille, L. F. Roudebush, W. H. McBean, W. R. Mail, F. E. Clark, W. A. Kerley, R. B. Ingalls, G. J. Crandall, S. W. Clapp, R. R. Houston, J. D. McCoy, A. R. Brown, J. A. Justice, T. W. McKenzie, J. H. Darby, H. F. Boeckman, R. C. Lane, W. S. Sweet and J. A. West.

The number of applicants was above the average, but those who successfully met the requirements of the examination were less than the usual number.

It is probable that the next examination for certificates for dentists, which was to have been held in San Francisco in December, will be held in Los Angeles, owing to the unsettled conditions in the northern city.

UNDER COW CATCHER.

Dishonorably Discharged Soldier Has Perilous Trip Coming from Saugus.

Jim O'Connors, a discharged soldier, who attempted suicide in Bakersfield last Sunday night, was taken from beneath the cow catcher of the Southern Pacific engine used as a "helper" on the Owl last night, almost a maniac. O'Connors was dishonorably discharged from Uncle Sam's army because he made false pretenses as to his age, etc., when he enlisted. He is 19 years old and his home is in Chicago.

At the time of the great disaster he was in San Francisco and did guard duty there, but was discharged soon afterward. He started to beat his way south and when the "helper" was uncoupled from the Owl at Saugus last night he crawled under the cow catcher and managed to get on top of the few braces which span the opening at the bottom of the triangular headpiece.

He was in a very cramped position and only by holding on with all his might was he able to maintain his place. When the "helper" engine started on the seventy-mile trip back to Los Angeles the engineer opened the throttle wide, and as the engine was not coupled to a train very fast time was made, the engine arriving in the Southern Pacific yards here in an hour.

The trip was a terrible one for O'Connors. He could barely hold on and the great speed made it almost impossible for him to breathe and the great engine seemed to buck and shy like a broncho. When the iron horse stopped a switchman pulled O'Connors out from under the cow catcher and the young man was insane and fairly frothing at the mouth. The police ambulance was called and O'Connors was hurried to the Receiving Hospital where he was treated and soon recovered his senses and appeared as well as ever.

While in Bakersfield he spent all the money he had in the dance halls and dives there except 50 cents. He became disconsolate and so bought a bottle of iodoform with the money, and, walking into the Palace dance hall shortly after midnight Saturday night, swallowed the drug. He was soon unconscious, but was hurriedly removed to a hospital where antidotes were administered, and the man recovered. He was discharged from the hospital only two days ago and is still weak from his experience.

HAS BEEN A BANDIT.

Stackpole, Charged With Murder of Joel Schock, Has Served Sentence for Assault to Murder.

An exhibit in the case against Ernest G. Stackpole, who is to have his preliminary examination in the Schock murder case before Judge Rose at 9 o'clock this morning, was made public by the police yesterday.

In a communication from Chief of Police A. Wilson of Oakland, it is stated that: "On February 14, 1896, Stackpole was sentenced to San Quentin for three years by Judge W. E. Green of this county, for robbery and assault to murder, under the name of Frank Murry, alias E. G. Stackpole. Previous to this time he had been known as a hold-up man and has a reputation for that kind of work in Alameda generally, using a revolver for his weapon."

"This only goes to prove that Stackpole is a cold-blooded, hardened criminal of long experience," said Acting Chief of Police Flammer yesterday. "He is shrewd in that he will not admit anything in connection with this murder case for which he is to be tried, and will not even discuss the case. When shown evidence of former crimes that have been proven against him he has admitted the facts graciously. —3.1A.

"He has always been cool and collected and no one need expect to see him break down today. From the study of the two defendants in this case it is quite plain that Mrs. Scheck never was aware of the criminal character of her lover and that her hands have become blood-smeared by some subtle charm of Stackpole."

Stackpole was in conference yesterday with Attorney Hugh J. Crawford, but it is understood that Crawford declined to defend him today. As far as is known Stackpole has but $67 in his possession. Undoubtedly it will be necessary for the court to appoint his attorney.

DANCE DESPITE COURT.

Injunction Issued by Judge Conrey Will Not Put a Stop to Show at the Hotchkiss.

The Hotchkiss Theater doll will continue to dance in spite of the Mason Operahouse doll and despite Judge Conrey's injunction.

On the advice of his attorney, Manager T. Jeff White of the Hotchkiss has directed that the doll dance continue to be the feature of the show. He claims that the dance has naught to do with the dance in the "Pousse Café," of which Harry James owns the rights for his company at the Mason.

Although a dance by a human doll, it is claimed by White to be of an original design and not stolen from "Pousse Café."

The alleged contempt charges will be heard Monday.

PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN.

Monrovia Board of Trade Believes It Will Raise the Money Needed to Boost the City.

MONROVIA, June 27.—"We have strong encouragement and believe the teotal of the subscriptions pledged for a six months' publicity campaign in the Los Angeles daily papers will reach $3000, that is, $500 per month," says C. A. Sargent, president of the Monrovia Board of Trade.

The mass meeting called last evening by the Board of Trade was thoroughly representative, being attended by many of the most prominent realty owners, and by practically all of the business men of the city. Mr. Sargent presided and announced that the meeting was held for the purpose of arriving at an accurate expression of public opinion in regard to advertising Monrovia in the Los Angeles papers. All funds turned over to the Board of Trade for this publicity campaign would be disbursed by the Advertising Committee, of which W. A. Chess of the First National Bank is chairman.

Complying with the popular request, C. E. Slosson, a well-known realty dealer, spoke briefly of the most obvious advantages of advertising the city and of compelling a wider recognition of her attractions. W. A. Chess followed in the same vein. H. S. McKee was emphatically in favor of the movement and said: "The acreage of Monrovia tracts for subdivision is too small to warrant a large expenditure for advertising by realty firms. The way to make our city grow and to realize the prices that property here should bring is to acknowledge a community of interests and cooperate in extensive advertising. Saginaw, Mich., adopted this cooperative plan and spent $250,000 and the people are well satisfied with the results. It is estimated that an average of 200 people from the North and East come to Southern California each day in the year, expecting to make their home here. No large realty dealers are pressing Monrovia's claims upon these 75,000 home-seekers, and the only way we can win their attention is to do the exploiting for ourselves."

Other speakers were W. R. Scarborough, J. E. McIntyre and H. W. Evans.

Pledges ranging from $5 to $20 each aggregate between $250 and $300 per month. It is expected that little difficulty will be experienced in securing enough smaller pledges to swell the total to $500 per month.

A telephone message was received today announcing that the jury in the condemnation suit of the Pacific Electric Company vs. W. H. Young of Duarte awarded Mr. Young $3500 damages. The right of way requires one and one-half acres of land, which is in full-bearing Valencia orange trees returning for this year a net sum of over $1000 per acre. The property will be further damaged by a deep cut.

Dr. C. C. Browning of the Boettenger Sanatorium, who was in attendance at the annual meeting of the American Medical Society, held recently in Boston, is at present visiting Sanatoria in the Adirondack Mountains.

BIG PLANT TO TREAT TIMBER.

ESPEE AWARDS CONTRACT FOR LOCAL MACHINE.

Railway Material for the Los Angeles District Will Be Creosoted, the Working Parts Being Placed on Flat Cars for Moving Conveniently. Four Thousand Ties a Day.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND, June 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Southern Pacific Railway Company has awarded the contract for building a large portable timber-treating plant for use in the Los Angeles district. This plant is to cost fully $150,000 and will be constructed on flat cars, so that it can be placed where there is most demand for it from time to time.

It is designed to treat railway timbers both by the Burnettising and the creosoting process for use in the Los Angeles district, extending from Fresno to El Paso and including all the territory in which the Southern Pacific is operating in Old Mexico.

It is possible, however, that this portable plant will be stationed much of the time at San Pedro, where railway ties, bridge timbers and piling will be treated when received direct from lumber vessels. The plant will have two retorts, costing $70,000 each; it will have capacity for treating 4000 railway ties per day, and will give employment to fifty men.

The timber-treating plant in Oakland has been treating timbers for all the work in the Los Angeles district, but the demand for material has become too great for this plan to handle with its other orders.

WELL, SHE'S MARRIED.

Miss Flo Harris Becomes a Bride After Long Series of Troubles and Obstacles.

It's all off with the rejected lovers of Miss Flo Harris. She was married yesterday.

While her five rejected swains prowled around the house and scared her mother-in-law-elect—designing to kidnap her ere she could become a wife, Miss Flo slipped away in the night.

A dispatch to The Times from San Bernardino last night announced that Flo and Cleveland Rey German, both aged 22, were married there yesterday by Rev. James Crutchfield, Methodist Church South.

Sympathies of all inquiring friends are asked for "Charley" who wept on the stairs when he learned Flo was another's; for "Will," who raised such a rough house that five policemen had to be called down to Crocker street to assuage his grief and for those other sundry sufferers from the cruelty of Miss Flo.

TUPPER FORCED OUT OF COMPANY, HIS WIFE SUES HIM FOR DIVORCE.

High-Flying Head of the Pacific Conservative Life Resigns Under a Cloud—Another Story of Wine, Woman and Song, and of Jealous Husbands.

INSURANCE revelations have broken loose in Los Angeles. Yesterday afternoon Wilbur S. Tupper, the president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co. (formerly the Conservative Life Insurance Co.), was forced to resign by pressure arising from reports of scandalous behavior brought to the attention of the directors. Officers of the company state that there is no financial irregularity. Mrs. Tupper has begun divorce proceedings against her husband, who has gone to Chicago with the intention of not returning to this city. Another divorce case is developing from a jealous husband's suspicions of the deposed president. Tupper says he voluntarily resigns for personal reasons, and that the reports of his escapades are untrue. The company makes a fine business showing.

MRS. WILBUR S. TUPPER.

Compelled to resign yesterday from the presidency of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company.

His moral fitness for such a position called into question by the directors.

His income of more than $12,000 a year cut to nothing.

At least two jealous husbands threatening his life.

George I. Cochran

Wilbur S. Tupper.

The upper picture is that of the Vice President of the Pacific Conservative Life Insurance Co., George I. Cochran, who is now in command. Below is a photograph of former President Tupper, who resigned yesterday. Cochran may succeed Tupper as President.

Named as the cause of separation of one husband and wife.

About to be sued for divorce by his own wife.

Deprived—and perhaps this is worst of all—of his private lackey and his daily boutonniere.

And heaven knows what else—

These are some of the very recent "downs" in the career of the exquisite and dashing Los Angeles financier, Wilbur S. Tupper.

The climax was written in plain letters yesterday, when the directors of the Pacific Mutual Insurance Company "accepted" his resignation as president of that company.

Tupper has avoided the day of wrath and is in Chicago. It is not likely that these parts will ever see him more.

He was met in Chicago a week ago and a "resignation" was wrung from him by George I. Cochran, vice-president of the insurance company.

Mr. Cochran arrived in Los Angeles yesterday and lost not a minute in presenting this "resignation" — as though it were a matter of great relief to the company.

It is known that at least two divorce suits have been in waiting for this action—delayed until this directors' meeting of yesterday could take place. Both suits were postponed at the urgent request of directors.

They wanted the first whack at Tupper.

One delayed divorce is that of Tupper's wife, who claims she has suffered many wrongs.

The other is a divorce libel threatened by C. C. Craig, the assistant general manager of the Home Telephone Company. Singularly enough, Craig, although involved only in a collateral way with Tupper's downfall, is the immediate cause thereof.

The Craig affair was the straw that broke the camel's back.

Frantic at the attentions which he thought had been forced upon his young wife, Craig is quoted as having threatened to kill Tupper; to have refused to do business with any corporation which Tupper headed.

This having come to the ears of the directors, together with the evident purpose of Mr. Craig to name Tupper in a divorce suit, some of the officials of the company asked Craig to postpone action long enough to give them an opportunity to oust their president.

And they did it yesterday.

TUPPER'S SUCCESSES.

The action of the directors will make a sensation both in financial and society circles of this city. Tupper has been one of the highest salaried and best known men in the business life of Los Angeles. He gained fame as the most brilliant and successful insurance man on the Coast.

In society he rolled and rollicked high.

Although he had an income of close to $2000 a month, Tupper has little to show for it today, his only resources being real estate practically presented to him by influential friends.

The details of his busy life in burning this money, as he merrily sped along, may be imagined.

Upon his elevation to the head of the insurance company after the death of Frederick H. Rindge, Tupper began to cut a wide swath. In his desire to be an elegant young man, he became a mark for criticism.

He had his private automobile, clothes of almost untold elegance and the amazing "incidental expenses."

A fastidious lackey was kept in readiness at his office, whose duty was to meet Mr. Tupper on his arrival each morning and impressively pin a slight spray of flowers to his buttonhole.

In his daily luncheons he was prodigal, and he was sumptuous in his entertainments.

He seemed to be proud of the fact that ladies other than his wife were duly impressed with his charms.

With his high-power automobile and a hat full of coin, he started out to make an impression; and he made the impression.

His name has been mentioned in connection with many women.

In one case it is a certainty that his automobile rides, suppers, flowers and other delicate attentions showered upon the young wife of a professional man of this city caused a separation, a divorce being narrowly averted.

THE CRAIGS.

In the case of the Craigs, his attentions upon Mrs. Craig wrecked the happiness of two promising people. It is alleged that by the use of money he placed young Mrs. Craig in an unfortunate—although innocent—position.

Craig is among the able young business men of this city. In five years he has risen through his own efforts from the position of solicitor of the Sunset Telephone Co. at $50 a month, to that of assistant general manager of the Home Telephone Co.

Mrs. Craig is a beautiful Southern girl. In the days before prosperity came to them, she began planning houses in a small way for her friends; at last she worked up a profitable business as an architect.

Meeting Tupper at Idyllwild, Mrs. Craig was employed by him to design the interior fittings of his handsome office.

He managed to find many occasions for consultations with his fair architect—to the distress of the young husband.

Although Mr. Craig now denies it, he has threatened to kill Tupper. Doubtless an idle threat. That he consulted an attorney with the intention of bringing a divorce, and that he and his wife are now living apart, is admitted.

It is also known that he was earnestly requested by the directors of the Pacific Mutual Company to withhold action until Tupper could be scalped.

One other husband is camping on Tupper's trail.

The crash seems to have come when some agent of the Pacific Mutual Life solicited Craig's life insurance. As a man of frankness, he told them candidly that he did not care to do business with any company of which Tupper was head, and told why.

After this, the hurried slide for Tupper.

He went East a few weeks ago on business of some sort for the company. Mr. Cochran followed him. They met in Chicago. It is not denied that Tupper's resignation was demanded.

Coming home, Cochran hurried from the train to a directors' meeting yesterday afternoon.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

"Mr. George I. Cochran, first vice-president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, returned from his vacation about 4 p.m. today, and at a meeting of the board of directors of said company, held this afternoon, Mr. Cochran presented the resignation of Mr. Tupper, both as president and a director in the company.

"The resignation of Mr. Tupper, both as president and a director, was accepted, and Mr. Isaac Milbank, a capitalist, formerly of New York and now residing in Los Angeles, and a substantial stockholder in the company, is elected director in Mr. Tupper's place.

"The reasons for Mr. Tupper's resignation are purely personal, affecting himself only, as set forth in his written resignation, which is as follows:

"'To the Board of Directors, the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California.

'Dear Sirs: I hereby resign as a director and as president of the company. My reasons for so doing are purely personal, there always having been the utmost of harmony in the business matters of the company.

'I wish to thank the members of the board, each and all, for uniform co-operation and support. Whatever of good I have been able to do for the company I hope may be perpetuated, and that any mistakes may be corrected by the new administration.

'Very respectfully,

[Signed] 'WILBUR S. TUPPER.'

'June 22, 1906.'"

WHO FOR PRESIDENT.

Further than the above, the officers of the company refuse to speak definitely for publication. Asked who would probably succeed Tupper as president of the company, they said that his logical successor is Vice-President Cochran, but he has not determined that he would accept the position if tendered. It is quite likely that he will be the man. Tupper, whose great ability is conceded, was the real organizer of the original company (the Conservative Life)—the insurance expert of the board, Mr. Rindge not being a practical insurance man.

Said one of the directors with great positiveness: "Mr. Tupper could not touch any of our funds outside of his salary and expense account. He has not involved the company financially in any way."

MRS. CLAUDE C. CRAIG, whose husband made complaints to representatives of Tupper's company.

WHAT NEXT?

No one seems to know what Tupper will do now except that he is trying to connect with some financial enterprise. It is improbable that he will ever return to this city.

A divorce suit against him is certain. Out of consideration for the children, it will probably be brought on mild and enigmatical grounds.

Friends of the Tuppers hope to be able to save something for Mrs. Tupper out of the wreck. Tupper is said to have consumed his large salary at the rate of a blast furnace and to have little to show for it except real estate practically given to him.

MRS. TUPPER'S CASE.

A representative of Mrs. Tupper, who was too ill to be seen, made the following statement for her yesterday:

"Mrs. Tupper is trying now to arrange some sort of settlement of the property interests preliminary to the bringing of a divorce suit.

"Out of consideration for the children, the grounds will probably not be sensational. There are, unfortunately, plenty of grounds upon which the divorce suit might be brought. One of the least sensational of these will probably be selected.

"Mrs. Tupper is almost a wreck as a result of all this trouble. It is doubtful if much will be left for her financially.

"Although there has been gossip concerning him, there will probably be no other women mentioned in the divorce case.

"The children are 11 and 13 years old and are sweet and winning. Mrs. Tupper has been a very unhappy woman since her husband's alarming prosperity."

THE CRAIGS' HOME.

Pounding away with a hammer in what is to be the daintiest little architect's office in Los Angeles, Mrs. Craig was found yesterday afternoon by a Times reporter. She was happy in the work, saying: "I direct it all when the workmen are here and still it does not grow fast enough so I work myself after they are gone."

At mention of the connection of her

LARGEST RUN IN AMERICA.

Auto Endurance Contestants Ready for Kite Trip.

Entry List Closes With Over One Hundred Names.

All Arrangements Made for Big Event Tomorrow.

The run around the Kite has more entrants than any other American competiton ever had, 110 in all.

Four hundred and sixty persons will ride in the cars, and counting officials, over 500 will take part in the run.

Thirty-three different makes of cars are represented.

The cars represent an investment of $200,000.

They will burn $500 worth of gasoline on the trip.

The first car will be forty miles ahead of the last, and it will take more than two hours for the string to pass a given point.

The cars all together could furnish about 2350 horse-power.

Well over a hundred automobiles will start tomorrow in the biggest endurance run ever held in this country. The run around the Kite, that sprang into being in ten days, has assumed proportions that astonish. No event in this country has had so many participants, and in Europe only the classic Herkomer tour boasts a greater number.

When the lists closed at 12 o'clock yesterday, 110 entries had been made. When the clock struck the lists closed, and nearly twenty cars, only a few minutes to an hour late, were refused a place. There were the usual bunch of late ones. In the last half hour twenty-six entries were made. Men tried to get their cars in by telephoning their entries; when they found it was necessary to appear with the blank filled out and the money in hand, they broke the speed limit to get to the office in time. One man sailed down the street like a coyote, stopped up with all his brakes squealing, slammed open the door and fell across the desk. He couldn't speak, but he shoved the blank and the money into Shettler's hand. He had beaten the clock just three seconds.

Of the makes represented in Los Angeles, thirty-three will be in the run. The Tourist leads with the greatest number of individual cars, having eighteen entries. The Reo comes next with fifteen, and they were all in the first day the lists were open. Third place goes to the Buick with nine, and the Rambler and the Cadillac are tied for the next honors with eight apiece.

The cars represent an investment of $200,000. Twenty of them are in class A, costing at the factory over $2501; twenty-six are in class B, costing $1501 to $2500; class C, for light touring cars costing $1500 and under, has forty-nine entrants; and there are fifteen in class D, the runabouts.

The combined horse-power of all the bunch is 2338—enough to negotiate the steepest hill from Hackensack to here. Those engines will add about $500 to the Standard Oil's income in the two days. The amount of hot air to be used has not yet been calculated, but it is supposed that properly applied it would dry up the Owens River.

When the last car is started, the first will be nearly forty miles on its way. There will be a continuous string of automobiles through the fairest land in the Southwest, from Los Angeles to Pomona. Each car will be about a quarter of a mile from its neighbors. People watching the run will see a continuous procession of machines passing for two hours.

How many will see the run no one can guess. In the cars there will be 460 persons—together with the officials there will be over five hundred participants in the run.

HOW THEY START.

The run will start from the corner of Main and Seventeenth streets at exactly 7 o'clock tomorrow morning. The first car will be sent away at 7:01; the second at 7:02; the third at 7:03; and so on. Car No. 60 will start at 8 o'clock; No. 61 at 8:01; No. 62 at 8:02; and so on. Each driver can figure from the official number assigned to him at what time he starts.

He must be at the starting point at least thirty minutes before the time of starting, to allow the car to be weighed and inspected. The observer that every entrant must furnish must be on hand at the same time. He will then be assigned to another car.

Every contestant is cautioned to read the rules of the contest very carefully. Copies of them can be had by applying at No. 633 South Grand avenue. In addition special attention is called to the following points:

No car will be allowed to carry dead weight in place of passengers. If any car is found to be weighted down in order to assist in the gasoline consumption competition, which is to be figured on the basis of gasoline used per pound of weight carried, such car will be disqualified.

No "scorching" will be allowed, and any one attempting it will be heavily penalized.

Each contestant is asked to carry enough cylinder oil for the entire trip, and not depend on getting a supply at Riverside. Gasoline may be taken on there, but nowhere else.

On the return to Los Angeles the second day, the cars will return to Main and Seventeenth streets, where they will be inspected by J. H. Scott, E. M. Clark, E. Russell and M. Keller.

W. D. Tubbs and an assistant will keep the control at Pomona; W. F. Stutt and an assistant at Redlands; and C. Y. Martin at Santa Ana.

ASSIGNMENT OF CUPS.

At the last meeting of the dealers, the cups were assigned as follows:

L. T. Shettler trophy for class A.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Fire insurance underwriters are scrutinizing carefully a peculiar section of the new building ordinance, which permits wood construction inside a portion of the fire limits.

Property owners on Wilshire boulevard protested to the Board of Public Works yesterday against granting to Contractor Stansbury any further time for improving that thoroughfare.

Mayor McAleer has failed to effect a compromise with the Southern Pacific Company for the abandonment of a portion of East Fifth street, opposite the Arcade Depot. He will probably veto the ordinance of abandonment passed a week ago by the Council.

A. P. Welcome is suing the Abbot Kinney Co. for a large amount as damages for being deprived of a concession that he claims he obtained, and to work which he went to large expense.

Miss Birdie Harris, whose uncle is chief of the Cherokee nation, was yesterday committed to the State Hospital at Patton. She was examined some months ago, but was discharged. Since then she has become more acutely insane.

AT THE CITY HALL.

SUSPECT BUG IN BUILDING LAW.

PECULIAR PROVISION FAVORS EIGHTH WARD.

Permits Wood Construction in Portion of Fire Limits East of Alameda Street — Board of Public Works Declines to Father the Amendment.

Representatives of some of the big fire-insurance companies are scrutinizing with extreme care a peculiar clause in our new building law, the ordinance heralded as a model for other municipalities to follow.

They are seeking to discover how much the fire risk east of Main street has been impaired by the following section:

"No building shall be erected within the fire limits of the city of Los Angeles unless the building shall conform in all respects to the requirements of the ordinance for a building of either class "A," class "B" or class "C" as the same are hereafter described, provided, however, that in the portion of the fire limits of the city of Los Angeles lying easterly of Alameda street buildings to be used for blacksmith shops, warehouses, stables or barns may be constructed of corrugated iron upon wood frame; said building so erected and constructed shall be used only as herein specified and for no other purpose."

Fire Inspector Backus admits that under this section manufacturing plants could be established. A permit for a blacksmith shop covers at least twenty different kinds of manufacturing establishments.

The section is a marked departure from anything in the building ordinance which it repealed. In the old ordinance there were no discriminating sections within the fire limits. All localities were on the same basis.

The fire-insurance companies worked with the city officials in preparing this ordinance. F. M. Porter, chief inspector of the Board of Fire Inspectors of the Pacific, stayed in Los Angeles five months, helping to draft the new regulations. But the section permitting corrugated-iron buildings on a wood frame was not introduced until Mr. Porter took his departure.

The section permits this class of construction in all the territory bounded by Second street, Alameda street, Macy street and the Los Angeles River. It was on the insistence of the Board of Fire Underwriters that the fire limits were extended so as to embrace this territory, but the board was not consulted about this peculiar section.

The question now under consideration by the insurance men is whether this will increase the fire risk on the wholesale district west of Alameda street. While professing to be more stringent than its predecessor, the new ordinance breaks down some of the barriers that formerly guarded the wholesale section.

This discrimination in favor of corrugated-iron buildings is regarded by many as unfortunate; just now the fire underwriters are working on a new classification of fire rates for Los Angeles.

Building Inspector Backus said yesterday afternoon that he does not believe that the fire risk east of Main street is materially affected by the corrugated-iron clause. "The section is far enough removed from the immediate business center that there is practically no reason to class it as a conflagration breeder," he said. "At first the amendment did not meet with much favor, but after we looked at the class of building east of Alameda street, and took into consideration the cost of building construction in the three fire-limit classes, we concluded that it could do little harm, very likely none at all."

Mr. Backus said that the suggestion came to the Building Commission from the Board of Public Works; but President Anderson and Commissioner Edwards say that this is a mistake.

"The board never acted officially on that question," said President Anderson. "Mr. Backus did mention the matter before the board, but we took no action. Several weeks ago some property owners in the district came to the board and complained about the stringency of the old ordinance; they said it worked a hardship on them. At that time the board advised that it was powerless to extend them any relief, telling them that the fire limits are regulated by ordinance. The board declined to make a recommendation to the chief inspector of buildings in favor of corrugated iron."

"The board was not consulted in relation to the building ordinance; it was not presented to us for our approval before adoption. If the section providing for wood and corrugated iron construction is too sweeping it must be restricted. Certainly the board does not favor anything that would tend to increase the fire risk in the wholesale district."

Fire Chief Lips and Building Inspector Backus voted to place the corrugated-iron clause in the ordinance. Mr. Backus says that there was no objection when it was presented to the commission, but we understand," he insists, "that it came with the recommendation of the Board of Public Works."

The district affected lies in the flats near the river. Mr. Backus holds that to enforce the building restrictions of the fire limits would mean to put a stop to all building activity there. He says it would cause scores of lots to lie unimproved; that the owners could not realize 4 per cent. on their investment if compelled to erect buildings of one of the three classes provided by the ordinance.

Superintendent Morrow of the Board of Fire Underwriters declines to discuss the peculiar section, but at the City Hall the prevalent opinion is that the underwriters will send a communication to the Council or to the Fire Board formally protesting against two classifications inside the fire limits.

Insurance men say that the companies would rather have the district outside the fire limits entirely than inside with the corrugated iron attachment. They say that the present classification really means three districts—fire, semi-fire and not fire.

TOO MANY EXTENSIONS.

WEST-END PROTESTS.

Property owners on Wilshire boulevard went before the Board of Public Works yesterday afternoon to protest against the repeated delays in the improvement of their thoroughfare. Beside Grading Contractor Stansbury they think that the tortoise of ancient fable was a very whirlwind for speed.

Stansbury received the contract for improving about twelve blocks of Wilshire boulevard last October. Then the land owners said that they wanted the work rushed. The time set for completion was 120 days. On February 2 Stansbury received an extension of ninety days. The protestants allege that Stansbury had not commenced work when this extension was granted.

On May 14 Stansbury received a second extension, this time for sixty days. Half the time has expired and the property owners allege that it will be impossible to complete the work with his present force before the time limit expires again.

They would like to see the grading contractor cinched for his sloth. If no further extensions should be granted, and the work should not be completed by July 14, Stansbury could not receive any pay for the work already done.

On July 16 the board, through its secretary, sent to Stansbury the following communication:

I am instructed by the Board to notify you that they have received a vigorous protest against your delay in the matter of the grading of Wilshire Boulevard, for which improvement, you have a contract.

This protest represents upwards of three-fourths of the frontage on the street, and the Board desire to state emphatically that this work must be prosecuted vigorously, as they are unable to satisfy the property owners that the long delay has been necessary.

When the protest was made yesterday members of the board smiled significantly, but took no action. They did not even suggest to Secretary Ferris to send another letter.

But Contractor Stansbury is likely to receive the icy mitt when he asks the board to hand him another extension of time on Wilshire boulevard.

FORD WILL STAY.

SECOND PETITION NOT GOOD.

Councilman Ford will not be recalled. Again the petition to knock him out of office has fallen flat, and this time is deader 'n a door-nail. When the first petition was handed in, it was found to be short of the required number of names. Then another was tried. It came back yesterday.

When examined, it was found that the last petition contained but seventy good names. Fifteen were not acceptable, and five were duplicated. In other words, the petition was four names shy.

The law makes no provision for a third petition, so the attempted "recall" has gone a-glimmering.

VETO IN WAITING.

COMPROMISE UNLIKELY.

"Jedge" McKinley has apparently failed in his attempts to win Mayor McAleer over to the side of the Southern Pacific Company in the controversy over the abandonment of a portion of East Fifth street.

The Mayor has practically agreed to sign the ordinance of vacation if the railroad company will sign an agreement to permit the use of twelve and one-half feet frontage of its property east of Central avenue for street purposes.

The Mayor has given the railroad company until Saturday morning to make up its mind about signing this agreement. If it fails to do so, a veto message will follow.

At the City Hall it is pretty generally understood that the Southern Pacific will decline to sign. The ordinance went through the Council by a unanimous vote, and it will require but seven of the nine votes to pass it over the Mayor's veto.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

VENICE MIDWAY IS IN DISPUTE.

WELCOME CLAIMS BIG DAMAGES OF KINNEY COMPANY.

Concession for Livery and Auto Garage Alleged to Have Been Sidetracked for the Midway—Judge Noyes Takes in the Sights and Arguments Will Now Follow.

Abbot Kinney thought that a "Midway" with its diversified and Oriental attractions would tickle the fancy of visitors to Venice, and incidentally cause them to loosen their purse strings, far in excess of a livery stable and an auto garage, and so he decided for the "Midway."

But A. P. Welcome claims that when the Abbot Kinney Company established the "Midway," and the Princess Rajah and Ki-Ki were invited to spiel it did so over the rights he (Welcome) had obtained, and thereupon he began suit to recover.

And it is no small sum that Welcome is suing for. The case has been before Judge Noyes of Riverside, who is sitting in Judge York's court, for two days, and will come up for argument on Saturday. Welcome is claiming $20,100 as special damages and $200,000 as general damages, and if he wins out with anything like the amount claimed, he will be in luck.

In June of last year Welcome entered into a contract with the Kinney Company for a concession for a livery business and an auto garage to be established on ground now embraced within the celebrated "Midway." Believing that he had the concession cinched he went ahead and purchased five forge outfits, a trip hammer, and the equipment of a machine shop. Horses, burros, and carriages—including a tallyho—were obtained, and all the appurtenances of a garage for automobiles were also obtained in readiness for the opening season. But after all the preparation the contract had holes knocked in it, and Welcome was left out in the cold.

Five ex-employés of the Kinney Company—including a superintendent of construction—testified for the plaintiff as to the terms of the contract. The defense, however, was to the effect that Welcome had plans prepared for buildings on such an exaggerated scale that the management turned them down. The company did not feel like investing so much in a mere livery business, and that the contract came to be abrogated in that way.

Judge Noyes was desirous of seeing just where it was that the business was to be carried on and announced his desire in open court. W. R. Wheat came forward and volunteered his assistance as guide and cicerone to the court, but Attorney Danford, representing the plaintiff, sharply interposed and inquired whether Mr. Wheat was not connected with the Abbot Kinney Company.

Mr. Wheat said that he had been secretary of the company but that at present he is not identified with the company in any capacity. Thereupon Mr. Danford could do no less than withdraw his objections.

Judge Noyes went to Venice on Monday night and took in the sights. What he saw and what he did there he has of course not said, but he went to see the Midway and presumably he saw it. Yesterday the defense in the case closed and on Saturday the attorneys will unlimber their batteries of talk and argue the case, after which it will be submitted.

SUMMERLAND FREE.

COUNCILMAN GETS A DIVORCE.

Theodore Summerland, the City Councilman, was freed from his matrimonial shackles by Judge Wilbur yesterday, on the ground of his wife's desertion.

Since 1903 husband and wife have remained apart, and the story of the separation was destitute of interesting features. They were married in this city in 1886 and lived together without any break until Mrs. Summerland removed to San Francisco, and announced her intention never to return. At rare intervals the Councilman heard from his wife by letter or telegraph, but he was never fortunate enough to meet her after her departure.

On the witness stand Mr. Summerland stated that he went to San Francisco in the latter part of last year for the purpose of discussing things with his wife, and an interview was arranged through mutual friends. But Mrs. Summerland failed to keep her appointment. Again in February last the same thing happened again, and so the past was considered a closed book by the husband.

But Mrs. Summerland was anxious before she left in 1903 to have some one in the home whom she knew, and Mrs. Lydia McLachian yesterday testified that she and her husband had occupied the home place for eighteen months. Mr. Summerland continued to live in the house.

Mrs. Emily French told of a call made upon her by Mrs. Summerland while she was visiting in San Francisco, when she learned from her guest that she never intended to return to her husband or to Los Angeles.

Judge Wilbur granted the decree and half of the community property is to go to the wife. It was stated, however, that it had been intended by Mr. Summerland to convey to his wife much more than the half of the community interest, which is not large, however.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

COLLISION DID IT. L. C. Luke is suing the Los Angeles Railway Company for $15,000, as damages for injuries alleged to have been suffered in a collision between a car in which the plaintiff was a passenger and another car at Twelfth and Main streets. The collision took place on May 27, and it is claimed that the plaintiff had his spine injured besides suffering otherwise.

SENT TO PATTON. Miss Birdie Harris, the daughter of a man important in the Cherokee Nation, and who was before the court on the insanity charge some time ago, when she was discharged, was again before the insanity commission yesterday. The young woman was arrested while wandering aimlessly about the streets. She has on three occasions been taken to the Receiving Hospital, and yesterday Judge Gibbs ordered her committed to the State Hospital at Patton. The girl is suffering from acute mania.

THE ZELLA DIVORCE. Mrs. Jennie Zella was yesterday granted a divorce from John Zella by Judge Conrey, on the ground of desertion. The parties were married at Chicago in 1888, and in 1901 the husband abandoned his wife at Sioux Falls. Mrs. Zella is a Genoese of the blond type, while her husband was born in Pennsylvania of Italian parents.

OUT ON PAROLE. Wellington Zimmerman, a boy of 16, was released on probation by Judge Smith, after the lad had pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary. He broke into the store of Broome & Lane, where he occupied a privileged position as a general utility boy, without stated wage. The father stated that his son was not bright and had suffered from St. Vitus dance until quite recently. Though not a bad boy, he is easily led astray, but Mr. Zimmerman said that he thought the lad had received a sharp lesson that would live in his memory.

LEG WAS BROKEN. Cuno G. Warner has begun suit against the Los Angeles Railway Company to recover $15,340 as damages, and for money expended. On May 7 the plaintiff was crossing at West Ninth street and Valencia street, and had cleared the track all but his left leg. But the car hit that leg and shattered it, and the claim is that the car was running at such a great speed that Warner misjudged his ability to clear the track in time.

SEEK PRIVILEGES.

Congress to Be Asked to Grant Fruit Growers Same Right as Stockmen to Accompany Shipments.

The Chamber of Commerce yesterday resolved to urge Congress to insert in the rate bill now pending a clause allowing fruit shippers the same privileges for transportation for themselves or messengers to accompany fruit shipments as those given to stockmen, as this personal care is of utmost importance to fruit growers.

It was also ordered that telegrams be forwarded to the Senators and Representatives from California asking them to oppose the proposed exemption of meat inspectors from the operation of the Civil Service law.

The following were elected to membership: Harry Fryman, Hotel Hayward; Anthony Schwamm, wholesale cigars, and A. McNally, general contractor.

Consumption Can Be Cured

When you have learned the advantages of Dr. Preston's Antitoxine treatment for Tuberculosis over all other treatments for that disease, you will censure yourself for not giving it a trial, and saving the life of your friend. The Antitoxine treatment for the cure of disease caused by germs is the only reasonable method. Drugs never did and never will cure Consumption.

MUST GO NORTH TO BE TRIED.

DEFENDANTS IN LAND FRAUD CASES ARE HELD.

United States Commissioner Decides That the Case of the Government Is Such as to Demand an Adequate Defense Before the Court in which Proceedings Originated.

William Van Dyke, United States Commissioner, is prepared to commit David M. Goodwin, A. H. Hedderly, W. D. Gould, George L. Stearns, Richard Hynes, Lee R. Myers, Warren Gillelen and R. W. Kinney of Los Angeles, for trial against whom an indictment was returned by the United States grand jury in Oregon, charging them with having participated in alleged land frauds. The action of the commissioner probably will result in compelling the defendants to go to Oregon and there defend themselves in the United States District Court. There is a possibility that they will take other action to prevent being sent north, but the decision rendered yesterday is considered a serious blow to their cause.

Commissioner Van Dyke yesterday told the attorneys for the Angelenos concerned in their case that he would issue the commitment this morning for their clients.

Yesterday the preliminary hearing before Commissioner Van Dyke was concluded. The defendants were denied an opportunity to present evidence.

A surprise was sprung shortly before noon when Oscar Lawler, United States Attorney for the Southern District of California, presented a copy of the indictment as the only evidence and suddenly rested the case for the government.

The attorneys for the defendants were taken unawares and their hurried requests to have their clients confronted with witnesses were denied.

ONE SWIFT MESSENGER.

Collides With a Slow Woman, and the Latter Gets the Worst of It. Scared by His Wheel.

Mrs. Elias, who lives at No. 525 Winston street, was about noon yesterday knocked down and run over by a motorcycle-messenger named Frank Martin, opposite the Bullard block, on Spring street, between Court and Market streets.

Witnesses to the accident claim that Mrs. Elias, attempted to cross the street and that, observing the approach of the messenger on a motorcycle, she stepped back, but evidently became confused and again walked out into the street, just in time to be knocked down and run squarely over by the messenger. The latter, according to witnesses, was exceeding the speed limit, and struck the woman with full force.

She was taken to her home in a cab, where examinations showed that her injuries were slight. Considering that she had but a bad fright and a few bruises about the face and right knee, her escape was fortunate.

SQUEEZED BY CARS.

Richard A. Aubrey of No. 803 East Fifth street was caught between two cars at the corner of Third and Main streets last evening at 7 o'clock and severely squeezed. He was crossing the street when two cars of the Los Angeles Interurban Company approached from opposite directions on Third street. He could not dodge so attempted to stand between the tracks and allow one car to pass on each side of him. At this point the tracks are so close together that there is not room for a person to stand between the cars when they pass and Aubrey was severely crushed, but an examination at the Receiving Hospital convinced the police surgeons that he was not seriously injured and will be as well as ever in a few days.

IT IS really remarkable what an impression is made, favorable or otherwise, by the hat a man wears. No one can afford to wear a shabby, mean hat; at the same time $5 spent for a hat is wasted if the hat is not adapted to the person wearing it.

Examine our line of straw hats. They fit well and look well. Prices from $1 to $5.

NEW STRENGTH FOR LOOLOOS.

DILLON COMING HOME WITH A WINNING TEAM.

No Change in Local Situation so Long as Lehigh Demands Heavy Rental—Gill Mead Must Accept the Terms or Not Play Ball—No New Park Until Next Season.

Capt. Dillon of the Looloos is looking around for another catcher, not that Eager is not holding his own, but to give him a rest and help win games when the team returns home. Dillon has in view the stimulating of interest when the Orphans again face a crowd of Angeleños, and the increased attendance in the North has given the team a wonderful boost.

The team has fully recovered from its crippled state and now works together as a unit. The prospect of being royally received when it reaches home ground has had the effect of spurring them on to a winning streak and big things are looked for next week.

As yet nothing has come of the conference between Manager Gill Mead and the owners of Chutes Park, and the team will be compelled to dig up that 20 per cent. of the gross receipts until something is done. Lehigh realizes the fact that there is little prospect of a new ball park being erected this season and is determined to get as much out of h: grounds as possible and make hay while the sun shines. This attitude of the management of the park causes McCarey and Jeffries to hold off from accepting the franchise, and they will not touch it until there is prospect of getting away from Lehigh.

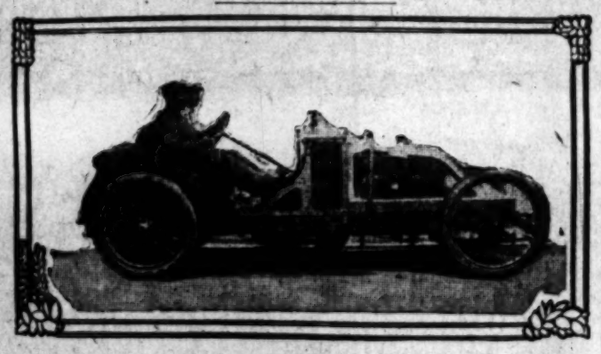
SZISZ ON RENAULT WINS GRAND PRIX.



Sziez, winner of the Grand Prize, in the 110-horse-power wire-wheeled Renault racer.

LEMANS (France) June 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sziez, on the 110-horse-power Renault automobile, won the Grand Prix race over the Sarthe circuit. His time for the two days of 1200 kilometers was 12 h., 14 m., 7 s. His average the first day was 107, the second day ninety-five and the general average 101 kilometers (about sixty-three miles,) an hour. Eleven of the thirty-two contestants finished in the race. The order of finish for the first three contestants: Renault, Sziez, 12:14:07; Fiat, Nazzaro, 12:45:25; Clement-Bayard, Clement, 12:49:46.

Today's race, in many respects, was a repetition of yesterday, the features being great heat, perspiring crowds and bursting tires. Sziez looked like the winner from the start, his machine running with great regularity. He drove with nerve that won the admiration of the spectators, passing the time-keepers at 145 kilometers per hour. His arrival was thrilling.

When he left the depot for the last round, every one knew that unless overtaken by misfortune he must win. He was looked for with intense eagerness, and when at last he appeared above the hill summit in the distance, a great roar burst out from the assembled thousands. His arrival before the tribune, after storing his automobile, was met with renewed enthusiasm. Louis Renault presented him to M. Barthou, Minister of Public Works, and the ceremony concluded with a speech on the subject of French victory by government representatives.

THIRD YACHT REACHES PORT.

LA PALOMA COMES IN FILLED WITH WATER.

Defective Chronometer Causes the Hawaiian Cup Defender to Miss Island, and Lose Second Place in Trans-Pacific Race—Trip Across Was One of Hazard.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HONOLULU, June 27.—La Paloma, the Hawaiian entry in the ocean yacht race, arrived here this morning. She was erroneously reported last night as having been sighted, and some members of the reception committee and other yachtsmen were at sea for hours, remaining out until 2 o'clock this morning without finding her.

La Paloma sailed a distance of 2447 miles. Owing, it is believed, to a defect in her chronometer, she missed the island yesterday, when she should have arrived. Had she done so, she would have won second place, as she had a large time allowance. After the second day at sea the crew was kept almost constantly at work bailing out the little vessel. Attempts to use the pumps proved futile. The cabin was flooded most of the time. The small size of the yacht made the trip one of considerable hazard.

The times of the competing yachts were as follows:

Lurline, 12 days, 7 hours, 30 minutes.

Anemone, 14 days and 50 minutes.

La Paloma, 15 days, 11 hours, 20 minutes.

In Last Series Seals Show Great Superiority Both in Fielding, Batting and Perfect Playing.

San Francisco came out with flying colors in her series with Portland, having established a percentage of .277 to .230. They secured a total of 38 runs as against 32 for Portland, and secured 62 hits out of 222 times at bat. Portland took 43 hits out of 167 times at bat. Of San Francisco's hits, two were good for three bases and six were two-baggers. Portland secured two triples and three doubles. Twenty-eight struck out for 'Frisco and 20 secured passes. Seventeen fanned for Portland and 18 walked. San Francisco had 153 put-outs, and Portland 162. San Francisco had 70 assists and 13 errors; Portland 82 assists and 30 errors, giving San Francisco a fielding percentage of .944 and Portland .889.

RING MADE SMALLER.

Arena in Which Attell-Neil Fight Will Be Pulled Off Reduced in Size.

The Pacific Athletic Club has decided to cut down the size of its prize ring at Naud Junction, and before the Attell-Neil battle is put on two feet will have been clipped from the four sides of the roped arena. It has been remarked several times that the ring was the largest now in use in the country, and many boxing experts have advised a reduction. The ring is now twenty-four feet square, which agrees with Marquis of Queensbury rules. When it receives a trimming it will be twenty-two feet in the clear.

The change in the ring will cut no small figure in the coming battle between Attell and Neil, for the large inclosure is exactly to Abe's liking. He remarked after his battle with Kid Herman that the ring was made to order for him, and that no man living could catch him inside of it. With the reduction in space Attell will, in a measure, have to change in his style, for he will not have the territory to cover in getting away from the attacks of his opponent.

The change is very satisfactory to Frankie Neil, who likes a small enclosure. He is a fighter who wants to stand up close and mix things, and the closer he can get his man the more chance he has of winning.

BIG PRICE FOR COLT.

Half-Brother of High Ball, American Derby Winner, Bid in for Ten Thousand Dollars.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, June 27.—The half-brother to High Ball, winner of the American Derby in 1904, was sold at Sheepshead Bay today and brought $10,500. Sidney Paget was the buyer. He is a bay colt by Ben Strome-Stirnchinia. The other best sales were: Ch.c., by Star Shoot-Chicora, H. B. Duryea, $2600; b.c., by Sir Dixon-Rosebay, J. H. McCormick, $2100; b.f., by Ben Strome-Blue Jacket, P. J. Dwyer, $2100; b.c., by Star Shoot-Alpena, P. J. Dwyer, $2100; ch.f., by Ben Strome-Ban Amy, J. Haley, $2400.

NEW GYM FOR Y.M.C.A.

Old Natatorium on South Spring Street Will Be Fitted Up to Meet Present Needs.

The Y. M. C. A. has leased the old natatorium on South Spring street and the athletic branch of the institution will use it as a gymnasium.

For some time the directors of the association have been on the lookout for new quarters for the gymnasium, and the natatorium has been found to come nearer meeting every requirement than any other building available. The baths will be a great boon to the members, and arrangements have been made to keep them in good shape for the summer.

The building is 60x100 feet and the plunge is 30x60 feet. During the summer only sufficient apparatus to meet the needs of the members will be placed in the building, but as the weather grows cooler a temporary floor will be laid and the entire working equipment will be moved from the old gym on South Hill street.

It is the intention of the association to hold swimming contests, the plunge being of regulation size, permitting all records to stand.

"HERE HE COMES AGAIN."

Ah Wing Once More to Appear in the Roped Arena Here, This Time Against Bantam.

In the words of the original Ah Wing, the Scrapping Boxer from the Yang-tse Kiang, "Holee smokes, here he come 'gain."

Wing will be in the going about July 20, when "Tawm" McCarey will put on a few youngsters in another try-out. This time Wing will have somebody his size to go up against in young Meany, the amateur bantamweight champion. The white boy fights well in the 105-pound class, so Ah Wing will have the best of the heft proposition.

That Wing will "ketchum big house," can be gambled on, for Jim Jeffries never made the hit that almond-eyed chop-suey maker achieved on his last appearance. If there was a man in the house who did not applaud he was either asleep or had a penchant for being "agin" a chink on general principles.

Wing is now shaping his business at Sacramento so as to be able to make a trip East in vaudeville, having agreed with a local manager to play thespian for a season. Besides being a good scrapper the Chinaman can play rag-time on the piano and sing a comic ditty.

Slayer of Elliott Dead.

ELIZABETH (N. J.) June 27.—Jere Dunn, widely-known sporting man, died here today of cancer. Some twenty years ago he achieved considerable notoriety by killing Jim Elliott in Chicago. Elliott, who was a noted pugilist of that day, had a match on to fight John L. Sullivan when Dunn killed him. Dunn was acquitted on a plea of self-defense.

Canadians Show Good Form.

HENLEY, June 27.—Despite adverse winds the crew of the Argonaut Club of Toronto developed pace today rowing several spurts with thirty-eight strokes to the minute. It is the growing opinion of expert observers that at last the grand challenge cup is likely to leave England. The Canadians continue to make a splendid impression.

REASONABLE SPEED?

One Juryman Questions Meaning and Hangs the Jury, but Messenger Will Be Tried Again.

Stubbornness on the part of one juror in refusing to alter his decision with eleven votes against him, caused a hung jury yesterday in the case of Lewis Heimer of the Rapid Delivery Messenger Company, charged with violating the motorcycle ordinance.

Under Section 4 of Ordinance No. 9620, a violation occurs, "at any speed greater than is reasonable and proper having due regard for traffic." The defense attempted to prove that the speed of the young messenger's motorcycle was "reasonable and proper," because he was taking a bottle of medicine on a hurry-up call to the bedside of a dying woman named Mrs. Philips.

The prosecution flanked this evidence by proving that Heimer, notwithstanding the great urgency of the case, took time to fasten a tow-rope between his motorcycle and a bicycle ridden by a young friend, of 125 pounds burden and that he had towed his friend all the way home.

The jury was dismissed and the case will come up on July 2 for resetting.

NATIVE SONS COMING.

Delegates to the Grand Parlor Are to Make a Visit to Los Angeles Friday.

The delegates to the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West, who have been attending the convention of the organization in Ventura, have accepted an invitation from the Los Angeles branch to visit this city and will arrive here tomorrow morning.

The visitors will be taken upon a short tour of inspection of the city and its environs and tomorrow evening will attend a meeting in Eagles' Hall, No. 129 East Third street.

Over 600 "Sons" are expected to attend the assembly and the evening will be pleasantly spent in renewing old friendships and in discussing an excellent menu.

The delegates will visit Venice Saturday in honor of the Native Daughters, who hold their first annual outing at that place. Gov. Pardee and Mayor Schmitz have signified their intention to attend.

Frank Rafael Gets Licked.

VALLEJO, June 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank Rafael of San Francisco, Spider Kelly's chum, was defeated last night in eight rounds by Mike Ward, known as "Young Dempsey," from Peoria, Ill., at the Palm Athletic Club. Ward proved a surprise, and had Rafael in such distress that referee Al Neill did the right thing when he stopped the bout in the eighth round and gave Ward the decision.

Pasadena Challenges.

The challenge of the Pasadena Y.M.C.A. handball team to play the Los Angeles Athletic Club for the championship of Southern California will not be accepted by the local club unless the Pasadenans agree to make the championship an open one. This stand is taken on the presumption that a championship would not be valid unless all competitors were permitted to take part. If the Pasadenans desire this the big tournament will be put on.

Pen Points

If the Salton Sea continues to spread it will some day be known as the Salton Ocean.

Both the calendar and the weather indicate that the summer girl cannot be much longer delayed.

A dead man has made his reappearance in Iowa. He was probably called back to vote in the Cummins-Perkins political scrap.

Among those who were "shook out" of San Francisco, Pinhead McCarthy was, unfortunately for the city that is to be, not one.

Andrew Carnegie is about to purchase the ashes of Dante. But who, a thousand years from now, will buy the ashes of Andrew?

We need not fear attacks of dullness. Some one of the many Pittsburgh millionaires may usually be relied upon to furnish a sensation right along.

A woman, according to Rudyard Kipling, is only "a rag, a bone and a hank of hair," but she keeps the world turned upside down just the same.

It is seen that even in New York a man may stand a good chance to die with his boots on. The "wild and woolly West" can't claim a monopoly of the gun plays.

Let us not place the blame for this bad affair of Thaw and White on Evelyn Nesbit. She was young and pretty, therefore the prey of the gray wolves of the befouling city.

Mr. Bryan, with all his faults, is still a great optimist, but his past experience must have taught him to be suspicious of a "holler," no matter how vast its volume of sound may be.

If reports be true, that poor devil White who was killed by young Thaw might have been living today had he kept his mouth under control. And yet it will not prove a warning to others.

The boot and shoemakers' union appears to be rapidly disintegrating, the members having doubtless concluded that it is time they were able to call both their soles and their souls their own.

Young men who do not get on in the world as rapidly as they desire, complain that "there are too many old fellows in the way." Yea, verily, this is the goodly age of the old man who stays with the game.

A Pennsylvania woman, 90 years of age, recently wanted some cherries, and climbed a tree like a young girl to get them. Great time for old folks, this forepart of the twentieth century. Osler is an ass.

Young Thaw's lawyers will put in a plea of insanity in his behalf. But, as far as that's concerned, the whole world seems to be acting strangely. A few hangings, more or less, wouldn't make very much difference.

Uncle Joe Cannon does not seem to realize that it is absolutely necessary for a great many of the members of Congress to get home as soon as possible. Their fences have been blown down by the other fellow's winds.

The more the Nevadans ponder on the fact that Charlie Schwab occasionally makes a remark that isn't fit to print, the more they hark back to the good old days when they used to make United States Senators of men who were habituated to just such independence of speech.

"Seven cities fought for Homer dead through which the living Homer begged for bread." And now the ashes of the immortal Tuscan poet, Dante, are to be sold by an impecunious Italian duke to a Scotch ironmaster. Oh, ye gods and little fishes!

An effort is being made in the City of Mexico to abolish the "siesta" custom of closing the shops for awhile each day at the noon hour. It is a very ancient custom of the tropics and will be hard to put down, but this is a strenuous age and there is no telling what may happen, even in the hot spots.

In consoling itself upon its disappointment over the failure of Congress to adopt the sea-level type of canal at Panama, the New York Sun says that an earthquake will come along some day and sweep the lock canal into a sea-level arrangement, anyhow. The New York Sun may be given credit for knowing as much about when and where an earthquake will happen as anybody else does, which isn't much, indeed.

A Pennsylvania girl was engaged to a man for seven months, when the engagement was called off by mutual consent. She still contends, however, that she was put to certain inconveniences during the courtship and has brought suit against the man for the recovery of $20 in damages for the loss of her time and her chances to wed another. Perhaps the reason the defendant in the suit refuses to pay is that he feels his pride irreparably injured by the insinuation that he couldn't fool away more than $20 of the girl's time. She should have sued for more money

WAY CLEARED FOR WATER.

Right of way for the Owens River conduit is assured by the passage of the McLachlan bill through the House substantially in the form of Senator Flint's bill, which was passed by the Senate without question, quibble or opposition. The only obstruction met by the House bill was Representative Smith, who endeavored to serve certain power corporations of Los Angeles by injecting into the bill the preposterous proposition that the city should renounce its right to purchased water rights, and limit its use of water to "domestic" purposes.

These power companies and a few misguided citizens of Bishop have been behind that ridiculous "Smith compromise" from the inception of the project. If they could limit the city to 10,000 inches, the power developed from the water supply would not be a serious menace to the business of corporations having power to sell, and consolidation of city and county would be averted. But Smith, the Bishop kickers and the interfering power corporations were brought up with a round turn by President Roosevelt, who "coached" Secretary Hitchcock as to the facts and asked him to keep his hands off the affairs of Los Angeles.

It remains now only to complete the surveys, obtain the right of way by purchase of public lands, and submit plans of the Owens River project to a board of expert engineers. When the report of the expert board is made and final plans are approved, the citizens of Los Angeles will have the last "say," and upon their approval of an Owens River bond issue, the work of construction will be started.

There is no doubt as to the verdict of the people. Los Angeles must have water. The water indispensable to her growth and prosperity is in Owens Valley, and it can be brought to the city through a conduit that presents no engineering difficulties.

All the talk about "problems" confronting the engineers and the necessity for outside engineering assistance is blue bosh. As a matter of fact, William Mulholland is more competent to plan and carry out the work than any so-called "expert" in the country. But the Water Board and Engineer Mulholland do not desire to undertake the work until their plans have been passed upon by engineers of national reputation, and modified, if necessary, in accordance with their views. Consequently, experts will be consulted, and the construction work will wait upon their decision.

But Los Angeles has secured an ample supply of water in Owens Valley for domestic uses and for irrigation, and that water will be brought down to the city through a conduit of more than 10,000 inches capacity. We shall have both water and power.

SAN FRANCISCO REALTY TITLES.

It appears from a careful perusal of the entire act, passed at the recent extra session of the Legislature, governing the quieting of titles on real property, that, while somewhat general in its scope, it is really special in its application. Like all the enactments of the extra session, this is an emergency measure. It is only to apply in cases where public records in the office of a County Recorder have been lost or destroyed by "flood, fire, or earthquake." The impression had gone forth that the law would apply to defective titles regardless of the cause from which the defects arose, but being an emergency case, and confined in scope as above, it eliminates all interest in the act in all counties in the State excepting San Francisco.

Whether the act will be declared constitutional or not is open to question. If it should be held within the limits of the constitution, it is doubted by experts whether it will be effective or not. A similar enactment was tried in the State of Illinois after the great Chicago fire and proved utterly ineffective. In the case of San Francisco, the total of titles of which the records have been destroyed outnumbers those of Chicago probably not less than ten to one. If suits are brought to establish the title in each instance where the records are missing entirely or in part defective, the Superior Courts of the city and county of San Francisco would be able to attend to no other business for the next three years. The application of this new act is limited within itself to three years time. If all the branches of the Superior Court of the city and county of San Francisco should devote their entire time and attention to the settling of these titles, it is questionable whether the work could be done within the period of three years. However, the whole matter is one in which San Francisco, and San Francisco alone, is concerned at this time.

WHERE THE SUCTION DOESN'T DRAW.

The tide of Democratic popularity which two years ago washed William Jennings Bryan high and dry on the lonely sands of isolation along with the kelp and the shells and the beachcombers, has now, at this fateful hour, become refluent beyond a doubt. It is flowing back, running and rushing with a seething frenzy, ebbing with the roar of a thousand oceans and breaking upon the sounding boards of the vast and resonant deeps. And, in the midst of the suction, the smiling face of William J. shines like the phosphorescent radiance of the sea, illuminated by countless millions of infusorial animalculae.

With the running ebb, foaming irresistibly back from all the shores where the wreck and float of two great storms beached them, behold the flotsam and jetsam of the wide-flung Democracy riding again upon the billows. From Passamaquoddy, the singing Patapsco and down to the reaches of the yellow gulf the tide is drawing. The shores of the Pacific feel the undertow. It even clutches upon the brogans of Dick Croker as he wanders on the curragh of Kildare. Dave Francis is aware of the lure of it as he gazes upon the Father of Waters lapping the redolent wharves at St. Louis. Col. Henry Watterson has followed its lorelei siren song as it drags him over the falls of the Ohio at Louisville with the star-eyed goddess clutched within his arms. There is not a bay nor inlet between the two oceans, not a pond or puddle anywhere on the map but is splashing or bubbling or sneaking off seaward in the night to mingle with the great maelstrom that engulfs all former opposition.

Yet there is one stretch of wetness, after all, that appears to still remain steadfast against this mighty refluence. It is an inlet of the Atlantic lying southeast of Massachusetts, separated from Vineyard Sound by the Elizabeth Islands, and is known as Buzzard's Bay. There the suction doesn't seem to draw worth a hang. But the reason has been discovered. On the peaceful waters of Buzzard's Bay sits a lone fisherman, quietly cutting bait, and evidently oblivious to the ripping chorus of the Merry Men of the Seas. He is a big man, weighing many pounds. His weight is, indeed, so great that the waters upon which he sits can't move unless he gets off. And he won't get off. He is a bull whale and is used to bucking tides.

O Grover, the tide-dammer, were it not for you there would be joy upon the billows of Democracy these coming dog days when Willie is washed back again to his native land.

A DICKER IN ASHES.

A brief dispatch from Boston brings the rather startling announcement that "owing to mortgage foreclosure proceedings upon the Roxbury home of Count Costarelli and his American wife, Maud Murray Costarelli, the Count is forced to sell his most treasured possessions, the ashes of Dante, the poet."

This abrupt announcement is well calculated to take away the breath of the average reader, and to excite in his breast the most lively sensations of commiseration and pity for Count Costarelli and his estimable wife—but more especially for the Count. Things have come to a pretty bad pass in this twentieth century of boasted freedom and progress when a man who is the proud possessor of the ashes of a great poet is compelled to part with the same in order to satisfy the vulgar demands of the bailiff. It almost seems as if civilization must be pronounced a failure, after all. And what makes the matter considerably worse is the fact that a part of the crown of laurel taken from the poet's brow, and the ribbon used to measure Dante's head, are to be thrown into the bargain; the whole to go as a sort of job lot for the insignificant sum of $50,000. It is apparent to the most casual observer that the goods are easily worth more than double the money.

As the story is sent out by telegraph, it is made to appear that Andrew Carnegie is the prospective purchaser. Just what the canny Laird of Skibo expects to do with the ashes of Dante Alighieri is not stated. It doesn't particularly matter. Mr. Carnegie has the money to pay for what he sees fit to buy, and it is the money that "talks." The ashes ceased to talk some centuries ago, and they are unable to protest against any use which their present owner or their prospective purchaser chooses to make of them.

It seems that there is little room to question the genuineness of the commodity which the Count Costarelli is offering for sale. The ashes are said to be contained in "a golden casket which the Count brought with him from the estate of his uncle, former Minister of Public Instruction, after they were authenticated by the Italian government." This authentication, of course, guarantees the genuineness of the contents of the golden casket which the Count brought with him from the land of his ancestors. It is apparent that they do some things better in Italy than we do here. Under the prevailing practice—which we hope to change soon—our government's certificate of inspection on a sealed package is not always a guaranty of genuineness or of the age of the contents.

"Blest be ye man yt spares thes stones, and cvrst be he yt moves my bones," wrote the Bard of Avon, inscribing his own epitaph. Dante seems not to have been so particular about his remains. He could not, of course, foresee the fate that awaited them. If he could have done so, he would perhaps have forbidden, in advance, the sordid sale now about to be consummated. No doubt his gorge would have risen at contemplation of the commercial spirit of the age in which we live. But then we must not forget the dire need of the Count Costarelli. His mortgage must be paid off, even though it becomes necessary to sacrifice the last of his bric-a-brac, curios, and "articles of bigotry and virtue."

CASTRO, THE HUMORIST.

Late advices from Caracas are to the effect that Venezuela will not be represented at the Pan-American Congress, soon to be held at Rio de Janeiro. The announced reason for Venezuela's non-participation is that Gen. Cipriano Castro—who recently "resigned" the Presidency but is coming back to it on July 5—fears that the United States is seeking, through the medium of the congress, to control the South American republics. One of the Castro newspapers is quoted as declaring that "Venezuela will not take part in the Pan-American Congress at Rio, because there is no disposition on her part to serve as the instrument of the United States in the latter's sinister designs against the weak republics of South America."

It cannot be that this plea is put forward in earnest. It must be a joke—one of Castro's subtle, Latin-esque jokes. If Senor Castro knows anything worth remembering, he assuredly knows that the United States has no "sinister designs" against either Venezuela or any of the waspish little republics of South or Central America. Such an idea is utterly preposterous, and the lesson of Cuba ought to be enough to satisfy even the querulous mind of Castro. If the latter had a little more of the desirable quality known as "horse sense," he would perceive, and would be free to acknowledge, that these republics (so-called) have had ample proof, in the past, of the sincere friendship of the United States. If this republic had not befriended and protected them, not one of those governments, now independent, would be in existence today. The promulgation and maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine has given them opportunities (which have not been any too well improved) to work out their destinies in their own way, without fear of aggression or interference from any foreign power.

The saying that "republics are ungrateful" receives a new significance when little cross-grained chaps like Castro inveigh against their best friend among all the nations of the earth—a friend to whom they owe their very existence. Such conduct induces a feeling of extreme ennui among the people of the United States.

Without much doubt the Pan-American Congress can get along without representation from Venezuela, if Castro persists in his pig-headed policy. Venezuela needs the Congress a great deal more than the Congress needs Venezuela, and this fact will in due course of time—perhaps when it is too late—be recognized even by Castro.

One reason given for Castro's huff is his failure to have the Congress meet at Caracas. This, too, is plausible, to those who know the childish weakness and incertitude of the little man. It is not the first time that Castro has refused to play unless he could have things just as he wanted them.

THE PASSING OF "KING COAL."

In the early days of industrial enterprise factories sought the tumbling streams so that they might have the benefit of the water wheel for the supply of power. Then came the age of coal, and the tendency was to group the factories either close to the coal fields or at convenient centers on the seaboard, on the big rivers, or on the railway systems, to all of which the indispensable fuel could be cheaply carried. This was the prime factor that led to the building up of the world's great industrial cities and to the massing of large populations in restricted areas.

Now we have fairly entered on the era of electricity, and the cry of the manufacturer in every land is "back to the waterfalls." This evolutionary process is already beginning to manifest the happiest results, for the factory need no longer be in the smoke-begrimed, congested, and often unsanitary city. The little town on the foothills, or the village nestled amidst the mountains, offers cheaper power and therefore superior commercial facilities, and the toiler at loom or forge may once again live in the fresh air and the sunshine, listen to the music of babbling brooks and the song of birds, and enjoy the sight of wild flowers and green copses.

Nowhere is this wonderful transition advancing more rapidly than in Northern Italy, whose rugged mountain ranges, hitherto a bar to industry, are now a favoring condition because of their numerous streams and waterfalls. Here vast schemes of water conservation are being developed, so that electric power installations may be made while agriculture is also benefited by facilities for permanent irrigation. Groups of villages over wide districts are being supplied with electric power. Rendered independent of coal as a fuel, which is constantly increasing in price, textile mills of every class, cotton, silk, and wool, are springing into being, and industrial activity is no longer confined to such big cities as Turin, Genoa and Milan. These important centers of manufacturing enterprise also share in the advantages derived from the development of the water powers, for all of them have now their big electrical power supplies, and their mills are rapidly changing steam plants for electric motors. But the main point is that the whole broad sweep of the country is being turned into an industrial area.

The subject is of special interest to America, for two reasons. Firstly, it shows that coal has ceased to be the controlling element in the industrial situation, and that consequently our competitors in such lands as Northern Italy, where there are vast stores of water power, will henceforth meet us on more level terms in many lines of manufacture. Secondly, it bids us go and do likewise in those regions of our vast country where coal can be dispensed with and water powers utilized.

Such a region is our own State of California, where already many a little town along the foothills of the Sierras is, under the magic stimulus of cheap electric power, making a first beginning with varied manufactures. When all our available streams are turned to full account, when they are made to pay the double debt of irrigating our fields and turning our motors, then will the golden Western State advance to complete development, and give an annual output of wealth that will be one of the marvels of the world.

AMERICA'S BIRD.

The glorious Fourth will soon be here,
With all its rockets, noise and speeches,
But we'll be forced to celebrate
Without the eagle's joyous screeches.

The dear bird's voice is just as strong
As when at San Juan it was heard,
But he'll not scream for us this year;
He's had his feelings hurt, poor bird.

For he's been bridled, taught his place
By our Rough Rider of the plains,
And the long legg'd stork's the bird that's IT
While Teddy holds the reins.

GERTRUDE DUST.

Norwalk, Cal.

Jolt to His Pride.

An artist who has attained fame and an income was telling some friends of his early struggles. "I had spent eight weeks on the picture," he said, "and had put my very soul into it, and we were penniless. My wife was hungry and in rags, the baby was sickly, and I was discouraged. I hawked that picture about town desperately, only to bring it home at night. No one would have it."

"I suppose that was the hardest blow of your life," suggested a sympathetic friend.

"Oh, no, it wasn't, either. I could stand that. I knew I was right. But next day I went out to answer every promising advertisement. The last on the list read: 'Dish washer wanted.'

"I felt secure of that, so saved it for the last. But when I applied, the greasy proprietor of the restaurant looked me over with a critical eye.

"'Ah, yes,' he said, 'and what experience as a dish washer have you had?'

"Of course, I hadn't had any, and he would not take me. I've never forgiven him for that awful jolt to my pride."—[Youth's Companion.

THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER.

Carnivorous Jags.

The president of the London Society for the Study of Inebriety says it is possible for a man to become intoxicated on a meal of meat or fish.

When you behold a man who crows and won't be held in tether,
Who wants the wide, wide world to know he's feeling in fine feather,
Who kicks the ground incessantly and cackles like the dickens,
Don't hand him a tetotal tract. He has been eating chickens!

If you should see a cherished friend in mood that folk call "mellow."
Inclined to toss his head at you and now and then to bellow,
Don't prate about intemperance and beg him to be quiet—
He's simply showing the effect of beef-steak as a diet.

Again, if some one you may know is giddily cavorting
And wants to skip about and dance, in spite of your exhorting,
It's wise to hold your peace and not call him a drunken sinner—
Veal cutlets, or lamb chops, perhaps, were what he had for dinner.

You have a friend, no doubt, who oft gets what he calls a "tankful"—
Fret not because of this; indeed, you should be very thankful.
You should not sigh: "The demon rum!" when your acquaintance roisters—
He simply shows the lively mood that comes from eating oysters.

It's true, at time we find a man whose attitude is mulish,
Who does a lot of things that we in kindnes may call foolish,
But let us not say he is one whose intellect is deadened—
Poor chap! He has been looking on the lobster when it's reddened!

The Reconciliation.

I heard two men explaining things
Their quarrel to make straight—
Each had indulged in little flings
To rouse the other's hate,
But now the argument was done,
The first man bowed his head
And sighed: "I'm the offending one
From what you said I said."
"Nay, nay. You meant not to offend,"
The other said straightway.
"I'll always hold you as my friend,
Because 'tis as I say:
I said you said I said a lot
You never said I said:
Although you might have thought I thought
You thought the thing instead."
"I see," the first one made reply,
If I should say you'd say
I'd say a thing to make you sigh
I'd wrong you anyway.
I said I said you said I said
You said I said that you
Had said I said a thing that led To findings all untrue."
"Just so," the other one declared,
"And then I said you said"—
His eyes in awful fixedness stared,
They took him to his bed.
The other cried: "You said I said
You said I said that you"—
He clapped his hands against his head
And off they took him, too.

And now I wonder all the time
Of what he said he said—
The thing, in ranting, chanting rhyme
Is winding through my head;
My musings with the case are fraught,
My mind all day has sped
With what he thought he thought he thought
And said he said he said!

Old Man Giddles Philosophizes.

I would rather make an enemy of a man than have him regard me with good natured tolerance because I am fool enough to allow him to run over me.

Many a man has a "Do It Now" motto over his desk, and dust on the desk.

We should be grateful that there were no firecrackers to distract the minds of the men who signed the Declaration of Independence.

I wish some investigator would learn what sort of medals they are that hang across the breast of the [illegible] master.

When a man bids three times as much as a thing is worth at an auction he thinks he is showing his indomitable will.

The average popular orator is a man who can shout the old copy book maxims in a tone that thrills you.

Mrs. John Bingo is making a mistake in teaching her boys to cook. Their wives will have a perpetual quarrel on their hands because the husbands will insist on interfering with the management of the kitchen.

Don't be afraid that opportunity will be afraid of getting its hands stained if it finds fresh paint on your door when it knocks.

The Suspicious Mind.

"There's that man Glubble," said our friend who has his suspicions of everything and everybody. "He talks all the time. Needn't tell me it is simple loquacity. I believe he talks continually to keep from brooding over some hidden misdeed."

"Possibly," we agree for the sake of argument. "But how about Glumleigh. He hardly ever says a word."

"Glumleigh? Humph! Anybody can see the reason he never talks is he is afraid of disclosing some concealed guilt of his."

Classified.

"Typewriting," said the earnest student,
"I've thought of it a lot,
Pray tell me if you think that it
Is manual or not."
The other gazed about the room
With corrugated brow,
And said: "Typewriting; why, I think It's girlual just now."

POPULAR QUERIES AND EXPERT ANSWERS.

[Answers to legitimate questions in mineralogy, metallurgy, chemistry or mining will be given here, but only when of interest to the mining or commercial world. Personal questions from curio dealers and mineral collectors, on ores, minerals, earths or metals of non-commercial value, and assays for metal, will not be answered, but should be written direct to analysts and assayers. Address The Times.]

Calcite.

LOS ANGELES, June 2, 1906.—[To the Editor of The Times:] We send you under separate cover a specimen, apparently of mineral. Will you kindly tell us in your column what the substance is? Yours truly, R. D. L.

ANSWER. The specimen is chiefly calcium carbonate and somewhat oolitic. It can, properly, be classed as an impure shell marble and should be tested for phosphates.

Silicates of Alumina.

CORONA, June 4, 1906.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I send you herewith three samples of mineral and you would do me a great favor by letting me know what they are? Yours truly, J. E.

ANSWER: Each of the samples properly blended would make cement.

A Loose Bunch.

AMBOY, June 7, 1906.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I leave some ores at The Times office for you to pass upon. What are they? Yours truly, P. H. M.

ANSWER: If the ores referred to had marks of identification wrapped therewith, the classificatin thereof would be easy. In the several samples, supposed to be yours, pyrite (iron desulphide) is present, together with a speck of cinnabar showing on one sample. You should send them to an assayer.

Chalcopyrite.

LELAND (Or.) June 12, 1906.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Please give me the name of enclosed sample of copper ore. Yours truly, J. C. A.

Extracting Uranium.

PROVO (Utah) June 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Please give me a list of the ores of uranium with method of extracting the metal. Yours respectfully, J. C. M.

ANSWER: There are nearly two hundred ores carrying uranium. The chief ones of commerce are now named in their respective order of values, i.e. Uraninite (pitchblende) in which the metal exists as black oxide. Carnotite (a double canadate of uranium and potassium) occurring in quantities in Utah, and Colorado, and sparingly in Wyoming. Uran mica (cholcolite) which carries the oxide of uranium and copper combined with phosphoric acid; and uranite (a double phosphate of lime and uranium sesquioxide.)

Uranium can be separated from its ores in the same manner as magnesium, by heating the proto-chloride with the metal potassium, and then washing the product with water.

The most important oxide (peroxide) of uranium is formed by subjecting the nitrate of the peroxide to an oil bath to a temperature of 482 degrees fahrenheit (250 degrees C.)

To prepare the nitrate proceed as follows: "Pitchblende is reduced to powder and extracted with nitric acid; the solution is evaporated to dryness; on extracting the residue with water, some sulphate of lead and arseniate of iron sesquioxide are left. The solution is saturated with hydrogen sulphide, which precipitates the remainder of the lead, arsenic and copper, and the filtered liquid evaporated to dryness; the residue is treated with water (which leaves a little hesquioxide of iron undissolved) and the solution evaporated to crystallation." On a large scale—the powdered pitchblende is mixed with half its weight of quicklime, and then roasting the mixture in a reverbertory furnace for eight hours. When cold, the product is treated with sulphuric acid (dilute,) copper and antimony, if present, is precipitated by metallic iron, and the solution is then mixed with four volumes of water, which precipitates the basic sulphate of uranium sesquioxide. Still another method follows: powder the ore and pour a mixture of nitric and sulphuric acids over the powdered ore—handsomely covering it with the mixed acids, and allowing the mixture to stand for twelve hours with an occasional stirring; then drive off the excess of acid by heat and when thoroughly dried, pour water over the mass which extracts, approximately, all of the uranium sulphate leaving a residue of insoluble sulphates and silica. The clear liquid is then poured into a hot solution of sodium carbonate and constantly stirred, until the alkaline reaction is nearly destroyed. The solution is now filtered and boiled whereby calcium carbonate magnesia and copper are precipitated. Uranium sesquioxide is then separated from the solution, by acidifying (slightly) the boiling solution with hydrochloric acid. Dr. Ohly in his work on "Rare Metals" gives a quantitative method for estimating uranium values present in ores which method, for want of space, cannot be given here.

"LARK ELLEN" WILL SING.

Miss Yaw Will Appear in Benefit for Charles Hendricks a Week from Tomorrow Evening.

Happily for Charles Hendricks, though he is blind, still he can hear, and on the evening of July 6 the sweet voice of Ellen Beach Yaw will solace him in more ways than one, for arrangements have been made for a benefit in behalf of Mr. Hendricks, who has been well-known in opera in this country, at which a number of prominent musicians will appear in Simpson Auditorium in conjunction with Miss Yaw.

Every appearance of Miss Yaw in Los Angeles is looked for with interest by music lovers, as all of her appearances here are in benefits only. The wonderful voice of this California girl who has created a place for herself among the foremost singers of Europe and America, is a soprano of great strength of tone and wonderful sweetness, and hundreds will be glad of the opportunity to hear her a week from tomorrow.

Victor L. Schertzinger, the violinist, lately from Philadelphia, will also be a feature of this benefit, and in every way it promises to be a success.

If you stop to consider this point just a minute you'll understand why we do such a tremendous bedding business with refined people, and why we always speak of cleanliness. We flatly refuse to take back or exchange any article of bedding that has been out of the store over night, thus being able to assure you that anything of the sort bought here has not been "out on approval," and perhaps in a sick room for nobody knows how long.

Just to hint of how you may profit by buying a year's supply of blankets during this June Clearance Sale:

Black Silk Selling Continues Today

Colored silks at cut prices are common—but when it comes to buying the best black silks at noteworthy reductions, that is decidedly uncommon. And we stand back of every yard with our guarantee of quality—remember that. Practically every different weave we carry in stock is reduced during this sale.

Colored Silks, Half Price

Look among these fifty different pieces of solid colored silks for skirts, linings or waists; they're lengths from 8 to 15 yards, peaux de cygne, messalines and taffetas in various shades. Their retail prices have been $1 and $1.25; select from them at half price.

Undermuslin Sale

Of whatever materials you may fancy your garments made, you'll be able to find them in this stock, accurate in dimensions, comfortable in fit, handsomely finished and trimmed, and priced in a manner possible only through the magnitude of our annual undermuslin business. Splendid values in medium and higher priced garments—corset covers, chemises, drawers, gowns and skirts.

75c Silk Belts 35c

These silk belts, while they're all good, and fresh and perfect, have become reduced to one or two of a kind. There are stitched tailored styles, shirred, girdle shape and crush belts, mostly of black silk; they fasten with buckles, clasps or hooks and eyes. Formerly selling for 50c and 75c, they're now 35c each. We consider this the best offer of the sort made this season.

25c Organdies 12½c

No thought of profits on summer stuffs—inventory's close at hand, stocks will soon be demanding their room, so out they go.

Best American made organdies, groundwork showered with pink, blue or yellow flowers, large and well worth 25c, on Thursday only, a yard.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

MISS HELEN REYNOLDS, who this evening is to become the bride of Adolphe Heinn, has been especially feted during the past few weeks, one of the most delightful of these the luncheon given at the home by Mrs. Edwin H. Kennard [illegible] street and Mrs. C. O. Cansmith Alvarado street. Pink roses and maidenhair ferns were used in the decorative scheme, and the tables were adorned with [illegible] peas and ferns. Later a box party at the Orpheum was enjoyed, with the guest of honor, guests [illegible] Mrs. Dan Laubersheimer, Mrs. Whitman, Mrs. Shattuck, Mrs. Merrick Reynolds and Miss Katherin Wid[illegible] evening Merrick Reynolds, of No. 1030 West Twenty-third street. Here the home was attractively decorated by Mrs. Katherine Kimball Forrest and her sister Miss Helen Kimball. In the drawing-room, where the couple stood, pink and white hydrangeas and papyrus and bamboo were used with graceful effect. From the chandeliers depended a chime of snowy wedding bells, and lights were softly shaded with tulle. Fern baskets swung from the doorways and windows. In the living-room pink sweet peas mingled with delicate asparagus ferns, and pink tulle shaded the lights. The hall was transformed into a bower of greenery, with umbrella palms and ferns and white tulle love knots and ferns. In the dining-room the bridal party was seated at a table in the form of a "T," down which a center-piece of white sweet peas and maidenhair ferns on a mirror was laid. Places were Campbell-Harwood Nuptials.

A large company of friends gathered [illegible] evening in Immanuel Presbyterian church to witness the nuptials of Miss [illegible]th Campbell and Benjamin Harwood, Rev. Hugh K. Walker officiating [illegible] the ring ceremony.

The church was transformed into a [illegible]den of tropical foliage and snowy [illegible]smas. Kentia palms, ferns, potted [illegible]s formed an attractive background [illegible] the sprinkling of immaculate bloom against them. White carnations [illegible]long-handled baskets were arranged [illegible]efully along the platform, and [illegible]le tulle gave a dainty effect. Be[illegible] the ceremony a programme of [illegible]an music was rendered by the organist of the church, and as the party [illegible]proached the altar the strains of the [illegible]dding march from "Lohengrin" [illegible]ke forth triumphantly. During the [illegible]remony Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" [illegible] softly played. Mendelssohn's [illegible]arch was the recessional. The bride, [illegible]ho was given away by her father, Warren Campbell, was attired in a [illegible]oft, shimmering gown of embroidered [illegible]hiffon cloth. It was made princesse, [illegible]nd trimmed with a double flounce of [illegible]he embroidery about the edge of the [illegible]kirt. The yoke and bertha were of [illegible]eal lace, and her long tulle veil was [illegible]held with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower of lilies-[illegible]f-the-valley.

Miss Jane Campbell, sister of the [illegible]ride, was maid of honor, and was [illegible]owned in a dainty frock of yellow [illegible]repe de chine, made princesse and [illegible]rimmed with ruffles of chiffon. In her [illegible]air she wore a wreath of maidenhair [illegible]erns and carried a bouquet of yellow [illegible]atillia poppies, from which depended [illegible] shower of Shasta daisies. The six [illegible]ridesmaids wore dainty lingerie gowns [illegible]f white and carried great shower [illegible]ouquets of yellow coreopsis tied with [illegible]ulle bows. They wore wreaths of coreopsis in their hair. They included: [illegible]isses Carrie Bogart, Grace Rowley, [illegible]ina Johnson, Alice Harpham, Leola [illegible]Allen and Cynthia Fay.

Raymond Moore was best man, and [illegible]he following young men acted as ushers: Messrs. Louis Campbell, brother [illegible]of the bride; Carlton Burke, Logan [illegible]Chandler, John Llewellyn, Arthur [illegible]Wodworth and Edward Bosbyshell.

After the wedding a bridal supper [illegible]was served to the members of the [illegible]party at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Campbell, marked with tiny boxes of wedding cake, adorned with the name in gold and tied with white satin ribbon and orange blossoms. A canopy of asparagus ferns and white tulle was spread above the table and Easter lilies decorated the room.

Mr. Harwood is the assistant manager of construction of the Llewellyn Iron Works, and he and his bride will go for a short wedding tour, after which they will be at home to their friends at No. 216 West Twenty-first street.

Miss Spears Is Bride.

Last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Spears, No. 161 East Thirty-fifth street, Miss Rachel Spears became the bride of James Baker Woodson, with Dr. Hugh K. Walker officiating. The home was attractively decked with bright flowers and in the parlors red roses and ferns were utilized, while the living-room was in green and white. The couple stood here beneath an arch of white flowers wound with asparagus ferns and of wedding bells. The refreshment room was in pink and green. The bride's gown was of white crepe de chine made in princesse fashion and trimmed with rare lace in medallions and yoke and bertha of the same. The girdle was edged with applique of pearls. Her tulle veil was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower of lilies of the valley. Miss Juliette Hogan was maid of honor and six of the Kappa, Nu girls, of which the bride is a member, acted as bridesmaids. They were: Misses Helen Bosbyshell, Mabel Wiles, Frances Parker, Mabel Damer, Dot Barrington and Juanita Lane. Miss Garnett, Miss Weh, Mrs. George Gillelen and Mrs. Grant Talbott served refreshments. A feature of the bride's costume was the old handkerchief, an heirloom of the family, worn by many brides in England and later the webilke lace handed to descendants in this country. The groom is a son of Hon. John A. Woodson of Montana and is a civil engineer for the Pacific Electric. After a short honeymoon they will be at home to their friends at No. 1022 South Bonnie Brae street.

Miss Stetson Engaged.

Of interest to a large circle of young people is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Florence Stetson, daughter of A. L. Stetson of No. 1240 W. Twenty-ninth street, to George E. Hasard, a young business man of the city. Miss Stetson is a member of the Zeta Beta Psi Sorority of the Girl's Collegiate School and graduated last year from the school. There has been no date set for the wedding as yet, but Miss Stetson's friends are planning numerous jolly affairs to be given for her in the near future.

Weds at Home of Aunt.

Lucille C. Wyatt of Loraine, O., and Frank Elton Davis were married last evening, the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Field of No. 2690 North Griffin avenue. Rev. O. M. Owen officiated, assisted by Dr. William Walker. Mrs. Alva Smith sang "O Promise Me" during the ceremony and Miss Sadie Peck of Boston played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" as the party approached the altar. The bride was gowned in a dainty frock of cream silk poplin over silk trimmed with net ruffles and applique of soft lace. She wore orange blossoms in her hair and carried white carnations. Little Lila Corson was ring bearer, dressed in white with pink bows; she bore the ring in a magnolia blossom. Theodore Langworthy was a flower boy. He was dressed in white and scattered rose petals in the way. The parlors were decorated in white and green, and in the alcove an altar of ferns and palms was formed, above which swung a chime of white wedding bells interwoven with a tulle love knot. Pink hydrangeas amid carnations and ferns were used in the dining-room, and in the library pink and white sweet peas and roses were combined gracefully. This wedding marks the consummation of a romance begun scarce a year ago, when the bride came to Los Angeles to live with her uncle and aunt. Soon after this she met Mr. Davis and it was a case of love at first sight. The bride is a graduate of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music and is a chorister in the Christian Advent Church. The groom is a real estate man of the city and he and his bride have gone to Coronado and Old Mexico for a short honeymoon. On their return they will be at home in the cosy bungalow which Mr. Davis has built for his bride at No. 453 Agate street.

In Christ Church.

The wedding of Miss Blanche Pauline Hardy and, O. Hubert Morgan, which took place last evening at Christ Church was one of the interesting ones of the day. Rev. Baker P. Lee officiated and members of the choir decorated the church. The choir sang the recessional with Archibald Sessions at the organ. The bride wore an empire gown of white moire crepe chiffon with lace trimmings and carried a white prayer-book and lilies of the valley. A long tulle wedding veil completed the costume. Miss Louise Hill, Miss Emma Bates and Miss Verene Everett were bridesmaids. Miss Hill wore white taffeta and carried Easter lilies and the other two wore pale green crepe de chine and carried Easter lilies. Fred Heatherby was best man and A. Sheldon Ballinger and Clifford R. Horne were ushers. Ferns and white marguerites and wreaths of green and white were utilized in the church decorative scheme. At the home of the bride's uncle, C. H. Towle, of No. 2212 West Tenth street, where a reception was held, a different color scheme was used in each room. In the reception-hall, bamboo in feathery abundance was used. Ferns and white carnations were in the dining-room and pale pink flowers and ferns were combined in the parlors. Mrs. J. M. Jones played during the supper and Miss Louise Nixon Hill sang.

The couple have left for a trip to Alaska, after which they will make their home in this city.

Vivian Bassett, the pretty, piquant and plucky Pasadenan, is a matchless racer. She blew into scholarship headquarters yesterday afternoon before 2 o'clock, dropped her jacket on a chair and was off again hunting subscribers. "Raining in Pasadena, so thought I'd come over here and work" was the message that floated over her shapely shoulders as she flew out of the door and down the hall en route to the elevator, the ground floor, the street and—business. She did not appear again until 4 o'clock and then she turned in over 3700 points—enough to land her on the top rung of the ladder.

Merle Prewitt was not idle and turned in over 2000 points, falling over 1600 below Vivian. Whether she is holding any back or not remains to be seen. The mail brought 100 points in her favor from far-off Seattle and her Los Angeles friends are "hustling," while it is reported that Merle herself was working out University way yesterday. So tomorrow's score may see her back in first place again.

BERTHA COHEN.

POMONA POINTS SKYWARD.

Pomona's candidate took a big leap, too, and landed in fourth place. It looks as if she meant to steadily climb up and she evidently has an eye on the top line. Pasadena and Westminster will have to reckon with May Rickerich evidently at the rate she is bounding along. Pomona's stride forward crowded all the other contestants down one as far as number eight, the Azusa candidate holding her own.

EVELYN OAKLEY.

Little Bertha Cohen moved up one point.

SAN DIEGO ARRIVES.

Miss Helen Patten of San Diego announces that she will represent the city of bay'n climate and just to show that she means business sends along, together with her nomination, about 1300 points for a starter which enters her in the tenth place on the roll of honor.

William Bolstad, the coming banker, moves up a point and Mildred Beer, the little Hollywood miss, came into town for the first time with a starter of over 200 points. Mary LaLanne of No. 2410 Maple avenue also began her score with 179.

The rapidity with which the total score has run up in these three days is remarkable, the number of points reaching over 57,000 already.

CALEXICO CANDIDATE.

The father of Paul Steintorf, the young fellow who represents Calexico in the contest, called at scholarship headquarters yesterday. Paul lived in Los Angeles at one time and was a pupil in the Twentieth-street school. He is 14 years old and has finished the eighth grade in the Calexico schools, so he is just ready to enter High School. His territory lies in the rich Imperial Valley section which, while fertile in alfalfa, has a scattering population which will make Paul's field not so rich in subscribers as are others. Besides, nearly every family in the Imperial Valley takes The Times, which knocks off his chances on new subscribers—the great expander of scores.

Edna Wagner ought to be a winner because she comes from a winning family. Her older sister, Miss Catherine, won the first prize of $75 in the February Times Knowledge contest.

Joanna Cameron is a Vernon girl, who seeks a scholarship in a business college. She was born in Tennessee, but has lived in Vernon ten years with her widowed mother. She is in the eighth grade of the Vernon school and resides at No. 1786 East Vernon street.

A SWEET SINGER.

Energetic Evelyn Oakley of South Pasadena bids fair to be a winner. She has engaging manners and is full of pluck. She did not appear at scholarship headquarters yesterday which indicates that she was "busy" gathering in returns. Evelyn is a sweet singer and her face peeps out at you this morning just to remind you that she is a candidate for favors in the way of subscriptions.

THE LITTLEST IN THE BUNCH.

Little ten-year-old Bertha Cohen, the very "littliest in the bunch" of contestants, has made a splendid record. She stood No. 9 the very first day, with almost 1200 points to her credit, and the next day she raised it to over 1700 points, and now is steadily climbing toward the 2000 mark. That is pretty well for so small a girl. Bertha is an energetic little thing. She has been trained by Prof. Bothwell Brown of San Francisco. She wants a Cumnock scholarship. Her face looks out from this page this morning. The picture was taken by The Times artist just after Bertha had secured a new subscriber. That's what makes her look so happy.

BOY WITH A BROKEN ARM.

Harry Wood of No. 2709 Vermont avenue is a hummer on roller skates, but he took a tumble the other night that broke his arm, so he has quit the roller rink business for the present and thinks he will skate around after subscriptions for awhile. Harry has been attending the Polytechnic High School this year. He is a Nebraskan by birth and a Californian by adoption. His father, Alex Wood, is prominently identified with numerous lodges. He is treasurer of La Grande Lodge, No. 9, T.F.B., and Past Consul Commander of La Fiesta Camp, Woodmen of the World. Therefore all these fraternal organizations will doubtless help Harry out with subscriptions.

A LAST YEAR'S CONTESTANT.

This evening in the Dobinson Auditorium Signor Pietro Buzzi, director of the Verdi School of Singing, will present some of his advanced pupils at a public recital. Among them will be Miss Blanche Cunningham, who won a scholarship in this school last year through The Times contest.

Miss Cunningham writes The Times of the progress she has made during the year and the satisfaction afforded her under the tutorage of Signor Buzzi and of Miss Mae MacGlashan, who has charge of the piano department of the Verdi school. Miss Cunningham has twice before appeared in public recitals during the year, each time acquitting herself most creditably. She is one of thirteen performers who appear tomorrow evening at the closing exercises of the school.

PRIZES AT STAKE.

The contestant having the highest score at the close of the contest will have first choice of the following scholarships. The second highest will have second choice, and so on to the end of the list. From time to time the list of scholarships will be enlarged as the number of contestants increases.

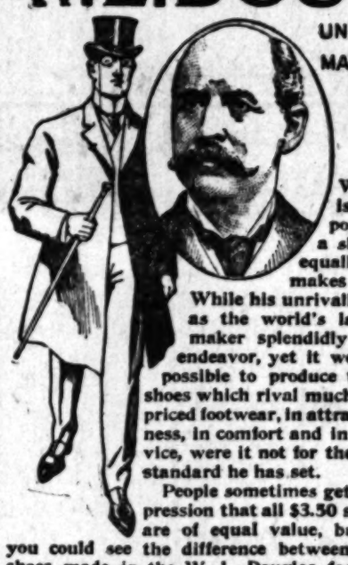
W. L. DOUGLAS



UNION MADE $3.50 SHOES FOR MEN

The guiding motive in W. L. Douglas shoemaking is to produce the best possible shoe at the price—a shoe that has never been equalled. Every move he makes is toward that end. While his unrivalled facilities as the world's largest shoemaker splendidly second the endeavor, yet it would be impossible to produce the $3.50 shoes which rival much higher priced footwear, in attractiveness, in comfort and in service, were it not for the high standard he has set.

People sometimes get the impression that all $3.50 shoes are of equal value, but if you could see the difference between the shoes made in the W. L. Douglas factory and those of other makes, you would quickly understand why they hold their shape better, fit better and are of greater intrinsic value than any other shoe on the market to-day. W. L. Douglas guarantees their value by stamping his name and price on the bottom. Even though the price of leather has advanced very materially of late, you will find the same superior quality in W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes that have made them the most popular footwear in the world.

Vivian Bassett, the pretty, piquant and plucky Pasadenan, is a matchless racer. She blew into scholarship headquarters yesterday afternoon before 2 o'clock, dropped her jacket on a chair and was off again hunting subscribers. "Raining in Pasadena, so thought I'd come over here and work" was the message that floated over her shapely shoulders as she flew out of the door and down the hall en route to the elevator, the ground floor, the street and—business. She did not appear again until 4 o'clock and then she turned in over 2700 points—enough to land her on the top rung of the ladder.

Merle Prewitt was not idle and turned in over 2000 points, falling over 1000 below Vivian. Whether she is holding any back or not remains to be seen. The mail brought 100 points in her favor from far-off Seattle and her Los Angeles friends are "hustling," while it is reported that Merle herself was working out University way yesterday. So tomorrow's score may see her back in first place again.

BERTHA COHEN.

POMONA POINTS SKYWARD.

Pomona's candidate took a big leap, too, and landed in fourth place. It looks as if she meant to steadily climb up and she evidently has an eye on the top line. Pasadena and Westminster will have to reckon with May Rickerich evidently at the rate she is bounding along. Pomona's stride forward crowded all the other contestants down one as far as number eight, the Azusa candidate holding her own.

EVELYN OAKLEY.

Little Bertha Cohen moved up one point.

SAN DIEGO ARRIVES.

Miss Helen Patten of San Diego announces that she will represent the city of bay'n climate and just to show that she means business sends along, together with her nomination, about 1800 points for a starter which enters her in the tenth place on the roll of honor.

William Bolstad, the coming banker, moves up a point and Mildred Beer, the little Hollywood miss, came into town for the first time with a starter of over 200 points. Mary LaLanne of No. 2410 Maple avenue also began her score with 179.

The rapidity with which the total score has run up in these three days is remarkable, the number of points reaching over 57,000 already.

CALEXICO CANDIDATE.

The father of Paul Steintorf, the young fellow who represents Calexico in the contest, called at scholarship headquarters yesterday. Paul lived in Los Angeles at one time and was a pupil in the Twentieth-street school. He is 14 years old and has finished the eighth grade in the Calexico schools, so he is just ready to enter High School. His territory lies in the rich Imperial Valley section which, while fertile in alfalfa, has a scattering population which will make Paul's field not so rich in subscribers as are others. Besides, nearly every family in the Imperial Valley takes The Times, which knocks off his chances on new subscribers—the great expander of scores.

Edna Wagner ought to be a winner because she comes from a winning family. Her older sister, Miss Catherine, won the first prize of $75 in the February Times Knowledge contest.

Joanna Cameron is a Vernon girl, who seeks a scholarship in a business college. She was born in Tennessee, but has lived in Vernon ten years with her widowed mother. She is in the eighth grade ofthe Vernon school and resides at No. 1786 East Vernon street.

A SWEET SINGER.

Energetic Evelyn Oakley of South Pasadena bids fair to be a winner. She has engaging manners and is full of pluck. She did not appear at scholarship headquarters yesterday which indicates that she was "busy" gathering in returns. Evelyn is a sweet singer and her face peeps out at you this morning just to remind you that she is a candidate for favors in the way of subscriptions.

THE LITTLEST IN THE BUNCH.

Little ten-year-old Bertha Cohen, the very "littliest in the bunch" of contestants, has made a splendid record. She stood No. 9 the very first day, with almost 1200 points to her credit, and the next day she raised it to over 1700 points, and now is steadily climbing toward the 2000 mark. That is pretty well for so small a girl. Bertha is an energetic little thing. She has been trained by Prof. Bothwell Brown of San Francisco. She wants a Cumnock scholarship. Her face looks out from this page this morning. The picture was taken by The Times artist just after Bertha had secured a new subscriber. That's what makes her look so happy.

BOY WITH A BROKEN ARM.

Harry Wood of No. 2709 Vermont avenue is a hummer on roller skates, but he took a tumble the other night that broke his arm, so he has quit the roller rink business for the present and thinks he will skate around after subscriptions for awhile. Harry has been attending the Polytechnic High School this year. He is a Nebraskan by birth and a Californian by adoption. His father, Alex Wood, is prominently identified with numerous lodges. He is treasurer of La Grande Lodge, No. 9, T.F.B., and Past Consul Commander of La Fiesta Camp, Woodmen of the World. Therefore, all these fraternal organizations will doubtless help Harry out with subscriptions.

A LAST YEAR'S CONTESTANT.

This evening in the Dobinson Auditorium Signor Pietro Buzzi, director of the Verdi School of Singing, will present some of his advanced pupils at a public recital. Among them will be Miss Blanche Cunningham, who won a scholarship in this school last year through The Times contest.

Miss Cunningham writes The Times of the progress she has made during the year and the satisfaction afforded her under the tutorage of Signor Buzzi and of Miss Mae MacGlashan, who has charge of the piano department of the Verdi school. Miss Cunningham has twice before appeared in public recitals during the year, each time acquitting herself most creditably. She is one of thirteen performers who appear tomorrow evening at the closing exercises of the school.

PRIZES AT STAKE.

The contestant having the highest score at the close of the contest will have first choice of the following scholarships. The second highest will have second choice, and so on to the end of the list. From time to time the list of scholarships will be enlarged as the number of contestants increases.

These cash prizes are designed to help defray the student's incidental or living expenses while attending school and will be divided according to the following scale:

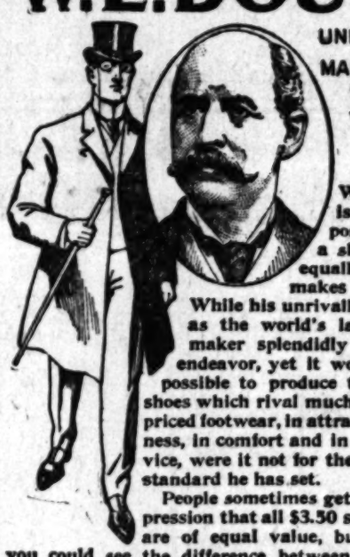
W. L. DOUGLAS
UNION MADE $3.50 SHOES FOR MEN



The guiding motive in W. L. Douglas shoemaking is to produce the best possible shoe at the price—a shoe that has never been equalled. Every move he makes is toward that end. While his unrivalled facilities as the world's largest shoemaker splendidly second the endeavor, yet it would be impossible to produce the $3.50 shoes which rival much higher priced footwear, in attractiveness, in comfort and in service, were it not for the high standard he has set.

People sometimes get the impression that all $3.50 shoes are of equal value, but if you could see the difference between the shoes made in the W. L. Douglas factory and those of other makes, you would quickly understand why they hold their shape better, fit better and are of greater intrinsic value than any other shoe on the market to-day. W. L. Douglas guarantees their value by stamping his name and price on the bottom. Even though the price of leather has advanced very materially of late, you will find the same superior quality in W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes that have made them the most popular footwear in the world.

LAND SEEKERS PASS UP LOTS.

SIXTY LUBBERS TAKE OCEAN TRIP TO HUENEME.

Half Land Through a High Sea at Beach Pier and Remainder View Lots from Deck of Yacht—New Property Comprises Land Once Owned by Senator Bard.

Sixty residents of this city and the near-by beach towns held their stomachs in their hands all day yesterday and braved a fifty-five-mile sea voyage up the coast from Venice to see the new beach resort at Hueneme, in Ventura county, that is soon to make a bid for the favor of those who think they cant' endure this life without being possessed of a lot on some stretch of shingling sand. Only half of those who steamed bravely out of Venice yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock on the power yacht San Diego, had enough vitality left to make the return trip, the other half being landed on the pier at Hueneme to return to this city on the night train.

The excursion was given by George E. Hart of the Union Realty Company of this city, and was for the purpose of showing the property Mr. Hart recently purchased with the intention of opening up a "beach" in Ventura county. There wasn't much of it seen, however. Thirty half-sick or sea-weary excursionists landed at the Hueneme pier through a high sea, too happy to be on dry land to think much of beach lots fifty-five miles from Los Angeles, and the other half stayed on the yacht a cable's length from the shore breakers and looked at the beach combers biting chunks out of the sand. After waiting almost an hour at the Hueneme wharf for the land lubbers who didn't return, the yacht turned back for Venice, for the waves at the wharf were too high to admit of any passengers embarking.

A majority of the excursionists had the time of their lives, for there was plenty to eat and drink on board, and in addition to two singers from the Venice Midway, there was a band of five pieces that played bravely on for an hour, until sea sickness made them throw up their jobs.

The new beach resort, which expects to have its lots on the market next week, will be financed by a company to be known as the Ormonde Beach and Warehouse Company. It has purchased practically all of the Senator Bard and Perkins property at Hueneme, including the pier, warehouses and all the buildings at Hueneme, and in addition has secured about five miles of ocean frontage east of Hueneme, the strip extending back from the water about 1600 feet. The land secured from the Bard-Perkins interests amounts to about 1000 acres.

This will be subdivided into lots of the regulation size, and offered at $100 and $250 each. The company will be capitalized at $100,000, in shares of $100 each. Not less than ten shares will be sold to any person, and the $1000 he pays in will entitle him to select its value in lots, which will be deeded to him, and in addition, he will be entitled to his pro rata interest in the unsold land.

The company will be organized within ten days, and work will be commenced immediately afterward on a water system, boulevards and the usual beach lot improvements.

RED RAVEN SPLITS.

Stockholders of Mining Company to Cut Out Old Management and Put Affairs in New Hands.

The second meeting of the stockholders of the Red Raven Gold Mining Company was held last night at the rooms of the Mining Stock Exchange on Broadway. H. S. Woolner again presided and everything ran smooth as oil.

It was resolved to reorganize the company but not to take immediate steps in that direction until some light had been received. The following committee was appointed and authorized to employ an expert to examine the books, and act in every way for what they considered the best interests of the stockholders, between now and the next meeting on July 7: Edward Mackermott, M. A. Curtis, H. S. Woolner, L. A. Tychsen, J. F. Rogers. Earle & Preede were employed as attorneys to have direction of the reorganization and to keep things in the proper legal groove.

A statement was read showing the indebtedness of the company to be between $5000 and $6000, and some of the items in this account will be explained at the next meeting after the expert has pried into the books. Among the stockholders present last night were a number of ladies.

IONIAN PINS FOR TWO.

Two Young Ladies Graduate from the Polytechnic High School—Will Give Play Tonight.

The last meeting of the Oratorical Society of the Polytechnic High School prior to the closing of the term was held yesterday afternoon, when Edna West and Alma Love were presented with pins of the Ionian Society, by Everett Charlton, president, as badges of their graduation. These two young ladies having entered the school with their work so far advanced as to enable them to graduate, were given diplomas, but no graduation exercises were held. Principal Francis and Vice-Principal Donnell made brief addresses, and President Bovard of the University of Southern California was introduced and made an interesting address to the students.

Victor E. Hecht, president of the society, made an address of welcome to the entire school assembled in the auditorium. Orations were delivered by John Beck, Howard Bixby and Raymond Phillips. Miss Talamantes sang and Lester Donahue rendered a piano solo.

Carl Wirsching, president of the board of control, presented to the members of the girls' basketball team, the track team and the baseball team handsome sweaters, bearing a large block "P." To the debaters who have won places in the interscholastic debates he presented medals. This recognition at the hands of the board of control is a coveted honor among the students.

Tonight a musical comedy entitled "Polly's Rivals," will be given in the Polytechnic auditorium, which will be the final event in what is commencement week in the other schools.

HIGH SCHOOL CLASS DAY.

SENIOR B'S ENTERTAIN WITH JEROME'S "SUNSET."

Students Creditably Act Out the Comedy, and Present Fraternity Pins to the Advanced Class in the Burbank Theater—Senior A's Will Be on Today.

Burbank Theater was the center of High School activities yesterday afternoon. The class-day exercises in charge of the Senior B class were sufficiently attractive to pack the theater to its utmost with students of the High School and their friends.

The Senior A class occupied seats in a body in front of the stage, clad in delicate blue relieved with white, representing the High School colors. Back of them sat a body of Senior B's, wearing the same light blue dresses, but topped off with gorgeous hats of light green with pompons of pink net, exploiting the class colors. The boys of the Senior B class wore white duck trousers, white shirts and white hats, and as the class stood on the stage, the boys sandwiched with the girls, it made a striking picture.

The feature of the exercises was the presentation of a one-act comedy by Jerome K. Jerome, entitled "Sunset," with the following cast of characters: "Lois," a merry girl of 19, Carrie Stafford; "Joan," her half-sister, Grace Brown; "Aunt Drusilla," May Hanson; "Lawrence," a young barrister, Charles C. Snyder; "Azariah Stodd," a sporting bumpkin, Owen Bauer; "Mr. Rivers," father of Lois, Harry Seward. The comedy was presented under the direction of George A. Dobinson, and all the parts were well handled.

The two girls, Lois and Joan, are both in love with Lawrence, and both had in a measure made the other her confidante but neither would name to the other her lover. When they suddenly got wise to the situation, Lois surrenders Lawrence to her half-sister, and herself accepts her "fate" in the country bumpkin, Azariah Stodd. Miss Stafford and Miss Brown took the roles admirably, and as an old-fashioned spinster, May Hanson would be hard to beat. The three boys did equally well, though there are few ambitious schoolboys who could play the ignorant bumpkin so well as Owen Bauer, without some disposition to make it apparent to the audience that he is not a bumpkin after all.

Charles C. Snyder made a brief address in which he held up the High School ideal and announced that the "Star and Crescent" pins would be presented to the Senior A class by the Senior B's in accordance with the annual custom.

When the curtain rose there stood upon the stage five pairs of girls in huge green hats, each pair at a flower-decked stand. The names of those to receive the pins were called off by tens, and they simply filed across the stage and had the pins attached by the young ladies.

Charles McDowell responded in an address on behalf of the Senior A's, after which the class songs were sung, amidst a characteristic display of enthusiasm. The songs were the work of Ruth Aubrey and Ruth Widney.

Everything was well done, but an ill-mannered bunch of students in the gallery, being unable to differentiate between fun and hoodlumism, both during the play and the address of Mr. Snyder, intentionally hooted and yelled so as to make it impossible to hear what was being said from the platform. They should be sat upon hard.

The officers of the Senior B class are: President, Charles C. Snyder; vice-president, Nola L. Landrum; secretary, Florence Conlee; treasurer, Walter Jacoby.

The exercises of the Senior A's will be given this afternoon at the Mason Operahouse.

RAPID RISE OF TUPPER.

WAS BRILLIANTLY SUCCESSFUL IN HIS WORK.

A University of Wisconsin Man, He Showed Marvelous Talent for Work—Made His First Hit in Minneapolis—Built Up Big Company in Los Angeles.

Wilbur S. Tupper, who for the past six years has been the most prominent figure in insurance circles of Los Angeles, is a University of Wisconsin man, polished, scholarly and a recognized authority on all matter connected with life insurance. He was a first-grade man in college and his career as a student was brilliant. He was a leader in social affairs and was an entertainer whom every undergraduate sought to know.

The popularity of Tupper followed him to Minneapolis, where soon after leaving college he entered into the life insurance work and rose to a position of great trust. Handsome, a brilliant conversationalist, his magnetic presence brought him a wide circle of friends and admirers. This was used as capital to establish young Tupper on a firm business basis. Insurance was his hobby and he rode well.

As a field man he secured more business than any other agent. As a manager he was a distinct success. He studied insurance questions and kept himself well informed. He would work like a horse, say those who know him, and he never tired. The incessant hustler often spent days and nights without an intermission for sleep, working out some difficult problem. As a result of his ardent for knowledge he attained an insurance education such as few men at his years have succeeded in mastering.

Business integrity and stamina seemed to mark the man for a career of greatness. From being one of the most expert actuaries in the insurance business he arose to a position of trust which gave him a great salary. His social career kept pace with his rapid rise as a financier and his brilliant marriage added to his already bright prospects.

When the Conservative Life Insurance Company of Los Angeles was in need of an "actuary," negotiations were opened with a man in Minneapolis who is an expert. Attention was called to Tupper, then at the zenith of his career, and he was invited to make Los Angeles his home. He accepted the call, and established himself, with his beautiful wife and two children, in a palatial home on Hobart boulevard.

His talents soon made him one of the most conspicuous figures in the local insurance company, and he set about to work many reforms in the field forces. His earlier career had given him a peculiar insight into the needs of a large company in the field and with the advent of Tupper the Conservative Life interests began to expand and the company was represented in many States and Territories, and branch offices were opened in many large cities. This policy of expansion was Tupper's and his ideas were said to be large.

His power began to be felt as a moving force in the company and men looked to him for the success of the local institution. Tupper was equal to the need. As an organizer he has scarcely a peer. His avidity for work began to show itself and agents and outside workers had to hustle, and naturally took orders from the man who seemed destined to achieve great things.

Attention of the directors was soon called to the worth of Tupper, and he was chosen vice-president of the company and given wide authority. In this larger field he showed his ability to do, and expansive measures were increased and the business of the company was broadened. Tupper drew up a special policy of his own, which sold like hot cakes.

With the death of Frederick H. Rindge, two years ago, the affairs of the Conservative Life were handled by its first vice-president, who for some time had been virtually the head of the concern. The board of directors met, and the unanimous choice for the presidency was Tupper, who was then aged 41.

As head of the company, Tupper's real brilliancy shone to greater advantage. His talent as a public speaker became better known. As an after-dinner entertainer he has few superiors, and he talked himself into the heart of the business life of Los Angeles. Tupper on all occasions talked "shop," but he was never offensive and never pressed the affairs of his company so as to make himself tiresome. He arranged banquets for the agents and friends. Tupper always spoke. On one memorable occasion he talked for nearly two hours, demonstrating insurance problems which any other would have made dull. Not so with the president of the Conservative Life. Tupper lived his theme and compelled attention every moment he held the floor.

About the time of his accession to the chief place of importance in the local concern, adverse comment was drawn to the social life of Tupper, who was spoken of as a "gay Beau Brummel." Little attention was given to the comment, which was thought to be circulated by the enemies of the man.

Added honors came to Tupper with the merger of the Pacific Mutual and the Conservative Life Insurance Companies last January. Tupper was made president of the combination, and his social career was widened. He entertained lavishly, and became a lion. As head of the new concern, Tupper received $12,000 a year.

The expansive policy of Tupper caused the directors to agree to a plan whereby the president went to Chicago about six weeks ago to secure field agents, who are at work in about thirty States in the Union. He is said to have secured valuable men.

Constant rumors of domestic trouble, which, according to officials of the company, would not down, caused an investigation, which was pushed mercilessly while Tupper was in Chicago. As a result, the resignation of the president was demanded. George I. Cochran waited upon Tupper in Chicago and demanded his signature to the resignation from the presidency. This was presented by Mr. Cochran yesterday, and the business relations of Tupper with the life insurance company closed.

CONFERS D.D. UPON DR. DAY.

AMHERST HONORS WELL-KNOWN LOCAL PASTOR.

Rev. William Horace Day Is Recipient of Recognition from His Alma Mater—Is Head of First Congregational Church of This City in the Footsteps of His Father.

Rev. William Horace Day, pastor of the First Congregational Church, was yesterday accorded the degree of doctor of divinity from Amherst College. Dr. Day went East last week to be present at the commencement exercises at Amherst, his alma mater, but had no suspicion of the honor that was in store for him.

Rev. W. H. Day.

Dr. Day came to Los Angeles in 1900 as co-pastor of the First Congregational Church with his father, Dr. Warren F. Day. He sustained his relationship for more than three years and was then made pastor in charge, his father assuming an emeritus relation.

Previous to coming to Los Angeles Rev. William Day was pastor of the First Congregational Church at Aurora, Ill., for four years and assistant pastor of the New England Congregational Church of Chicago, with Dr. Johnson, for two years.

He graduated from Amherst in 1889 with the degree of A.M. and afterward spent a year at Oxford and a year at the University of Berlin. He also had a year at the divinity school at Yale and graduated from the Chicago Theological Seminary, the same seminary from which his father graduated and received his degree of D. D., he being the seventh one on whom that degree was conferred in a period of thirty-seven years. Among this chosen seven were two presidents of Yale and all were prominent men.

Dr. Day, Jr., goes to Boston for a few days and is expected to return to his pulpit here next week.

Men's Diseases

My Fees are Ever the Lowest

Dr. Taylor
The Leading Specialist

Every fee I ask is a fair one—absolutely fair. The fact that I cure my patients and cure them soundly and permanently doesn't add to the cost of my services. You pay me for thoroughly safe, reliable and scientific treatment just about what the average specialist asks for the other kind, and payments can be arranged to suit your convenience. My practice is large. It is the largest of its kind anywhere in the West. It has grown to be the largest through exceptional ability and absolute fairness in treatment.

NOT A DOLLAR NEED BE PAID UNTIL YOU ARE CURED

Contracted Disorders
Be sure your cure is thorough. Not one of my patients has ever had a relapse after being discharged as cured, and I cure in less time than the ordinary forms of treatment require.

Specific Blood Poison
No dangerous mineral to drive the virus to the interior, but harmless blood-cleansing remedies that remove the last poisonous taint.

What Weakness Is and How to Cure It
Weakness and unnatural losses are merely symptoms of chronic inflammation of the prostate gland, brought on by early dissipation or by the improper treatment of some contracted disease. A complete and radical cure is, therefore, a question of restoring the prostate gland to its normal state, and this I accomplish promptly and completely without the use of internal remedies. My treatment is a local one entirely. It is original and scientific, and has been proven absolutely effective by thousands of tests. I am convinced that by no other methods can full and permanent restoration of strength and vigor be accomplished.

Varicocele
Absolutely painless treatment that cures completely in one week. Investigate my method. It is the only thoroughly scientific treatment for this disease being employed.

Stricture
My treatment is absolutely painless, and perfect results can be depended upon in every instance. I do no cutting or dilating whatever.

Consultation and advice are free, and you will not be urged to take treatment. A friendly talk will probably save you worry and precious dollars. My fees do not "switch round" month by month.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

LONG-MISSING BODY IS FOUND.

REMAINS OF PASADENA MAN ARE DISCOVERED.

Skeleton of George C. Merrill Is Located Near Wilson's Peak Trail Above Sierra Madre Under Conditions That Support Suicide Theory. Brooded Over Parting With Sister.

Office of The Times, No. 36 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, June 27.—The body of George C. Merrill, the young man who mysteriously disappeared from home on March 4 of last year, was found in a badly decomposed condition behind a clump of bushes 300 feet from the old Mt. Wilson trail above Sierra Madre early this afternoon. The gruesome discovery was made by F. C. Maffing, a motorman in the employ of the Los Angeles Street Railway Company, and Charles Beal of Hollywood.

GEORGE C. MERRILL,
Pasadena young man, missing since March, 1905, whose body was found yesterday near Wilson's Peak Trail above Sierra Madre.

Maffing and Beal had spent the day in the mountains hunting and were returning to Sierra Madre, when at a point about one-half mile above the foot of the trail, they came upon the body. There was little but the skeleton left, and it was evident that the corpse had either been lying exposed to the elements for some time or had been partly devoured by coyotes.

The men hurried into Sierra Madre and informed the authorities of their find. The Pasadena police department was at once notified, and Chief Pinkham in turn brought the matter to the attention of Constable Harley Newell. Newell at once telephoned to Reynolds & Van Nuys and instructed them to send out for the body, after which he proceeded to the place.

The body was evidently that of a young man, and scraps of clothing, a very small shoe and a No. 14 collar showed that he was below medium size. By his side was found a cheap bulldog revolver with a six-inch barrel. The revolver was a five-shot affair, and four of the chambers were loaded, while the fifth held an exploded shell. The pistol was badly corroded, but was still in such condition that indentification was possible.

On the body were found a letter, addressed to Mrs. Albion Merrill, No. 720 East Villa street, Pasadena, and a notebook. From the papers Newell came to the conclusion that the body must be that of young Merrill, and as soon as Pasadena was reached, the father of the missing boy was notified.

The elder Merrill responded at once to the call of the constable and went to the Police Station, where he was shown the weapon found near the body of the young man. He at once identified the gun as having belonged to his son, and later was able to identify the notebook found on the body.

The position in which the body was found and the location of the pistol with its exploded cylinder point strongly to suicide, and the actions of young Merrill prior to the time of his disappearance last year lend strength to the theory.

When George Merrill disappeared from his home the students of Throop Institute, where he had been a student, and of the Pasadena High School, turned out in a body and searched the mountains, hoping to find some trace of him. His mother kept insisting that he was somewhere in the mountains and demanded that every inch of the ground be searched. The Government Forest Reserve was beaten from end to end and all of the cañons were searched, but without avail.

Mrs. Merrill stated today to a Times reporter that for several days prior to his disappearance, fifteen months ago, George Merrill had not been himself. Although his general health did not appear to be impaired, he was unable to sleep and constantly walked the floor continuously. His agitation was due to the fact that his twin sister, from whom he had been inseparable from the time of his birth, had become engaged and was to have been married in March.

The young man said to his mother one morning: "Mama, it seems as though I must have more of sister's company." As the time of the wedding drew near he grew more and more despondent and would not be comforted. Three days before his final disappearance he resigned his position with McBride, the Los Angeles printer, and stated that he was going to Long Beach for a vacation. He remained at the beach for one day and then returned home.

The day that he returned from the beach, friends of the family, who were going East, dined at the Merrill home and one of them mentioned his surprise at seeing George there. The young man answered, "I wanted to eat the last meal with you." As he was talking to the people about to leave, Mrs. Merrill supposed that his reference to the last meal was intended to mean that he would not have a chance to dine with them again before they left. Shortly after this he went out and was never heard from again.

At the time of his disappearance Merrill was but 20 years old. He was a young man of exemplary habits and his employers, both in Los Angeles and on the Pasadena News, where he worked for a while, spoke of him in the highest terms. He had never had any trouble of any kind that his family knew of and neither his father nor his mother ever heard him refer to any love affair or other difficulty that might induce him to take his life. Both Mr. and Mrs. Merrill are satisfied that the deed was done during a period of temporary insanity, brought on by brooding over the fact that his sister was soon to be married, and that they would then be separated.

CONVENTION HALL AGREEMENT.

The Convention Hall Committee of the Board of Trade met this morning in the offices of C. D. Daggett and drafted an agreement to be entered into by the subscribers to the convention hall site fund.

The agreement stipulates that the land, when purchased, shall be turned over to the trustees to be held by them until such time as the necessary corporation shall have been formed and money subscribed to the extent of $40,000 toward the erection of a convention hall to cost not less than $50,000. If the money does not materialize within one year, the land will not be turned over to the corporation but will be sold for the highest figure which it will bring and the proceeds shall be divided pro rata among the subscribers to the fund. If perchance the sum subscribed shall be in excess of that required to purchase the land, the surplus money shall be divided among the subscribers pro rata.

The land in question is five acres of the old Reed estate, popularly known as "Carmelita," and is one of the most sightly and desirable locations in Pasadena.

A committee composed of J. O. McCament, R. I. Rodgers, E. J. Pyle, William E. Eason and McH. Pierce was appointed to look after the matter of raising the money required to purchase the site.

HENDERSON MAY LIVE.

John Henderson, the chauffeur of the ill-fated automobile party which met with the accident on Orange Grove avenue Sunday morning, is resting comfortably and there are hopes that he may recover. At first it was thought that he had only a few hours to live, but he is showing remarkable vitality and the nurses at the Pasadena Hospital hope that he may be able to pull through.

FORTUNE IN INDIA.

Richard Taylor, a local grocer, has received advices to the effect that his presence in India to fulfill some legal technicalities may result in his securing possession of a fortune of $60,000 left by his deceased brother. Over a year ago Mr. Taylor made the same journey, but failed to secure the money. He found that his brother had willed the property to a rajah, but had also left a letter saying that he knew the rajah would se that his brother, Richard, would receive his just inheritance. The rajah was willing to do this, but legal formalities prevented the settling of the matter at that time.

A few weeks later the rajah died, and both estates went into court. Now Mr. Taylor has been notified that $60,000 of his brother's money is in an English bank, and that one court has decided that the rajah was merely a trustee for the Taylor estate, in view of the letter that went with the will. Mr. Taylor will arrange to start soon on the long journey to India.

CAMPERS ENTERTAINED.

The camp leaders of the Y.M.C.A. outing party last evening were the guests of Eaton T. Sams, the Association secretary. The home on Grant street was handsomely decorated and Mr. Sams and his lieutenants sat down to a feast. The table was arranged with a mirror centerpiece in which was carried out the triangle motif of the Y.M.C.A. Maidenhair fern and crimson flowers were used in the decoration. The Misses Sams presided at the table, assisted by Miss Fry. An impromptu programme was given. One of those taking part was Grover T. Davis, a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, who sang a number of songs.

GRABBING UP TOPANGO.

Land Looks Well to Ocean Park Denizens, and Thither Will They Betake Themselves.

OCEAN PARK, June 27.—Local people are preparing to descend in considerable numbers upon Topango Cañon. They look with jealous eye on the untaken homesteads and are making ready to file their claims at the government land offices. Mrs. C. J. Westfall and Mrs. E. B. Taylor have explored the windings of the mountain pass and have succeeded in engendering no little enthusiasm in their friends over the possibilities of a homestead on the mountainside. Among those who are seeking locations are William Longyear, Henry Dysinger and J. C. Cunningham, the last named being of Los Angeles.

UP THE STRAND.

The sudden but not mysterious disappearance of Ki-Ki, alias Harry Blitz, the spectacular missing link of the Midway, is followed by the appearance of an advertisement in a theatrical journal seeking to learn the whereabouts of the human monkey. The announcement, which is presumed to be a decoy used for the purpose of locating Ki-Ki, hails from Toronto, and states that in the settlement of an estate it is absolutely essential that Blitz reveals his whereabouts.

Indications point toward a successful lawn tennis tournament on the Country Clubs courts on July 4. Miss Sutton has signified her intention of entering and there is the promise of such players as Messrs. Way, Sinsabaugh, Jones, Gorham and Braly. A feature of these annual tournaments is the tennis dance at the clubhouse during the evening.

The Fourth-of-July celebration committee is making an appeal to all residents and business people to decorate their homes appropriately.

"CATHOLICISM OF ALGHIERI."

BISHOP CONATY ADDRESSES THE HOLLYWOOD GRADUATES.

Talks to Class of the College of the Immaculate Heart Concerning the "Divine Dante"—School Girl Wins Prize for the Neatness of Her Work for the Past Year.

HOLLYWOOD, June 27.—Hundreds of fragrant blossoms and a flutter of blue and white streamers marked the closing exercises of the Immaculate Heart College last evening and today. The graduates were five in number, who won the Hollywood school prize for neatness in work during the past year.

MISS ELIZABETH WILLIAMS,

those receiving diplomas in the classical course being Misses Anna McDermott and Julia Smith of Los Angeles, and in the literary course, Misses Alice Twoiry of Pasadena, Helen Chambers and Pearl Thompson of Los Angeles.

The diplomas were awarded this afternoon by Bishop Conaty, before an audience which filled the school auditorium and overflowed to the balconies outside. The programme was devoted to Dante and closed with an address by Bishop Conaty, who dwelt on the importance of religion in education and drew a lesson from Dante as the great poet of Catholicity. He closed his remarks with advice to the graduates.

This was the first class to graduate from the new school, and it distinguished itself in both music and oratory. The school coolrs, blue and white, were adopted by the class as their own.

Miss Anna McDeromtt as a valedictory read an essay on "Dante, the Victor," and other essays were: "Dante and His Age," Miss Alice Twoiry; "Dante and the Divina Commedia," Miss Julia Smith; Miss Helen Chambers offered a tribute of homage to the Rt. Rev. Bishop Conaty, and the opening number, a hymn to Dante, was composed by Miss Pearl Thompson.

The young women received quantities of flowers and beautiful gifts.

Among the priests in attendance were: Rt. Rev. Monsignor P. Harnett, V. G.; Very Rev. J. S. Glass, C. M. D. D., and Revs. John Conlon, C. J. Clifford, P. McDonnell, W. F. Quinlan, San Diego; George Donahoe, D. W. Murphy, Raphael Fuhr, O. F. M.; Thomas F. Fahey, Joseph Barron, C. Gregorie, John Brady, San Bernardino; Charles De Cuennick, Joseph McManus, J. A. Reardon, Ramon Mestres, Monterey; Clement Maloney, W. J. Gorrell, C. M.; H. J. O'Connor, C. M.; J. W. Collins, Coronado; John J. Sheehy, Monrovia; T. F. Cain, Riverside; Patrick McLaughlin, Santa Monica; Eugene Heffernau, J. J. O'Keefe, O. F. M., San Luis Rey; Ramon Ferrer, Long Beach; William Hughes, Edward Lunney, A. F. M., and George G. Frund, Bakersfield. These clergymen were entertained at a banquet following the programme.

Last evening the class gave a musicale in compliment to Bishop Conaty, who addressed its members on "Education."

In his address the bishop, preceding his talk on the "Divine Comedy" of the immortal Italian bard, spoke feelingly of the good work and progress of the Sisters, and of the new college buildings. For the class he had a most impressive benediction, expressing the hope that each and every member of the class would go forth into the world in constant touch with the influences of the church, and be ever guided by the inculcations of the college. The bishop dwelt at length upon the importance of religion to education, stating that the one without the other could be of little benefit, and that the graduate should make his religion a firm foundation for whatever he might attempt. Taking thought from Dante, the bishop said that Dante in his divine poem is the very soul of Catholicism, having as his object to lead men out of the state of misery and into happiness, not by the grace of riches, as he himself has said, but by the grace of God. His whole motive was to teach men the reality of eternal life as a measure of all human conduct.

"Dante," he said, "is one of the educators of the world. His immortal poem is an exaltation of Catholic doctrine, and the nobility and beauty of his thought have no superior in any of the literatures of the world. To read him one must understand the religion of which he was a devoted child, and no one who aspires to culture should fail to be a reader of Dante, who is one of the world's masters of culture."

PRIZE FOR NEATNESS.

Little Miss Elizabeth Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Williams of this city, won the prize offered by Mrs. M. P. Moll for general neatness in school work during the year just closed. Miss Elizabeth is a member of the third grade of the Fremont school. Her prize is a solid silver wedding ring.

HOLLYWOOD BRIEFS.

The ordinance restricting the use of fireworks within certain specified limits in Hollywood will be strictly enforced this year.

The Hollywood Club gave its regular monthly hop last evening in Wilcox Auditorium. The auditorium has been leased by the club for a term of years.

Mrs. Barber, from the Ransom Home, spoke before the local W.C.T. U. at a large reception held Monday at the home of Mrs. P. B. Chase, Rose and Palm avenues.

STRONG PULL FOR THE SHORE.

AGITATION GROWS FOR LONG BEACH WATER FRONT.

Owners of Properties on the Strand, the Platting of Which Would Be Disarranged by the Extension of Streets to the Sea, Make Vigorous Protest.

LONG BEACH, June 27.—The agitation of property owners along Chestnut, American and Cedar avenues to have those thoroughfares opened from Ocean Park avenue down the bluff and across the sand to low tide and through the properties which lots of citizens think belong to the city roused the City Trustees to action last night. By unanimous vote they directed the City Attorney to prepare resolutions of intention to open the streets by condemnation proceedings as provided for under an act by the Legislature.

As a result of the instructions of the City Trustees last night there was a big lobby of citizens and taxpayers present at tonight's session of the board when they met to fix upon the district to be benefited and assessed to pay the damages which would result from condemnation proceedings.

City Attorney Daly, after expressing doubts as to the city's authority in opening a promenade drive through the bluff property, which was deeded to the city for purely park purposes, won applause by saying if the citizens and Council wanted to go ahead he was in the fight and would do everything to push the matter to a successful issue.

Cedar-avenue residents protested against the Trustees being influenced by other residentes of Cedar, but their petition was filed. A query as to why so important a step had been neglected for so long brought out the retort from Attoney Denio that when the city lost its suit to beach titles by default it was a village of 500, with a tax list of $4000 and was fighting a rich corporation (the Crocker estate.) Now the city is realizing its importance and has on its fighting clothes.

In the discussion a pertinent point was made by Russell Kincaid, an old citizen, who said that twenty years ago two-thirds of the beach now occupied by buildings was under water, and he wanted to know where the occupants got their title. The Trustees, after listening to an hour's argument by citizens and lawyers, fixed the boundaries of the district to be benefited by the opening of Chestnut avenue and instructed the City Atetorney to carry out their instructions of last night to prepare resolutions of intention open their street and this will be presented at the next regular meting of the Trustees. On account of the lateness of the hour the Cedar and American-avenue petitions went over a week.

The Trustees went even further than this by including in the order, an extension of Seaside boulevard on the beach from Pine to Chestnut avenues. This strip of the beach was denied the city two years ago when the Seaside Water Company, to secure the abandonment of streets in Seaside Park in order to replat and include 200 feet of accretions gave the city an easement to a street 100 feet wide from high tide and along the beach front from Pine to Alamitos and from Chestnut avenue west, but would not consent to open a thoroughfare in front of the company's bathhouse. Now the company may be compelled to do it.

There is of course opposition by those who are afraid the appraised value of the property acquired will make a burdensome payment on taxpayers in the district benefited, but the prevailing sentiment is that the growth of the city down on the beach requires more streets leading up the bluff and requires the city to keep in possession of a fair portion of water frontage.

The owners of beach properties whose plattings will be disarranged by this movement are strong in protest, and fortified with legal advice, will fight the proposition hard. To those conversant with the history of the beach titles it looks as if the contemplated proceedings is the opening wedge which will eventually bring up for a final settlement the vexed question of who really owns the sand from the bluff south. It will be as to whether the city by reason of the stretch being tide land, owns it, as foreshadowed by Judge Wellborn's recent decision, or the Development Company, the Seaside Water Company and later purchasers from these two corporations who hold titles backed by the Title Guarantee & Trust Company.

TOLD ALONG SHORE.

Long Beach has at last as in other things outgrown its jail. There are but two cells and not a day passes that these are not occupied, compelling other prisoners to remain in the corridor with the road to freedom barred only by a common wooden door. The City Trustees are considering plans for its enlargement.

Building operations in Long Beach for 1906 have passed the million-dollar mark. So far this month ninety-three permits have been issued of the contract value of $189,631, a total for the six months of 504 permits, of the contract value of $1,014,296.

Street Superintendent Taylor is posting notices as required by law of the speed limit of six miles an hour for autos within the city limits. The penalty for violation ranges from $25 to $300.

The Los Angeles Dock & Terminal Company has asked the City Trustees for permission to erect a trestle bridge across Cerritos slough, north of the Southern Pacific crossing. The trestle is to be provided with a draw to permit vessels to pass. The petition was referred to the Public Works Committee.

Considerable anxiety is being felt by owners of the Chinese war junk Whang-Ho, which was to spend the summer off Long Beach as a curious attraction. The vessel left Woosung, China, April 19 and has now been sixty-eight days at sea.

HONOIPU STUCK FAST ON BAR.

SCHOONER HAS BAD VOYAGE, BUT MAKES GOOD TIME.

Notwithstanding That the First Mate Had to Be Put in Irons—The Captain Grows Lenient, and Mate Threatens to Kill Him, He Alleges, Later Attempting the Deed.

SAN PEDRO, June 27.—The good schooner Honoipu and her master, Capt. Frederick Lurman, arriving today, had a strenuous trip from Aberdeen to San Pedro. In going over the bar at Gray's Harbor the Honoipu struck, and on the trip down men were kept constantly at the pumps, as the wind-jammer was taking water at the rate of six inches an hour. In spite of this the Honoipu made a good passage, arriving in eight days.

To add to his troubles, Capt. Lurman found it necessary to place Charles Hermann, first mate of the vessel, in irons and to keep him there several days, for his disobedience of orders.

When two days out from San Pedro the captain became lenient, and removing the shackles, allowed Hermann the freedom of the ship. On day before yesterday Hermann, it is claimed, approached the captain and remarked: "I'm going to kill you before you get to San Pedro." The remark was taken for a bluff by the captain, and no attention was paid to it.

The same night, the captain alleges, Hermann stole down into the cabin, appropriated the captain's pistol, and while the captain was on deck fired a shot through the door of the cabin. Fortunately the shot missed its mark.

Hermann was then locked in a room and kept there until the Honoipu reached San Pedro. Capt. Lurman states that he will go to Los Angeles tomorrow morning and apply to the United States District Attorney for a warran charging the mate with assault to kill on the high seas.

OUTER HARBOR PLANS.

Plans and specifications upon which to base estimates for bids for the work undertaken by Lieut. Randolph Miner and his associates in the outer harbor of San Pedro are nearly completed, and in a few days bids will be called for on immense contracts, involving the expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars.

Gervais Purcell, engineer of the Miner Syndicate, made the following statement relative to the plans of the corporation:

"The work will be divided into two big contracts, designated contract No. 1 and contract No. 2. Contract No. 1 is for the fill from the shore line to the line first figured for a pier-head line. The fill may be made by dredging or steam shoveling, or both. There are three subdivisions of each contract, the first for the piling, the second for the rock work and the third for the filling in of the ground.

"Contract No. 2 is for the bulkhead proper and for the filling in of the ground between the old line and the new line, which line has been recommended but not yet formally adopted by the government. As this line is yet to be definiely established, specifications for this part of the work cannot be completed at present.

"We have already asked for bids on 1,000,000 feet of timber for piling, but on account of the strike now on we have been unable to get any of the lumber companies to agree to deliver the piles to us at San Pedro at any stated time.

"The rock work to be done will be along the outer bulkhead line and along the government reservation frontage on the west side of the fill. It is estimated that there are 2,500,000 cubic yards of earth to be used in the fill in contract No. 1. Specifications for filling in on this contract will require a delivery of at least 4000 cubic yards or earth daily, so the work can be completed in eighteen months.

"Specifications for the work on contract No. 1 are completed, but will be submitted to Capt. Amos Fries, U. S. A., for his approval."

REACHES THE MARK.

The postal regulations require that in order to be entitled to carrier delivery the annual receipts of a post-office shall amount to at least $10,000 San Pedro has reached the mark. Today Postmaster Edward H. Bantzer received word from Senator Frank P. Flint stating that he would use his best efforts with the Postmaster-General to the end that San Pedro be soon placed in the list of carrier delivery offices.

GLENDORA GRADUATES.

GLENDORA, June 27.—The Glendora grammar school held commencement exercises for its graduates yesterday evening at the auditorium in the school building. Excellent drills were features of the entertainment, and the graduating class presented very cleverly a short farce entitled "Won by Wager." Judge Curtis D. Wilbur of the Juvenile Court, Los Angeles, addressed the class on "Shall We Get a Bigger Gun"—showing the demands of the present-day for the highest education in preparation for life's battle. The graduates are: Jean Beck, Owen Cullen, Clayton, Ernest and Walter Lee Englehardt, Grace Gnagsy, Ruth Matheson, Elizabeth Mumper, Effie Neet, Richard Roberts, William Sykes, Mary Weaver, and Orlena Whitcomb, all of whom expect to enter the freshman class of the High School next fall.

LONG BEACH FREE PORT.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, June 27.—A delegation of lumber dealers and shippers from San Pedro was in the city yesterday in conference with the City Trustees to ascertain what protection would be given should they decide to unload their vessels on this side of the channel.

Mayor Downs said that while the Trustees do not care to mix in the industrial trouble at San Pedro, yet ship owners will be given full protection from interference if they come within the Long Beach limits.

This satisfied the visitors and they say in the event the strike continues they will make arrangements to discharge cargoes on the wharves at West Long Beach.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

SEEKING GRASS ON THE DESERT.

NATURALISTS EXPLORE ARID WASTES OF MOJAVE.

Are Making Exhaustive Experiments in Quest of Foraging Grass Which Will Thrive in Most Waterless Waste—One Kind Found Where Snakes and Lizards Cannot Live.

SAN BERNARDINO, June 27.—Naturalists are seeking forage grasses on the desert, with a view of making exhaustive experiments to secure a grass that will flourish in the most arid regions, according to a report that comes from the desert. Prof. Jewell has returned from a long trip into the desolate wastes of the Mojave, bringing a number of specimens of these grasses, which will be the foundation for some of the scientific experiments.

One of these groups of specimens was secured in a volcanic region, where the heat becomes so intense during most of the summer that animal life is rarely met with, even lizards and horned toads shunning the place. Beneath a lone clump of cacti these grasses were found. They differ from the ordinary desert grass in that they are more on the blade order, and down the center runs a fine yellow lacing.

The group of botanists said to be tramping the desert for this purpose may be overenthusiastic and visionary, but, according to men who have talked with them, their idea seems to be that if they can successfully propagate a sturdy forage grass that will withstand the intense heat and lack of moisture, the scattering broadcast over the desert of the seed of the grass will result in almost carpeting the lands with vegetation, give to the wild animals and the prospectors' burros rich picking, and encourage moisture; that it, in fact, will result in occasional showers.

It is perhaps this last, the showers, of what are now arid places, which is the main hope of the botanists. From a commercial point of view, the result sought cannot be overestimated, as it would mean to create a vast range for cattle which now offers foraging in a limited area, and during but few months out of the twelve.

EXAMINE ALLEGED MURDERESS.

The Superior Court has taken up the investigation into the mental condition of Mrs. M. Dunn, who recently shocked the community by strangling her three-day-old infant, while in the County Hospital. Dr. Strong, medical superintendent at the hospital, has made a report to Judge Bledsoe, stating that the woman is certainly demented, and upon the physician's report she will be examined before a lunacy commission.

It seems incredible, but for weeks the unfortunate woman was seen pushing a wheelbarrow through the business section, loaded with old tin cans, boxes and lumber, with which to build herself a shelter, and no effort was made to investigate her case. She was known to be in abject poverty and the shack which she had managed to hammer together. In fact, it became known that a man named Brown might, by trying to marry her, to which a few dollars she had received from eastern relatives, and yet no effort to protect her from the conspiracy was made.

It was publicly known that the woman was of unsound mind. She had been released from Patton on habeas corpus proceedings. Brown applied for a marriage license, even when he was already married to another woman, and failing, for some reason, in the effort, a man named Dunn managed to secure a license.

She clung to her miserable shack until within a few days of the birth of her infant, when she was removed to the County Hospital. There her mental condition was quickly realized, but it never dawned upon the attendants that she might injure her offspring. She will be taken to Patton.

LILLIAN "GETS" IT.

Lillian Blair Wright has been appointed as administratrix of the estate of the late John E. H. Wright, and a special administrator will be appointed, in order that property at Cucamonga, belonging to the estate, may be sold under an order of court granted many months ago. F. A. Lukens this morning filed a petition for the suspension of Mrs. Wright, on the ground that she had abandoned the property and gone to Washington. He declared that unless the estate is sold before July 16, it cannot be sold under the existing order, and that a mortgage of $2900 is about to be foreclosed on the property, and also that a crop of fruit worth $400 is going to waste on the trees.

HERE AND THERE.

The plaintiffs in the suit of Barton & McKenney against the Vache Winery Company to recover damages for having alleged low-grade vinegar under a warranty that it was of high grade, have succeeded in getting in the testimony of seven experts to the effect that the vinegar was still in a state of fermentation, which resulted in the loss of $8000 worth of Brauntonical Sauce.

Fred E. Foraker, who has been manager of Urbita Springs during the summer, will resign July 1. His successor will probably come from Pasadena. This is only another shake-up caused by the coming of General Manager W. H. Smith into control of the San Bernardino Valley Traction Company. It is generally admitted that T. C. Denman, Jr., president and general manager of the company, will not long assume the latter position.

The Woman's Club has received $4290 from the sale of stock and donations, which will be largely used in the proposed new clubhouse, plans for which are now in the hands of a Los Angeles contracting and building firm, which has received instructions to commence work on the structure at the earliest possible moment. It is expected that the club members will give a "house warming" during the early fall, which will prove quite an event in social circles of the valley.

Horticultural Commissioner Pease has received word from Oak Glen, a mountain fruit raising section, that the orchardists have decided to uproot between forty and fifty fine apple trees, which have been found seriously affected with "pear blight." The commissioner, with an expert from Whittier, visited the section last week, and practically condemned the trees. All the trees marked for slaughter are in heavy bearing, and the crop also will be sacrificed.

Rain commenced falling throughout the valley at 5 o'clock this morning, and has continued at intervals throughout the day. It is not anticipated that any damage will result. Over the mountains there have been heavy storms and one or two miniature cloudbursts. Tuesday there was a heavy storm on the desert, in section where storms are most unusual at this time of season.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Shaw was attacked by a strange dog this morning, and quite severely injured, the child's hand being lacerated. The dog sunk its teeth to the bone.

WANT DOUBLE TRACK.

Santa Fe Railroad Company Asks Colton City Council for Right of Way to San Bernardino.

COLTON, June 27.—The Santa Fé Railroad Company is contemplating the building of a double track between San Bernardino and Colton and has applied to the City Council for a right of way through a tract of land lying between the two cities. The railroad officials are being interviewed, but no further action has been taken as yet.

AROUND THE TOWN.

The Alumni Association of the Colton High School held a business meeting this week at the home of Miss Calla Milliken. The following-named persons were elected officers: Wilson Hanna, president; Calvin Stone, vice-president; Miss Roble French, secretary; Miss Jessie Boothe, treasurer.

Postmaster Wilson Hays, W. McKittrick, Jesse Fouch, Mrs. Woodruff, Mrs. Yerger and Mrs. Elliott were among the Colton people to take advantage of the excursion which left Riverside yesterday to view the Salton Sea.

Colton experienced a rainstorm today such as has not been known for years at this time of the year.

Mrs. H. O. Noffsinger and children, who have been visiting at the home of W. H. Raines, left yesterday for Artesia, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson have left for their future home in Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Pease, who have been visiting M. A. Bagley and family, expect to leave tomorrow for Buffalo, N. Y.

OPPOSES REDUCTION.

Santa Ana Man Receives Letter from Forest Supervisor—Urges That Force Be Not Diminished.

SANTA ANA, June 27.—W. M. Scott, president of the Chamber of Commerce, received a telegram last night from T. P. Lukens, forest supervisor, asking him to have the matter of a reduction in the force of rangers in the San Gabriel and San Bernardino reserves taken up with Washington at once. Mr. Lukens claims that any reduction in his present force would mean serious loss.

In view of this statement, Mr. Scott authorized a telegram to be sent at once to Senator F. P. Flint and Congressmen McLachlan and Smith to the effect that the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce had passed resolutions requesting the retention of the present force of forest rangers in Southern California.

TOLD IN BRIEF.

The Santa Ana Training School for Nurses held its graduating exercises in Odd Fellows' Hall last night. An interesting programme had been prepared, during which Dr. C. D. Ball read the secretary's report, and Judge Victor Montgomery delivered an address, in which he entered at length into the history of nursing, and dwelt on the fact that women were by nature better adapted for this work than members of the sterner sex. The Misses Bessie V. Anderson, Reba L. Dobson and Bessie O. Wilkinson were presented with diplomas by Dr. J. L. Dwyer.

At a meeting of the Board of Education last night, the resignations of Prof. W. A. Vivian and Miss A. Gilbert were accepted. The board appointed the Misses Eva Johnston, Ruth Tarbell and Sarah Lawson as teachers in the grammar school, and the Misses Mabel Sharp and Joelia Gowdy as teachers in the High School. Prof. Vivian has been elected to a position in the Polytechnic High School at Los Angeles, and Prof. G. E. Hedley has been elected to the commercial department of the Long Beach High School.

Marriage licenses have been issued to Albert Burks, a native of Missouri, aged 24, and Alice Payne, a native of Nebraska, aged 24, both residents of Los Angeles. William H. Burnett, a native of Kentucky, aged 24, and Fern E. Blanding, a native of Minnesota, aged 18, both residents of Los Angeles. Joseph Ferguson, a native of Ireland and a resident of Newport Beach, aged 50, and Rose E. Paine, a native of Texas and a resident of Los Angeles, aged 19.

DREDGER FAST DIGGING.

High Tide at Newport Beach Washes Out Trestle—Bay Being Dredged Rapidly.

NEWPORT BEACH, June 27.—The large dredger is fast throwing out the mud and water from the bottom of the bay. Some delay was caused in this work when the high tide a few nights ago washed out the trestle which upheld the large pipes used for carrying the mud and water upon the bank. The pipe fell into the bay, however, and were soon built up again and work is now progressing fast.

H. E. Huntington has put up $500,000 to devote to this work of dredging the bay along his property. The work altogether here will keep the dredging company busy for two years.

It is the intention to develop the island known as Petroleuf Island, which is about three-quarters of a mile long, lying between a link of the bay and the Santa Ana River. The proposition is to cut through the narrow neck of the marsh, or rather deepen the lagoon between an adjacent island on Northwest and Petroleum Island, so as to have the river flow freely in the channel connecting the bay and river, thus completing the contour of a perfect island. A broad driveway will be run the entire length of the island, other roads and streets will be laid out and trees and shrubbery will be planted.

Artistic bridges will connect the island with the main tract and skill and taste generally will be exercised to make the place an interesting and attractive one.

ALONG THE BEACH.

The sewer system at Balboa has just been completed and acetylene gas light plant has been installed.

A chutes incline is being added to the attractions of the beautiful pavilion at Balboa.

The Balboa company is putting in a repair dock on the bay front for repairing and keeping in first-class condition the bay fleet of launches, sailing and rowboats.

New cottages in the course of construction at Balboa are: J. Wearrol of Riverside, Dr. George Clark of Los Angeles, G. Howson of Ontario and Attorney H. E. Head of Santa Ana.

The hotel being built will be completed by July 4, at which time the Knights of Pythias have secured the pavilion and will make things lively.

The fish report at Newport Beach for the week ending today is 15,000 pounds of the usual variety, and consists of baracuda, yellowtail and halibut.

The Newport Beach Company is now planning for the construction of a pleasure wharf extending into deep water, about one thousand feet from the frontage of their track. The possibility is also intimated of the establishment at this point of a landing by the Catalina Transportation Company, as the Bannings own considerable land in close proximity to Newport Beach.

J. W. Marsh has charge of the Newport Bay fleet, owned by W. P. Collins of Fairview. There are gasoline launches and sailing and row boats, so that if any one wishes to enjoy a still-water ride he may do so.

Building activity is progressing fast at Newport. Several new cottages are in course of construction and seventy-five cottages for rent are being remodeled.

W. D. Wilkinson, the polite and popular station agent of the Southern Pacific, reports the freight heavy here at present and he is kept busy most of the time since the new car service was put into effect.

OFFICE FILLING ENGAGES SONS.

NATIVE LADS ENJOY LIFE IN VENTURA TOWN.

Grand Ball Tendered to Them Last Night—Today They Will Finish Session and Wind Up With a Banquet This Evening—Governor Is Expected Today.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] VENTURA, June 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The selection of officers for the coming year is now the main topic among the delegates to the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons, now in session here.

The only contest in the parlor offices will be on the Grand Trusteeship, as the other officials, according to the unwritten Native Son law, will simply step up a peg when it comes to the election tomorrow, the last day of the session.

The present Grand Trustees are Congressman Knowland, who will in all likelihood be made Third Grand Vice-President; H. C. Lichtengerger, W. R. Porter, Daniel A. Ryab, Clarence F. Jarvis, Thomas Monahan and Fletcher A. Cutler. The new body of Grand Trustees will probably be made up in part from the following list: Abe Ruef, Webe Skelton of Sacramento, Haydon, Barber and C. F. Collyns.

The Sons are having a thoroughly good time. Two hundred and seventy-two have registered, out of a possible 350.

Tonight the Sons are tendered the grand ball of the session at Armory Hall and tomorrow they will finish their session, winding all up with a banquet in the evening. Gov. Pardee is on the programme for response to a toast on this occasion. He is looked for in the morning.

Tuesday evening's session of the Grand Parlor was devoted mainly to the discussion of amendments to the constitution of the order, among them an amendment dealing with the method of selecting officers.

WED AT FULLERTON.

FULLERTON, June 27.—Miss Stella Douglas Thurman of Buena Park and Leon T. Wilsey of Pomona were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Thurman, today. Rev. Mr. Haresnape of Buena Park officiated, in the presence of relatives of the families of the contracting parties. A wedding breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Wilsey departed for Pomona, their future home.

E. A. Curtis, general manager of the California Vegetable Union, was here from Los Angeles on business yesterday. He reports that in the season just closed the company shipped 417 carloads of cabbages from Southern California, having moved 160 cars from Fullerton and neighboring districts, and that every car went out on f.o.b. orders at prices that averaged up well. He says the union has also paid out over $600,000 to the celery growers of the Orange county peatlands in the past season.

The newly-organized Fullerton Savings Bank has elected the following officers: B. O. Balcom, president; William Besser, Santa Ana, vice-president, and E. E. Balcom, cashier and secretary.

SANTA BARBARA BRIEFS.

SANTA BARBARA, June 27.—Mrs. Malinda Conklin died yesterday at her home in Montecito, at the age of 80 years. Mrs. Conklin was a pioneer of the West, having crossed the plains before the '50's, and residing for several years in Nevada and Northern California before coming to Santa Barbara, of which latter place she has been a resident for nearly forty years. She had enjoyed good health until within a few days. Her death is attributed to heart failure. Her husband, Lombard Conklin, and four children survive.

E. A. Sleinegar, train master of the Southern Pacific at San Francisco, was in Santa Barbara yesterday.

Policeman Floyd Stewart yesterday afternoon located the boy, Henry Bigerstaff, wanted for raising an order from $50 to $70.

General Manager Calvin of the Southern Pacific was in the city last evening, en route to San Francisco.

PLANS FOR Y.M.C.A.

South Pasadena Woman's Auxiliary to Prepare Temporary Quarters. Organization Will Build.

SOUTH PASADENA, June 27.—Plans for the Y.M.C.A. begin to take definite shape and the outlook is encouraging. The Woman's Auxiliary to the Provisional Committee will meet in the west room of the Magonigal building Friday morning to attend to the furnishing of the temporary quarters.

The association plans to purchase a lot on Center street on which to erect a gymnasium in the near future. The building is to cost about $6000, of which $4000 has already been subscribed. In the meantime A. S. Galbraith, who has been appointed secretary, will carry on the work in temporary quarters provided in the Magonigal building. A reading-room will be established and religious services will be held every Sunday afternoon.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES.

A very successful performance of William Dean Howell's clever farce, "The Mouse Trap," was rendered last evening in a very creditable manner by the High School pupils in the assembly-room of the Center-street school. Miss Alice Craig, the teacher who trained the young people and directed the performance, was given an ovation as a mark of appreciation.

The members of the Young People's Bible class of the Methodist Church gave their teacher, Attorney J. E. Carson, a pleasant surprise at his home on Fremont avenue last night. The evening was spent with games and an informal programme. The merry party departed, wishing their teacher "Godspeed" upon the journey he is about to take.

The Ladies' Aid of Calvary Presbyterian Church met yesterday at the "Boys' and Girls' Home" to sew for the children who were recently sent from San Francisco. Fifteen dresses were completed, also a large amount of altering and mending

BARTENDER IS SLUGGED.

San Diego Man Attacked by Three Toughs and Is Badly Beaten.

SAN DIEGO, June 27.—Last night just as Rudolph Alber, bartender at the Golden Anchor saloon, at the foot of H street, on the water front, was closing the place, three men set upon him, with the evident intention of putting him out of commission.

Although Alber made a hard fight, the trio finally floored him, and left him for dead. Beer and whisky bottles were used for weapons, numbers of them being broken over Alber's head.

Alber was found by a porter at 5 o'clock this morning, more dead than alive. He was very weak from loss of blood. He said that one of the three assailants was Arthur Acton, whom he succeeded as bartender of the saloon, and who, he declared, has held a grudge against him for taking his job. At noon today the three men were reported as being on the stage, bound from Tia Juana for Ensenada. An effort to secure the arrest of the men by Mexican officials this morning failed.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Although buyers operated with more freedom yesterday, prices for various grades of fruits showed little improvement, supplies being fully up to trade wants. The market, however, closed with a firmer tone, and in some quarters higher prices were foreshadowed for the near future. The principal movement was centered in apricots, plums and berries, and a close clearance was effected within the quoted range of values. Cherries were neglected at unsustained prices. Plums were in oversupply, and under sluggish call were quoted weak. Peaches sold slowly at previous prices, and green apples and apricots were in high request at easy rates.

Currants were steady with offerings moderate. There was a good trade in cantaloupes and watermelons. Grapes and figs were firm at the prevailing prices. On an average of five carloads of fruit are arriving daily from the North.

There was a good demand for the better grades of berries. Raspberries were firmer at 6@7, loganberries 6@6, blackberries 3@3½.

Butter is firm at the quoted prices. Advices from the North state that butter is in good demand there, and is quoted at 19 cents, but cannot be bought for less than 20@21 cents.

Cheese is in active demand at unaltered quotations. Receipts of eastern cheese yesterday were inclined to be heavy.

Egg arrivals yesterday were augmented by the arrival of 250 cases of eggs from the East. The receipts for the day were 467 cases. Some of the egg jobbers reported the situation as being a little weak; other dealers stated that the market was steady. Fewer storage eggs have been used so far this week than were consumed last week. Local ranch offerings have been more plentiful and are in keener request by the retail trade. The Northern Coast eggs that are coming in are of good quality, but those from the valley are in bad condition when they get here and are hard to sell.

Onions are about steady. Beans are featureless. One carload of new potatoes arrived from the North yesterday. Strictly fancy potatoes are very scarce.

Vegetables were in moderate receipts and few changes in prices were noted. Cucumbers were weak at 25@30 per big box. Fish were plentiful.

The receipts of produce as reported for yesterday's exchange was as follows: Eggs, 467 cases; butter, 3,615 lbs.; cheese, local, 4,675 lbs.; potatoes, 950 sacks; onions, 12 sacks; beans, 23 sacks; sweet potatoes, none.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

STOCKS, BONDS AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, June 27.—There were no special new developments in conditions today to account for the rather violent break in prices. The influences which are responsible for the unloading of stocks have been gathering force for some time past. Today's break was due as much as anything to the discouragement over the failure of the market to respond to the nature of the many favorable developments. This had the effect of fixing opinion that all favorable opportunities were being taken advantage of to sell stocks. This resulted in reassuring the uncovered bear interest which had begun to manifest some misgivings over its position owing to the extent to which the decline has already extended, and the proportions to which the short interest is reputed to have grown. With the demand from the bears to cover, shorts reduced, there was no effective buying from any quarter to absorb the heavy liquidation which broke upon the market today again. Some persistent efforts were made during the morning to support prices to drive the shorts to cover. This had the effect for a while of intimidating the bears and on any considerable decline they showed a disposition to take their profits and to buy. With the progress of the day the pressure of long stock on any advantageous opportunity became clearly manifest, and the efforts at support were almost wholly abandoned. An example of the action of the market in face of good news was furnished in the case of Anaconda, which broke violently on resulting on yesterday's dividend before the general market began to weaken. Its depression was communicated to Amalgamated Copper. The early example of the weakness of Pennsylvania in face of the rise in Baltimore and Ohio dividend was also kept in mind and helped to convince sentiment that important liquidation was still in progress when any favorable opportunity offered. The money market today offered no evidence of any urgent demand for funds on call, although the tone was somewhat firmer. A large reduction of commitments on the part of the stock market pools seemed in progress. It took the form in some cases of severer scrutiny of collateral in loans. Many reports were current of discrimination against some of the industrial stocks as collateral on loans and while the banks were not inclined to admit these reports, the special weakness in the stock market of the stocks referred to in the reports indicated a condition of disfavor of these securities at the present level of values. Calling of loans proceeded to some extent in preparation for the July settlement. Fears that a flurry might occur next week in connection with these settlements had something to do with the pressure to sell. Sterling exchange continued to decline with increased prospects of gold being secured for import. It is now believed that the $10,000,000 of government deposits will be withdrawn from the national banks on July 10, in accordance with the announcement in order to facilitate the redeposit of government funds in San Francisco banks, which is intended. A meeting of St. Paul directors without taking any action on the expected plan for financing the Pacific Coast extension added to the speculative feeling of disappointment and increased the weakness of the stock market, which was acute in the last hour, with closing prices near the lowest. General net losses run from 1 to over 2 points, and the leading speculative favorite lost from 3 to 4 points and upwards on the day's dealings. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,925,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on call.

PICKETS AGAIN COERCE CREW.

OWNERS DECIDE TO ASK COURTS TO PREVENT INTERFERENCE.

Want Injunction Restraining the Sailors' Union from Boarding Vessel to Take Off Non-union Seamen. Steamers Santa Cruz and Coos Bay Clear Port With Freight.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Pickets from the Sailors' Union succeeded today in inducing four members of the crew of the Grace Dollar to leave that vessel.

To prevent further interference with the ships, the Executive Committee of the United Shipping and Transportation Association this afternoon practically decided to ask for an injunction restraining the Sailors' Union from boarding the Grace Dollar and taking off any more of the non-union crew.

This is to follow up the move made by the shipping men Tuesday, when the Sailors' Union was enjoined from taking men off the Sea Foam.

The freight steamer Santa Cruz got away today for Puget Sound, and the steamer Coos Bay, with a general cargo for San Pedro.

Secretary Andrew Furuseth, of the Sailors' Union, declared today that the steamers Coos Bay, State of California, Corona, Santa Barbara, Chehalis, Nome City, Francis H. Leggett, Prentiss, National City, Northland, Shasta, Santa Monica, Brunswick, Vanguard, Dispatch, Arctic, Aberdeen, South Bay, Centralia, Ravalli and Yosemite have surrendered their passenger licenses, one after another.

PURE FOOD BILL AGREED UPON.

CONFEREES ADJUST DIFFERENCES AND MAKE REPORT.

Foods, Drugs, Medicines and Liquors Will Hereafter Be Analyzed Under Direction of Government if Measure Gets Far Enough to Receive President's Signature.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The Pure Food Bill was agreed upon by the conferees for the Senate and House today and was reported to the Senate just before adjournment.

The bill as agreed upon makes it a misdemeanor for any person to manufacture, sell, or offer for sale any article of food, drugs, medicines, or liquors, which is adulterated or misbranded, or which contains any poisonous or deleterious substance.

It prescribes for each offense a fine not to exceed $500, one year's imprisonment of the court and for each subsequent offense a fine of not less than $1000 or one year's imprisonment.

"Section 2 prohibits the introduction into any State or Territory or any foreign country or the shipment to any foreign country of any article adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the act under a penalty not exceeding a fine of $200 for the first offense and $300 or one year's imprisonment or both for each subsequent offense.

SPECIMENS TO BE ANALYZED.

Section 4 provides for examinations of specimens of food and drugs in the Bureau of Chemistry in the Department of Agriculture. Owners are to be given hearings and if it is found any provisions of that act have been violated the Secretary of Agriculture is to certify the fact to the proper United States District Attorney for action and the adverse judgment of the court is to be published.

Section 6 defines the terms "drugs" and "foods," and section 7 defines what shall be "adulterated" in the case of drugs, confectionery and foods. The standards of drugs are those recognized in the United States pharmacopia or national formulary.

Confectionery is held adulterated if it contains any ingredient or coloring matter deleterious or detrimental to health.

Food products are declared adulterated if they are in whole or in part of a filthy, decomposed or putrid animal or vegetable substance, or of any portion of an animal unfit for food, whether manufactured or not, or if the product of a diseased animal that has died otherwise than by slaughter.

BRANDS MUST BE BONA FIDE.

The term "misbranded" applies to foods or drugs whose packing or label bears and statement, design, device false or misleading, or if falsely branded, as to place where manufactured or produced. Any article, however, which does not contain any added poisonous or deleterious ingredients shall not be deemed adulterated and misbranded when known under its distinctive name or if compounds, imitations or blends are plainly indicated.

Dealers are protected against prosecution if they hold the guaranty of the concern from whom they purchased the articles.

The bill makes provision for court procedure and for confiscation of articles violative of the act and samples of food or drugs imported are to be furnished the Chemistry Bureau by the Treasury Department, articles decided against to be imported within three months or destroyed.

Pending decisions imports may be delivered under a penal bond for the amount of the full invoice value. The act is to take effect January next.

RATE BILL BLOCKED.

CONFEREES CANNOT AGREE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The conference on the Railroad Rate Bill tonight resulted in no agreement on that measure. The decision made it clear that the pass provision which is to be perfected for the action of the committee tomorrow morning will follow closely the lines of the original Senate amendment on that subject.

It will name certain classes of persons who may receive passes and exclude all others.

There is also the prediction that the pipe-line amendment will be reported exactly as it was in the last conference report; that is, the phrase "common carriers" will give place to the word "railroads."

The effect of this will be to permit pipe lines to transport the product owned by the owners of the pipe lines.

Hamburger's

MANAGERIAL COMMENT

Observe directly beneath the Hamburger signature cut these words: "Safest Place to Trade." Every woman, yes, and man, too, in Los Angeles ought to know that these words convey a simple statement of fact; ought to know the real significance of that broad statement. Hamburgers guarantee their merchandise and handle only trustworthy lines. Money is refunded at Hamburgers just as quickly, just as pleasantly as it is accepted. Other stores CLAIM to do this, but do they do it? Do they make it EASY for you? Or do they refund your money after a cross-questioning that would do credit to a prosecuting attorney? And in order to make it easy and PLEASANT for you, we have "exchange desks" conveniently located on each of our five floors. Go to any of these, deposit your goods and sales check and a cash slip is given you—no more fuss than a bank makes in paying a check. Hamburger patrons KNOW that Hamburgers is the "Safest Place to Trade." Also that—"What Others Advertise We Sell for Less."
